RULES FOR PREVENTION OF COLLISION IN THE CANAL

1. (1) These rules may be called the Damodar Navigation Canal (Prevention of Collision) Rules.

(2) They shall be complied with by all vessels while in the canal and the rules concerning lights shall be complied with in all weathers from sunset to sunrise, and during such times no other lights shall be exhibited, except such lights as cannot be mistaken for the prescribed lights or impair their visibility or distinctive character, or interfere with the keeping of proper look-out.

2. In these rules, unless the context otherwise requires—

(i) "power-driven vessel" means any vessel propelled by machinery;

(ii) every power-driven vessel which is under sail and not under power shall be considered as a sailing vessel, and every vessel under power, whether under sail or not, shall be considered a power-driven vessel;

(iii) "prolonged blast" means a blast of from four to six seconds' duration;

(iv) "short blast" means a blast of about one second's duration;

(v) "tons" means gross tons;

(vi) a vessel is "under way" when she is not at anchor, or made fast to the shore or aground;

(vii) "vessel" includes every description of water craft other than a sea-plane on the water, used or capable of being used as a means of transportation on water;

(viii) the length and breadth of a vessel shall be deemed to be the length and breadth appearing in her certificate of registry;

(ix) "visible", when applied to lights, means visible on a dark night with a clear atmosphere;

(x) "whistle" means whistle or siren.

3. (1) A power-driven vessel when under way, shall carry—

(i) on or in front of the foremast, or if a vessel without a foremast, then, in the forepart of the vessel, a bright white light so constructed as to show an unbroken light over an arc of the horizon of 20 points of the compass (225 degrees), so fixed as to show the light 10 points (112½ degrees) on each side of the vessel, that is, from right ahead to 2 points (22½ degrees) abaft the beam on either side and of such a character as to be visible at a distance of at least 3 miles;

(ii) on the starboard side, a green light so constructed as to show an unbroken light over an arc of the horizon of 10 points of the compass (112½ degrees) so fixed as to show the light from right ahead to 2 points (22½ degrees) abaft the beam on the starboard side, and of such a character as to be visible at a distance of at least 3 miles;

(iii) on the port side a red light so constructed as to show an unbroken light over an arc of the horizon of 10 points of the compass (112½ degrees), so fixed as to show the light from right ahead to 2 points (22½ degrees) abaft the beam on the port side and of such a character as to be visible at a distance of at least 2 miles.

(2) The said green and red side lights shall be fitted with inboard screens projecting at least 3 feet forward from the light, so as to prevent these lights from being seen across the bow.

4. (1) A power-driven vessel when towing or pushing another vessel shall in addition to her side lights, carry two bright white lights in a vertical line one over the other not less than 3 feet apart, and when towing more than one vessel shall carry an additional bright white light 3 feet above or below such lights, if the length of the tow measuring from the stern of the towing vessel to the stern of the last vessel towed, exceeds 300 ft. Each of these lights shall be of the same construction and character and one of them shall be carried on the same position as the white light mentioned in rule 3(1)(i), except the additional light, which shall be carried at a height of not less than 8 feet above the hull. In a vessel with a singlemast, such lights may be carried on the mast.

(2) The towing vessel shall also show either the stern light which shall be visible as specified in rule 2(vi) or in lieu of that light a small white light abaft the funnel or after-mast for the tow to steer by, but such light shall not be visible forward of the beam.

5. (1) A vessel which is not under command shall carry, where they can best be seen, and if a power-driven vessel, in lieu of the light required by rule 3(1) two red lights in a vertical line one over the other not less than 3 feet apart and of such a character as to be visible all round the horizon at a distance of at least 2 miles. By day, she shall carry in a vertical line one over the other not less than 3 feet apart, where they can best be seen two black balls or shapes each not less than 1 foot in diameter.

(2) The vessel referred to in this rule, when not making way through the water, shall not carry the coloured side lights, but when making way they shall carry them.

(3) The lights and shapes required to be shown by this rule are to be taken by other vessels and seaplanes as signals that the vessel showing them is not under command and cannot therefore get out of the way.

(4) These signals are not signals of vessels in distress and requiring assistance. Such signals are contained in rule 22.

6. (1) A sailing vessel underway a cargo boat propelled by oars or other manual means underway and any vessel being towed shall carry the same lights as are prescribed by rule 3 for a power-driven vessel underway, with the exception of the white light specified therein, which they shall never carry. They shall also carry stern lights which shall be visible as specified in rule 4(2) provided that vessels towed, except the last vessel of a tow, may carry, in lieu of such stern light, a small white light as specified in the same rule.

(2) A vessel being pushed ahead shall carry, at the forward end, on the starboard side a green light and on the portside a red light, which shall have the same characteristics as the lights described in rule 3(1) and shall be screened as provided in rule 3(2) provided that any number of vessels pushed ahead in a group shall be lighted as one vessel.

(3) Small rowing boats, whether under oars or sail, shall only be required to have ready at hand an electric torch or a lighted lantern showing a white light, which shall be exhibited in sufficient time to prevent collision.

(4) The vessel and boats referred to in this rule shall not be required to carry the lights or shapes prescribed in rule 4(1).

7. (1) A vessel when under way shall carry at her stern a white light, so constructed that it shall show an unbroken light over an arc of the horizon of 12 points of the compass (135 degrees), so fixed as to show the light 6 points (67½ degrees) from the right aft on each side of the vessel, and of such a character as to be visible at a distance of at least 1 mile. Such light shall be carried as nearly as practicable on the same level as the side lights.

(2) Nothing in this rule shall apply to rowing boats.

8. (1) A vessel when at anchor, shall carry in the forepart of the vessel, where it can best be seen, a white light in a lantern so constructed as to show a clear, uniform and unbroken light visible all round the horizon at a distance of at least 1 mile.

(2) Between sunrise and sunset every vessel when at anchor shall carry in the forepart of the vessel, where it can best be seen one black ball not less than 1 foot in diameter.

(3) A vessel aground shall carry by night the light prescribed in sub-rule (1) and the two red lights prescribed in rule 4(1). By day she shall carry, where they can best be seen, three black balls, each not less than 1 foot in diameter, placed in a vertical line one over the other not less than 3 feet apart.

(4) Nothing in such rule (3) shall apply to rowing boats.

9. In fog, mist, falling snow, heavy rain storms or any other conditions similarly restricting visibility whether by day or night the signals prescribed in these rules shall be used as follows:—

(a) A power-driven vessel making way through the water shall sound at intervals of not more than 1 minute a prolonged blast.

(b) A power-driven vessel under way, but stopped and making no way through the water, shall sound at intervals of not more than 1 minute two prolonged blasts with an interval of about 1 second between them.

(c) A vessel when at anchor shall at intervals of not more than one minute ring the bell rapidly for about 5 seconds.

(d) A vessel when towing and a vessel under way which is unable to get out of the way of an approaching vessel through being not under command or unable to manoeuvre as required by these rules shall, instead of the signals prescribed in clauses (a) and (b) sound, at intervals of not more than 1 minute, three blasts in succession, namely one prolonged blast followed by the two short blasts.

(e) A vessel aground shall give the signal prescribed in clause (c) and shall in addition, give three separate and distinct strokes on the bell immediately before and after each such signal.

(f) All other vessel such as rowing boats shall not be obliged to give abovementioned signals, but it they do not, they shall make some other effcient sound signal at intervals of not more than 1 minute.

10. (1) Every vessel shall in fog, mist, heavy rain-storms or any other condition similarly restricting visibility, go at a moderate speed, having careful regard to the existing circumstances and conditions.

(2) A power-driven vessel hearing, apparently forward of her beam—the fog signal of a vessel the position of which is not ascertained shall so far as the circumstances of the case admit, stop her engines, and then nevigate with caution until danger of collision is over.

11. When two power-driven vessels are meeting end on, or nearly end on so as to involve risk of collision, each shall alter her course to starboard, so that each may pass on the port side of the other. This rule shall apply only to cases where vessels are meeting end on, or nearly end on, in such a manner as to involve, risk of collision, and does not apply to two vessels which must, if both keep on their respective course, pass clear of each other. The only cases to which it shall apply are when each of two vessels is end or nearly end on, to the other, in other words, to cases in which, by day, each vessel sees the masts of the other in a line, or nearly in a line, with her own, and by night, to cases in which each vessel is in such a position as to see both the sidelights of the other. It shall not apply, by day, to cases in which a vessel sees another ahead crossing her own course or by night, to cases where the red light of one vessel is opposed to the red light of the other or where the green light of one vessel is opposed to the green light of the other or where a red light without a green light or a green light without red light is seen ahead or where both green and red lights are seen anywhere but ahead.

12. When two power-driven vessels are crossing, so as to involve risk of collision, the vessel which has the other on her own starboard sire shall keep out of the way of the other.

13. When a power-driven vessel and any other vessel are proceeding in such directions as to involve risk of collision, except as provided in rule 16, the power-driven vessel shall keep out of the way of the other vessel.

14. Where by any of these rules one of two vessels is to keep out of the way, the other shall keep her course and speed. When, from any cause, the latter vessel finds herself so close that collision cannot be avoided by the action of the giving way vessel along, she also shall take such action as will best aid to avert collision.

15. Every vessel which is directed by these rules to keep out of the way of another vessel shall, if the circumstances of the case admit, avoid crossing ahead of the other.

16. Every power-driven vessel which is directed by these rules to keep out of the way of another vessel shall, on apporaching her, if necessary, slacken her speed or stop or reverse.

17. (1) Notwithstanding anything contains in these rules, every vessel overtaking any other shall keep out of the way of the overtaken vessel.

(2) Every vessel coming up with another vessel from any direction more than 2 points (22½ degrees) abaft her beam i.e. in such position, with reference to the vessel which she is overtaking, that at night she would be unable to see either of that vessel's sidelights, shall be deemed to be an overtaking vessel, and no subsequent alternation of the bearing between the two vessels within the meaning of these rules shall relieve her of the duty of keeping clear of the overtaken vessel until she is finally past and clear.

(3) If the overtaking vessel cannot determine with certainty whether she is forward of or abaft this direction from the other vessel she shall assume that she is an overtaking vessel and keep out of the way.

18. (1) In a narrow channel every power-driven vessel when proceeding along the course of the channel shall, when it is safe and practicable, keep to that side of the fairway or mid-channel which lies on the starboard side of such vessel.

(2) Whenever a power-driven vessel is nearing a bend in a channel where a power-driven vessel apporaching from the other direction cannot be seen, such vessel, when she shall have arrived within one half mile of the bend, shall give a signal by one prolonged blast of her whistle, which signal shall be answered by a similar blast given by any approaching power-driven vessel that may be within hearing around the bend. Regardless of whether an apporaching vessel on the further side of the bend is heard, such bend shall be rounded with alertness and caution.

19. In complying with and construing these rules, due regard shall be had to all dangers of navigation and collision and to any special circumstances, including the limitations of the craft involved, which may render a departure from these rules necessary in order to avoid immediate danger.

20. (1) When vessels are in sight of one another, a power-driven vessel underway, in taking any course authorised or required by these rules, shall indicate that course by the following signals on her whistle, namely:—

Two short blasst to mean "I am altering my course to Port".
Three short blasts to mean "My engines are going astern".

The giving of such a signal shall not relieve a vessel of her obligations under rules 19 and 21 or any other rule or of her duty to indicate any action taken under these rules by giving the appropriate soupd signals laid down in this rule.

21. Nothing in these rules shall exonerate any vessel, or the owner, master, or crew thereof, from the consequence of any neglect to carry lights or signals, or of any neglect to keep a proper lock-out, or of the neglect of any precaution which may be required by the ordinary practice of seaman, or by the special circumstances of the cause.

2. When a vessel is in distress and requires assistance from other vessel or from the shore, the following shall be the signals to be used or displayed by her, either together or separately, namely:—

(b) A signal consisting of a square flag having above or below it a ball or anything resembling ball. The use of any of the above signals, except for the purpose of indicating that a vessel is in distress, and the use of any signals which may be confused with any of the above signals, is prohibited.

23. All orders to helmsman shall be given in the following sense right rudder or starboard to mean "put the vessel's rudder to starboard", left rudder or port to mean "put the vessel's rudder to port".

24. Traffic proceeding upwards towards Durgapur shall have priority over the downward traffic.

25. The lights and shapes required to be carried or shown under these rules must be approved by the Mercantile Marine Department.

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Rajshri Pictures (P) Ltd., 3 Sooterkin Street, Calcutta-13 and their workmen represented by Bengal Motion Picture Employees' Union, 126-A Dharamtalla Street, Calcutta-13. (Case No. VIII-210-65.)

BEFORE THE THIRD INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present :

Shri D. K. DATTA GUPTA, Judge,
Third Industrial Tribunal.

For the Union : Shri S. R. Ghose, Advocate.

For the Company : Shri C. L. Ganguli, Labour Adviser of the Company.

AWARD

By order No. 3371-I.R./IR/11L-176/65, dated the 4th August 1965, the Government of West Bengal, in the Labour Department, referred under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Rajshri Pictures (P) Ltd., 3 Sooterkin Street, Calcutta-13, and their workmen represented by Bengal Motion Picture Employees' Union, 126-A Dharamtalla Street, Calcutta-13, regarding the matters specified in the schedule, to the Third Industrial Tribunal, constituted under section 7A of the Industrial Disputes Act, by notification No. 808-I.R./IR/3A-2/57, dated the 11th March 1957, for adjudication.

Issues

Whether the retrenchment of (1) Shri H. D. Burman, (2) Shri A. K. Dey, (3) Shri R. Sahany, (4) Shri J. Jha, (5) Shri P. N. Sarma and (6) Shri Janak Ram is justified ? What relief, if any, are they entitled to ?

Union's case in short was that the concerned six workmen, paid representatives of Messrs. Rajshri Pictures (P) Ltd., 3 Sooterkin Street, Calcutta-13, the Calcutta Branch of one of the biggest All India Film Distributor concerns in the country, were retrenched from services by the company with effect from 9th September 1964 as the workmen were since the beginning of 1964 agitating for increasing their D. A. as also for full implementation of the wages as notified in the Minimum Wages Notification, 1961. The union also stated that in 1961 the company had agreed to pay its workers minimum wages according to the statutory minimum wages scale after some of its workers had gone on hunger-strike for introduction of the said scale, but subsequently had, to save their increase expenses and also to foil the whole purpose of the minimum wages notification, retrenched, these six paid representatives and appointed in their places unpaid representatives. Union contends that the retrenchment of all thes six workers was unjust, and unwarranted, and prays for their reinstatement with full back wages and other allowances.

In its written statement filed, the company denied union's allegations that it had, without any just and sufficient cause, retrenched these six workers and submitted that for economising the business of the company these workers had been retrenched from services. The company also stated that at the time of the retrenchment all these workers had been offered retrenchment compensation according to section 25F of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947. As the same offer was refused, the compensation money was remitted to each and every of these workers by Money Order.

The issue for adjudication has already been set forth in this award.

Findings

It is not disputed that the six concerned workers were all paid representatives of the company and have been retrenched from service with effect from 9th September 1964. Further undisputed fact is that before the retrenchment company had both paid and unpaid representatives and that since the retrenchment the company is maintaining only unpaid representatives but no paid representatives. The union contended that the retrenchment of these six workers was illegal and unjustified and that these workers had been victimised because since the beginning of 1964 the workers were pressing for increase in D.A. and other allowances. To prove these allegations against the company, the union examined all the six concerned workers. But it is evident from the evidence of these workers that in 1961 the workers and the company had entered into an agreement regarding the wages and other allowances of the workers and that from the date of the agreement which is Ext. 1 in the case, till the retrenchment, the workers including the paid representatives were paid wages and other allowances as mentioned in the exhibit. It is also apparent from the evidence of these paid representatives that throughout their long service under the company, they had never been victimised or harassed in any way by the company. As these workers have deposed, it can easily be said that none of them had ever any personal grievance against the company. In this view of the matter union's allegations that the company had retrenched these paid representatives as in the beginning of 1964, the workers had started as agitation for increasing the D.A., wages and other allowances and also to foil the effect of their agreement (Ext. 1) cannot be upheld. It is not proved that any of these workers holds any important post in the union, why then would they be particularly picked up by the company for the agitation in 1964 for increase in D.A., etc., even assuming that there was such an agitation, when it is proved by the evidence on record that the company had no special reason to vitimise any of them ? By retrenching these paid representatives the company has no doubt saved some expenses but the saving was too small to justify the argument that the company had retrenched them to foil the implementation of the statutory minimum wages by the agreement marked Ext. 1 in the case. The reasons, the union has suggested in support of its contention that the retrenchment of the six workers is an instance of unfair labour practice or victimisation of the workers, cannot inall these facts and circumstances be accepted and this Tribunal holds that these paid representatives had been retrenched because of the reason given by D.W.2 Shri K. C. Sethi, General Manager of the company since 1955, in his evidence before this Tribunal. In course of his evidence Shri Sethi stated that during the last part of August 1964 the Directors of the company had come down to Calcutta from Bombay, to have discussions regarding the company and that in their discussions, which was also attended by him, it had been decided to abolish the post of the paid representatives. He also stated that on that occasion the Directors had stayed here for 5 or 7 days and that the six paid representatives had been retrenched under the direction of the Directors. There is no reason to disbelieve this evidence of D.W.2, and his evidence coupled with the admitted fact that since the retrenchment the company had no paid representative but was carrying on with only unpaid representatives conclusively indicates that for rationalising reorganising the business the company had retrenched these concerned workers In the Supreme Court case D. Macropolo and Co,. Private Ltd., vs. Their Employees Union and others reported in 1958 (II) L.L.J. 492 it was held, "if the reorganisation scheme which was in question in that case, had been adopted by the company for reasons of economy and convenience, the discharge and retrenchment of some of the workmen would have been considered as an inevitable, though very unfortunate consequence of the reorganisation scheme which the employer, acting bona fide, was entitled to aodpt." This principle was reiterated in a later case of the Calcutta High Court viz., Royal Calcutta Golf Club vs. Third Industrial Tribunal and others, reported in 1960(I) L.L.J. 464. In this case the club had terminated the services of some workmen in the course of reorganising its business; the High Court, held on the authority of the above Supreme Court case that it has been authoritatively laid down that all employees have a right to reorganise their business, and if such a reorganisation becomes necessary for reasons of economy or convenience, then the simple fact that it led to discharge of some of the employees will not matter, and no inference can be drawn tlat such discharge was made mala fide. It was also heh in this Calcutta case that a person has a right toldeorg_nise his business in any fashion he likes, for the rrpose of economy or convenience, and nobody is entitlputo tell him how he should conduct h.s business. The oned imitation is that he should do it bona fide and not for the purpose of victimising his employees and in order to get rid of their services. Provided, however, that he acts within these limits, it is not for the Court or for the Tribunal to tell h.m how he should conduct his business. It has already been indicated above that the very evidence of the concerned workers itself indicates that the company had no reason to retrench their services for the purpose of victimisation and that for the reorganisation of the business the Directors had directed the retrenchment. This retrenchment was in the opinion of this Tribunal justified by the principles as laid down in the Supreme Court case and the Calcutta case just referred to.

Referring to the case of Messrs. North Brook Jute Co., Ltd., reported in 1960(I) F. L. R. at page 183 it was argued on behalf of the union that as the reorganisation of the company by way of retrenching the paid representatives had the effect of increasing the workload of the other workers of the company the reorganisation was bad and illegal. This argument of the learned Advocate of the company cannot be accepted. In this case it was held "that even if a scheme of rationalisation was introduced with the object to decrease the cost of production, the scheme was certainly an alteration of conditions of service to the prejudice of the workmen is the effect of the rationalisation was (1) some workers would become surplus and would face discharge and (2) other workers would have to carry increased workload." How this principle of law as laid down in this case can help. The a union's contention against the retrenchment, this Tribunal cannot appreciate. It is nobody's case that the works "done by" the paid representatives up to their retrenchment have since their retrenchment been distributed among the other workers. Rather it is admitted that the works done till the retrnchment by the paid and unpaid representatives are since retrenchment being done alone by the unpaid representatives whose number vary according to requirements as has been stated by D.W.2 in his evidence before the Tribunal. The retrenchment has not thus in any way increased the workload of the permanent staff of the company. Accordingly, the principle of law as laid down in the F.L.R. Case above referred to, cannot be applied to this case. According to section 2(oo) of the Industrial Disputes Act, "retrenchment" means the termination by the employer of the service of a workman for any reason whatsoever, otherwise than as a punishment inflicted by way of disciplinary action. In the instant case it has been proved by the evidence on record that the services of the workers have been terminated for reorganisation of the company and not as a punishment by way of disciplinary action. The retrenchment was not, in these circumstances, neither unjustified nor illegal. But this retrenchment, valid retrenchment in the eye of law, will, however, have no affect and the workers must be deemed to be still in service if the company has not complied with the requirements of section 25F of the Act. The section 25F lays down, "no workman employed in any industry who has been in continuous service for not less than one year under an employer shall be retrenched by that employer until—

(a) the workman has been given one month's notice in writing indicating the reasons for retrenchment and the period of notice has expired, or the workman has been paid in lieu of such notice, wages for the period of the notice :

Provided that no such notice shall be necessary, if the retrenchment is under an agreement which specifies a date for the termination of service;

(b) the workman has been paid, at the time of retrenchment, compensation which shall be equivalent to fifteen days' average pay for every completed year of service or any part thereof in excess of six months; and

(c) notice in the prescribed manner is served on the appropriate Government."

In the written statement filed on behalf of the union, non-compliance with the section by the company, has not been alleged; the company, on the other hand, has stated that it has offered the workers the retrenchment compensation as per this section but as the offer was not accepted, the compensation was remitted by Money Order to each and every of the workers. In support of this case company filed the retrenchment notices which were given to the workers and also certain Money Order acknowledgement receipts. The notices are Exts. C, C/1, C/2, C/3, C/4 and C/5. All these notices were dated 9th September 1964 and by these notices the services of the six workers were terminated with immediate effect. All the concerned workers were examined as union's witnesses in this case and each of them has in their evidence before this Tribunal admitted having received the notice of retrenchment. As these notices were drafted and address of the workers given therein, it can be said that they were served on the workes in the company's premises. By these notices the workers were requested to collect their retrenchment compensation given in the notices, from the Cashier of the office of the company, immediately on receipt of the notices. The workers have also in their evidence before this Tribunal admitted that by the retrenchment notice served on them they were asked to collect their retrenchment compensation from the company and stated also that none of them had collected the same. These notices read with the workers' evidence before this Tribunal conclusively prove that at the time of the retrenchment, retrenchment compensation as laid down in section 25F has been offered to each and every of the workers concerned but the offer was refused by them. In this context it may be said that the workers have not challenged the calculation of retrenchment compensation as given in the notices. There is not, however, sufficient proof of the company's contention that subsequent to the notices the retrenchment compensation has been remitted to the workers concerned by the Postal Money Orders marked Exts. D series in the case. This Ext. D series contained no doubt the seal of the Amrita Bazar Patrika Post Office but they are not, in the opinion of the Tribunal, sufficient to prove the tender of any of th

Money Orders to any of the concerned workers, or his refusal thereof. The Postal receipts of these Money Orders were also not filed. In this view of the matter the company's contention that the retrenchment compensation has been remitted to each and every of the workers by the Postal Money Order cannot be upheld. But even if remittance of the compensation cannot be accepted still in the opinion of the Tribunal the offer of retrenchment compensation by the retrenchment notices was sufficient compliance with section 25F relating to the payment of the retrenchment compensation at the time of retrenchment. Relying on the case of National Iron & Steel Co., Ltd. vs. the Third Industrial Tribunal, West Bengal, reported in 1964 (8) F.L.R. page 24, union's Advocate contended that as the retrenchment compensation was not paid before the retrenchment, the retrenchment was bad in law. This case in the opinion of the Tribunal has no application to the instant case. In the National Iron & Steel Company's case, retrenchment was effected by notice to the workman concerned, sent by post on September 1, 1962 and the offer to the workman to collect one month's wages in lieu of notice and the retrenchment compensation was embodied in this notice itself. As per this notice the retrenchment was to be effective from 1st September 1963. As there was no chance of the retrenchment notices reaching the workers on that very day, it was held that the offer of retrenchment compensation as given in this notice was bad and consequently the order of retrenchment was incompetent. Stated in other words, the offer was bad and the retrenchment incompetent as the notice called upon the retrenched workmen to receive payment following their retrenchment. As in the instant case the workers had received the offer in the retrenchment notices served on them on the 9th September 1964, and they were by these notices asked immediately to collect the compensation from the cashier of this office, the National Iron & Steel Company's case has no application to this case and cannot prove that the offer was bad in law. The notices retrenched the workmen with immediate effect from 9th September 1964 and also asked them to collect that very day their retrenchment compensation as also wages up to that day. The offer though not accepted, was sufficient compliance with the provisions of section 25F regarding payment of retrenchment compensation at the time of retrenchment. The union's contention that the retrenchment was bad in as much as no retrenchment compensation was paid at the time of the retrenchment cannot, therefore, be accepted.

It was next contended on behalf of the union that as no notice under section 9A was given to the concerned workers at the time of the retrenchment, the retrenchment was bad. This argument needs no comment. Suffice it to say, that section 9A has no application to the instant case.

In view of the foregoing discussions and findings it must be held that the union's contention that the company had no justification to retrench the six concerned workers and that even if it had any reason to retrench them, the retrenchment was bad in asmuch as it has not complied with the provisions of section 25F, cannot be upheld and it must be held that the company was perfectly justified to retrench them. The union's prayer for declaration that the retrenchment of the six workers were unjustified and illgal and for their reinstatement in services with back wages and other allowances is accordingly dismissed.

This is my award.

AWARD

By order No. 445-I.R./IR/7L-26/63, dated the 5th February 1964, the Government of West Bengal, in the Labour Department, referred under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Clive Mills Co. Ltd., 43/1 Garden Reach, Calcutta-24, and their workmen represented by National Union of Jute Workers, Shramik Bhawan, 177/B Acharya Jagadish Bose Road, Calcutta-14, regarding the matters specified in the schedule, to the Third Industrial Tribunal, constituted under section 7A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, by notification No. 808-I.R./IR/3A-2/57, dated the 11th March 1957, for adjudication.

Issue

Whether the suspension for an indefinite period since 10th August 1956 of the following workmen is bona fide and justified? What relief, if any, are they entitled to?

(i) Shri Ram Chandra Chowdhury.
(ii) Shri Shib Chandra Sarkar.
(iii) Shri Sudhakar Paul.
(iv) Late Kalachand Chatterjee.
(v) Late Azizul Ehan.

In pursuance of notice issued from this Tribunal, the union as also the company appeared and filed written statements.

The union's case in brief was that over an incident on 6th July 1956 a lock-out was declared on 7th July 1956 and the workers were locked out with effect from that date excepting 10 workers including the five named in the order of reference who were required to work for some days. By circular, dated 8th August 1956, the company precluded the 10 workmen from resuming work when it re-started its work on 15th October 1956. By Government Order No. 4452-Dis/D/71-40(A)/56, dated the 5th October 1956, an industrial dispute was referred to this Tribunal for adjudication of the issue: Whether the management was justified to refuse work to the 10 workers referred to above? On 6th October 1956 the company issued charge-sheet upon the five workers named in the issue under reference, and also suspended them from service. No enquiry into the charge-sheet has yet been made by the company and the workers have been kept under suspension for an indefinite period. Union submits that this suspension for an indefinite period covering over 7 years is an instance of unfair labour practice and victimisation and amounts to substantive punishment to the employees in violation of the principles of natural justice and prays for declaration that the suspension is illegal, wrongful and unjustified, and direction on the company to vacate the order of suspension as also to pay the workers concerned all wages and allowances from the date of the suspension."

The company filed its written statement on 4th May 1964 and therein stated that as the concerned workers are not under suspension but have all been dismissed from service after a proper domestic enquiry on charges of misconduct, they are not entitled to any relief whatsoever in this case.

During the pendency of the case the company went under liquidation and an Administrator was appointed by the Hon'ble High Court of Calcutta. On union's petition, dated 7th July 1964, under section 18(3)(b) of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, the said Administrator was made a party in this proceeding and he appeared before the Tribunal and adopted the written statement already filed by the company. (Vide Administrator's petition; dated 15th September 1964). While the company was in the hands of the Administrator, Official Liquidator for the company was appointed by the Hon'ble High Court and the said Official Liquidator was also added as a party in this proceeding on union's petition under section 18(3)(b) of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947. Leave to implead the Official Liquidator as a party to this proceeding was obtained by the union from Hon'ble Mr. Justice S. P. Mitra before this petition under section 18(3) (b)of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947. The Official Liquidator was duly summoned and the case was fixed for hearing on 27th May 1966 with intimation to the Liquidator that the case would be heard ex parte if he does not appear on that dated On 27th May 1966 the union was duly represented by its Advocate but neither the Official Liquidator nor anybody on his behalf was present. As no intimation of the service of Order No. 34, dated 25th April 1966, fixing 27th May 1966 as the date of hearing of the case was received on 27th May 1966, the case was adjourned to 17th June 1966 for hearing. This order was duly communicated to the Liquidator and he personally saw this Tribunal on 15th June 1966. He was directed to appear positively on 17th June 1966 and was told that the case would be heard ex parte on that date if he does not appear. On that date too the Official Liquidator did not appear nor nobody on his behalf. Union, however, was ready with its Advocate and witnesses. Accordingly the case was taken up for ex parte hearing on that date. In the ex parte hearing the union examined one of the workers Shri Ramchandra Chowdhury to substantiate its allegations against the company as made in the written statement filed. The union also produced the Paper Book of the Appeal arising from the original order passed by Sinha, J., on a petition under Article 226 of the Constitution of India filed by the union against the award passed by the Third Industrial Tribunal in the industrial dispute between Messrs. Clive Mills Co. Ltd. and their workmen represented by National Union of Jute Workers, regarding the refusal of the management to allow the 10 workers already referred to above in this award, to join their duties when the company had resumed normal functioning after the lock-out declared on 7th July 1956 and already mentioned above. It will appear from this Paper Book that over an incident on 6th July 1956 a lock-out for an indefinite period was declared but the lock-out was lifted and the Mills reopened on 3rd September 1956 with its full complement of workers excepting 10 including the five mentioned in the issue under reference. Over this refusal of the company to allow these 10 workers to resume their duties when the mills had reopened after the lock-out and the question whether the period of stoppage of work in the Mills from 7th July 1956 should be treated as lay off with compensation, an industrial dispute was raised by the union and the said dispute was referred for adjudication to this Tribunal by Government Order, dated 5th October 1956. In the meantime, however, a charge-sheet was drawn against the workers concerned. This charge-sheet was sent to the workers in Postal envelope and it appears from page 37 of the Paper Book that the envelope containing the charge-sheet were posted on 6th October 1956,i.e., on the day immediately following the Government order of reference of the industrial dispute. Reference to this charge-sheet is found in the award passed by Shri J. N. Maitra, Judge, Third Industrial Tribunal in that industrial dispute. In his award Shri Maitra held that the Management was not justified to refuse the five workers mentioned in the order of the present reference, to resume their duties when the Mills had reopened after lock-out and observed. "As to relief" it is agreed on all hands that the employment of these workers has not been terminated but still been subsisting. The fact of service of charge-sheet subsequently also shows continuance of such relation of employer and employee between the parties. In the circumstances, there can be no question of reinstatement. There canno teither be question of directing the company to admit them to work as subsequent to the date of reference they have been suspended from service by the charge-sheets pending enquiry. The order of suspension would be operative the moment the charge-sheets containing the said order of suspension were received by the employees concerned. So, the only relief which the workman can get his wages. Against the award as passed by Shri Maitra, the union moved an application under article 226 of the Constitution before Sinha, J., and submitted before him that the Tribunal should have proceeded to decide the validity of the charges and/or the dismissal of the employees as a result thereof. This submission was overruled and the application rejected by Sinha, J. by his order, dated 16th September 1958. Against this order of Sinha, J., an appeal was preferred by the union but the same was also dismissed. Thereafter the present order of reference was made. During the pendency of this reference two of the workers, viz., Kalachand Chatterji and Azizul Eshan died and the case was so far they were concerned was not pressed before this Tribunal by the Union's Advocate when the case was heard ex parte on 17th June 1966. Regarding the other three concerned workers—Ramchandra Chowdhury, Shibchandra Sarkar and Sudhakar Paul and, it appears from the evidence of Ramchandra Chowdhury before this Tribunal that up to the order of reference or even thereafter, no enquiry has been held by the company on the charge-sheet given to them. It is proved by the evidence of this Ramchandra Chowdhury before this Tribunal as also by materials on the Paper Book, that the company was under lock-out from 7th July 1956 and that during the lock-out period it had issued notice to the effect that Mills would reopen on 3rd September 1956, and that all the workers excluding 10 including the present five, have been allowed to join their duties when the Mills had reopened. This notice to reopen the Mills was given on 8th August 1956 and by that very notification the management had announced that these 10 workers would not be allowed to join when the Mills would reopen. The effect of the notification was the suspension of these workers with effect from 10th August 1956 and it is in evidence that this suspension was never lifted. During the suspension, the management gave the concerned workers charge-sheet and again suspended them from service. This double suspension of the workers, i.e., their fresh suspension during the period when already they were under suspension, cannot be justified, and notwithstanding the company's suspending these workers again from the date of the charge-sheet it must be said that they are under suspension since 10th August 1956. The concerned workers are thus under suspension for about over 10 years. This long suspension without any enquiry on the charge-sheet subsequently given to them by the company amounted to substantive punishment and cannot be justified under any circumstances whatsoever. In its written statement filed, the company has no doubt said that they had been subsequently dismissed a s a result of d mestic e quiry on the charge-she t i ssued to them. This case of the company has been stoutly denied by the union in its written statement as also by Ramchandra Chowdhury in his evidence before this Tribunal and the company also or for the matter of fact the Official Liquidator did not appear on the date the case was taken up for hearing, to lead evidence to prove dismissal of these employees after a domestic e nquiry on the c'harge-sheets. In this view of the matter union's assertion that no enquiry on the charge-sheets against these workers has as yet been made by the company must be upheld and it must be concluded that these workers have been kept under suspension since 10th August 1956 without any enquiry whatsoever. Suspension for such a long period without any enquiry certainly amounts to substantive punishment and as this, in the opinion of this Tribunal, violates the principles of natural justice and is also an instance of unfair labour practice a id victimisation, the management must be directed to withdraw its order of suspension of these workers and to allow them to resume their duties. In this context it may also be mentioned that no attempt to justify the 'Suspension' was also made by the company or by the Official Liquidator before this Tribunal.

In view of the aforesaid findings and discussions, an award in terms of the prayer as made in the union's written statement must be passed in this case. The suspension of the workers Ramchandra Chowdhury, Shib Chandra Sarkar and Sudhakar Paul is hereby declared and held illegal, wrongful and unjustified and the company Official Liquidator is directed to vacate their order of suspension and to allow them to resume their duties in the Mills. The company Official Liquidator also do pay to these workers all wages and allowances from the date of the wrongful and unjustified suspension till the date they are allowed to resume their duties.

This is my award which is to be implemented within a month from the date of its publication in the "Calcutta Gazette."

By Order No. 647-IR./I.R./11L-9/66, dated Calcutta, the 18th February 1966, Government of West Bengal, in the Labour Department, referred an industrial dispute between Messrs. Sankar Chira Mill of Alamganj, P. O. and district Burdwan and their workmen represented by Burdwan Chirakal Workers' Union of Tikarhat, Lakurdi, Burdwan, to this Tribunal for adjudication on the following issue—

Issue

Whether the termination of the services of Sm.Chapala Rani Das and Shri Swapan Kumar Das with effect from 26th August 1965 is justified ? What relief, if any, including relief for unpaid wages from 11th July 1965 are they entitled to?

After the service of the notices both the company and the union appeared and prayed for time to file written statement. After several adjournments both parties filed a joint petition of compromise incorporating the terms of settlement whic inter alia states that the union will not proceed with the matter as the dispute has been amicably settled between them. As per the terms the management agreed to pay a sum of Rs.300 to each of the two workmen whose cases were referred to his Tribunal in full and final settlement of their claims and actually paid the amount which was received by the Vice-President of the union. The receipted money was thereafter made over to Kiran Chandra Das who is described as the husband and father of Chapala Rani Das and Swapan Kumar Das, the two discharged workmen. Kiran Chandra Das also granted a receipt which has been made part of the petition of compromise. The terms of compromise appear to be fair and reasonaable and the Tribunal sees no reason to reject it. Let an award be made in terms of the petition of compromise which do form part of the award.

In the matter of an application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act filed by one Dokari Barmar (16/1/H/6) Muraripurkur Road, Calcutta-4), an employee of Messrs. AWARD

An industrial dispute between Messrs. Canteen Equipment Trading Company, shortened as company, and their workmen has been referred to this Tribunal for adjudication by Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 3886-I.R./IR/10L-161/44, dated 31st August 1964. One of the workman Shri Dokari Barman, stating that the company has dismissed him from service on 18th November 1965, filed this complaint under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act praying for an order that this dismissal has been unjust and for reinstatement with full back wages.

The company, on being served with a copy of the complaint, stated that the complaint is not entertainable because Shri Dokari Barman has not been dismissed but has only been suspended from 19th November 1965 on being charge-sheeted for a misconduct committed on 18th November 1965.

A complaint under section 33A can only be entertained if contravention of section 33 is proved. The workmen said he was dismissed orally on 18th November 1965 by the Manager. The company's Secretary said that Shri Dokari Barman worked on 18th November 1965 and was suspended on 19th November 1965 pending enquiry into charge-sheet of his misconduct. When the company states that the workman is still in service, but under suspension, it cannot be said that the workman has been dismissed. It appears from the letter, Ext. A that Shri Dokari Barman, as company's employee, went to work in company's customer's place and was reported by that customer to have misbehaved while working there. The Tribunal believes the evidence on company's side and holds that the workman has not been dismissed. There has been no contravention of section 33. A complaint under section 33A does not lie.

If it is thought that the charge has been wrongly brought, the obvious course open to the workman is to take the charge-sheet, to reply to that and to attend the enquiry into it, and if he also feels aggrieved by the order of suspension pending enquiry into the charge-sheet, to raise an industrial dispute for adjudication under section 10 challenging the suspension as unjustified. His taking recourse to section 33A has been wrong.

In the result, the Tribunal rejects the complaint under section 33A as not entertainable.

AWARD

These nine applications under section 33A, Industrial Disputes Act, by as many workmen of Messrs. The Calcutta Silk Manufacturing Co. Ltd., the O.P., have been heard together upon a preliminary objection against their maintainability raised by the company on the ground that upon the facts pleaded in the applications, no contravention of any provision of section 33 Industrial Disputes Act is disclosed and without such contravention no application under section 33A, Industrial Dispute Act, can lie. This preliminary hearing has been held with the consent of both parties.

For the purpose of this hearing, the parties have produced only some documents, which have been exhibited without any objection from either side. Also the relevent broad facts as pleaded in the applications and written statements have been admitted, subject to some challenge by the either side as to the real nature of some facts and the motives underlying some acts.

The broad facts which have been taken for granted for the purpose of the present hearing in the manner indicated above are briefly as follows.

All these workmen were charge-sheeted on 20th March 1962. The gist of the common charge against them was riotous, disorderly and violent conduct on the part of these workmen on 19th March 1962 with the intention of preventing some loyal workers from joining work in the factory at the time fixed by the company to which previously objection was taken by some workmen. It was alleged in the charge-sheet that these workmen being armed with weapons such as lathis, knives and bombs attacked the loyal workmen and committed rioting and caused injuries to some of them (vide charge-sheets Exts. 1 to 8). The charge-sheeted workmen submitted replies to the charge-sheets. Thereafter they were asked to attend enquiries on some particular dates. Some workmen attended their enquiries for some time but not till the end and some did not attend at all. In the result, the enquiries were concluded ex-parte. The enquiries were held by the same officer of the company and he submitted his reports finding each workman guilty of the charge against him and recommending the award of maximum permissible punishment against him but at the same time requesting that as he had come to know that a criminal case was pending against these workmen and the basis of the case was the incident of 19th March 1962, which formed the subject-matter of the charges against these workmen in the departmental enquiries, the Management should consider whether it would be advisable to await the decision of the criminal court before passing the final order as to the quantum of punishment to be inflicted on these persons In fact, a criminal case against all the workmen with a common charge under section 147, I.P.C., upon the occurrence of 19th March 1962 was then pending before a Magistrate at Barrackpore and it was a police case and the case is still pending. In view of the pendency of the criminal case and the request of the E.O., the company by its letter, dated 21st June 1962, informed the workmen that in views of the grave questions of fact and law involved in the case, the Management after considering the whole situation, had decided not to take any action until delivery of judgement in the pending criminal case against them adding that they were to continue to be on supension according to the original order contained in the charge-sheets themselves. After this, nothing was done by the company. But the present applicants filed these applications under section 33A, Industrial Disputes Act, some on 9th January 1963 and some on 18th January 1963 The company's whole contention is that the real position is that the workmen have been continuing under suspension pending finalisation of the action to be taken against them on the basis of the enquiry reports after the end of the criminal case and it is no punishment, not to speak of discharge or dismissal covered by section 33(2)(b) or section 33(3)(b), as contended by the workmen in their applications, and consequently, the cases did not come under section 33 at all and there was and could not be any contravention of section 33 so as to legalise the present applications under section 33A, which cannot apply unless there is any contravention of any relevent provision of section 33.

The position taken up on behalf of the applicants workmen in regard to the preliminary objection is that there is no bar in taking action against a charge-sheeted workman by the employer even when any criminal proceeding on the same facts is pending and so, the long continued and indefinite suspension of the workmen without taking any final decision after the conclusion of the enquiry on the plea of pendency of the criminal case really amounted to their non-employment by way of punishment and in view of this position, it amounted to discharge or dismissal falling within section 33(2)(b) or section 33(3)(b), Industrial Disputes Act, as the case may be. I should mention here tht some of the applicants have claimed to be protected workmen and so they have challenged the action taken against them as illegal and mala fide for want of specific permission of the Tribunal under section 33(3)(b), Industrial Disputes Act.

I should also state here that it is not disputed that when the workmen were charge-sheeted and suspended and when the final communication, dated 21st June 1962, was made to the workers informing them that they were to continue on suspension pending the decision of the criminal case, the adjudication proceedings of another dispute between the company and its workmen, referred to this Tribunal by G.O. No. 1662-I.R., dated 10th May 1962, were pending and the applicants have claimed that in view of the proceedings of this reference, it was obligatory upon the company to comply with the relevant provisions of section 33, Industrial Disputes Act, in regard to the punishment inflicted upon them.

There can be no dispute as to the legal proposition that the indispensable pre-condition for an application under section 33A, Industrial Disputes Act, is contravention of any relevant provision of section 33, Industrial Disputes Act, in regard to the alleged punishment complained of. No application under section 33A can lie unless there is contravention of any relevant provision of section 33 It is now to be decided upon the admitted facts indicated above whether the company was really guilty of contravention of section 33 (2)(b) or section 33(3)(b), Industrial Disputes Act, as the case may be in regard to the action taken against these workmen. In both sections 33(2)(b) and 33(3)(b) the punishments referred to as falling thereunder are discharge, dismissal or other punishments. In the case of sec. 33(2)(b), only the punishment of discharge or dismissal is subject to compliance with the requirements of the proviso thereto, but in the case of section 33(3)(b), discharge, dismissal or other punishment is prohibited save with the express permission in writing of the concerned authority. So, the crucial point is whether the final action of the company in regard to these workmen conveyed to them by the letter, dated

21st June 1962 can be construed as discharge or dismissal or any other form of punishment. Prima facie the terms of the letter, dated 21st June 1962, do not constitute any punishment by discharge, dismissal or otherwise. By this letter, the workmen were informed that the company having not considered it advisable to take any decision in the matter of their punishment upon the enquiry reports in view of the pendency of the criminal case against them, they were to continue under suspension under the original order in the charge-sheets, dated 20th March 1962. The letter clearly indicated that the company deferred its final action in regard to the workmen on the enquiry report till the criminal case was decided and in the meantime, the status quo in respect of their suspension was to continue. On behalf of the company, it is argued that the company has every right to keep a workman under suspension pending enquiry and pending final action on the result of the enquiry and such suspension cannot amount to any punishment, not to speak of the drastic punishment of discharge or dismissal. The contention raised on behalf of the workmen, on the other hand, is, as already indicated above, that it really amounted to their punishment by way of discharge or dismissal and it was, in any case, a form of punishment. It cannot be gainsaid that the suspension of the workmen in question in the present case cannot come under section 33(2)(b) or sec. 33(3)(b), unless it is held to be a discharge or dismissal or in any case, a form of punishment other than discharge or dismissal. In Luxmidevi Sugar Mills' case LLJ 1957(1) page 17, it has been held that suspension without pay pending departmental enquiry as also pending permission of the Tribunal under relevant sec. [sec. 33 Industrials Disputes Appellate Tribunal Act] cannot be considered as punishment as such suspension without payment is only an interim measure. In fact, it is now a well-accepted principle that an employer has got the right to suspend a workman pending enquiry and that suspension would not amount to punishment. In the case of National Tobacco Co. Ltd. 1954, page 476 (page 479), it was held on the facts of that case that the suspension of the concerned workmen pending decision of the Tribunal was nothing but a cloak to hide the real intention of the company and so, it was a punishment. The facts of the present case do no, in my view, justify the conclusion that the suspension of the workmen in the present case pending the enquiry and then pending the final decision of the criminal case, was mala fide and was a cloak to hide the real intetion of the company and as such, it amounted to a punishment. In the case reported in LLJ 1960(1), page 520, it was observed that in cases involving grave questions of law and fact, it would be advisable to await the decision of the criminal case before passing final orders regarding punishment of a workman, though the company is not bound in law to await the decision of the criminal case before taking such action. In the present case, there were charge-sheets containing charges of a grave nature involving riotous, disorderly and violent conduct on the part of these workers against some workers who were willing to join work in the factory at the time fixed by the company and after these workmen replied to the charge-sheets, there were some enquiries and the E.O. submitted his report finding the workmen guilty of the charges and recommending the maximum punishment provided for the offence but at the same time, requesting that the company should await the decision of the pending criminal case on the same facts for deciding the quantum of punishment and the company accepted this request and conveyed its decision accordingly by its letter, dated 21st June 1962. The proceedings of the enquiries were finally of an ex-parte nature but in any case the workmen have admitted that there were some enquiries, which some of them attended for some time. In my view, if the company had the right to suspend the workmen till the departmental enquiries, it had also the right to defer final action regarding the nature of punishment upon the reports of the enquiries till the decision of the criminal case on the same facts, particularly when the E.O. had himself recommended such action. The company had certainly the right to decide that the report of the enquiries should be accepted, subject to the decision of the criminal case against these workers on the same facts and to continue the suspension of the workmen till the final decision of the criminal case. No doubt, the criminal case has not yet been disposed of and it is pending for a long time. But for that the company is not responsible and it bespeaks no fault on the part of the company having regard to the fact that it was a State prosecution as a police case. Suspension by itself could not certainly amount to discharge or dismissal with complete cessation of the relationship of employer and employee. It was certainly an interim measure and though it involved non-employment, it was not non-employment by way of discharge or dismissal. Mere deferment of final action regarding punishment upon the enquiry reports till the final decision of the criminal case cannot, in my view, necessarily indicate and amount to a vindictive and mala fide action against the workmen and on this ground alone, the suspension pending final decision of the criminal case cannot be treated as any form of punishment. It may quite well be construed that the company awaited the decision of the criminal case as a gesture of sympathetic consideration so that the workers who would be acquitted in the criminal case, might not be punished. It is to be noted that this action of the company was taken on the basis of the request of theE.O. in which this procedure was suggested and there is certainly nothing to question the bona fides of the E.O. in this respect. In the above view of the undisputed facts and circumstances of the case, I hold that the suspension of the workmen with effect from the dates of the charge-sheets and pending the departmental enquiries and thereafter also pending the final decision of the criminal case against them on the same facts with a view to determining the quantum of punishment to be inflicted on the basis of the judgment in the criminal case was not any form of punishment, not to speak of the drastic punishment of discharge or dismissal. In view of this findings the suspension of the workmen complained of in the present case, though it involves interim non-employment cannot attract the operation of either section 33(2)(b) or section 33(3)(b), Industrial Disputes Act and necessarily, the company cannot be found guilty of contravention of this relevant provision of sec. 33, Industrial Disputes Act. In fact, according to my finding about the nature of the suspension recorded above, the company was not bound to comply with any provision of sec. 33, Industrial Disputes Act, in regard to this suspension and consequently, no question of contravention of sec. 33, Industrial Disputes Act, can arise in the present case so as to attract the operation of sec. 33A, Industrial Disputes Act, for the purpose of the present application. This application must, therefore, fail on the preliminary ground that the indispensable element of contravention of any provision of section 33, Industrial Disputes Act, in regard to the action complained of in the application is absent. Accordingly, I dismiss all these nine applications under section. 33A, Industrial Disputes Act, as not maintainable in law.

As the applications are finally disposed on the preliminary objection raised by the company, this is to be treated as my award in all the cases heard analogously.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute existing between Messrs. J. K. Steel Ltd., P.O. Rishra, district Hooghly and their workmen represented by J. K. Steel Mazdoor Union, P.O. Rishra, district Hooghly (Case No. 59 of 1966).

BEFORE THE FIFTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL.

Present :

Shri A. K. DE, District Judge,
Presiding Officer, Fifth Industrial Tribunal.

Present for the Company: Shri D. Prokash, an officer of the Company.

Present for the Union : Shri Ram Sen, President of the Union.

By Labour Department order No. 841-IR/IR/10L 24/66 dated 26th February 1966, the Government of West Bengal has referred to this Tribunal for adjudication under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act an industrial dispute between Messrs. J. K. Steel Ltd., hereinafter called the Company, and their workmen represented by J. K. Steel Mazdoor Union, hereinafter called the Union. The dispute has arisen under the following circumstances. Shri Kartick Mondal was working as an acting welder under the Company. On 26th February 1965 he was asked by his superior officer to weld a pinion wobbler. He refused to do the work. His superior officer then gave him written order to do the work. He refused to take that order even. He did not do the work as asked. On 27th February 1965 he was given a charge-sheet (Ext. A), for habitual negligence in work, wilful disobedience of the lawful orders of the superior and deliberate delay in production. He took the charge-sheet and replied to it, by his petition Ext. B on 2nd March 1965. He stated therein that he did not disobey his superior order but only intimated him that he would not be able to do the work with precision. The Company, not being satsified with his explanation, decided to hold an enquiry. The workman was intimated by the notice Ext. C about the date of enquiry. The workman attended the enquiry on that date. In his presence the Company examined its witnesses. The workman cross-examined the witnesses. Then the workman gave his own statement and examined his witness on his side The enquiring officer, on a consideration of the evidence held that the charges were established. He made his report to the Manager. The Manager decided to dismiss him and intimated him by a letter, dated 27th March 1965 (Ext. D). It is this dismissal which the Union, on behalf of the workman, has challenged as not justified and asked for his reinstatement and back wages for the forced period of unemployment.

2. The Company and the Union, on being served with notices appeared and filed statements. The Union stated that the charges were false, that the enquiry was not conducted properly being in violation of the principles of natural justice, that the workman was not given opportunity to defend himself, that the order of dismissal was illegal being in violation of the provisions of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act, and that the workman was entitled to be reinstated.

3. The Company stated that the charges were true and that he had been dismissed after a proper domestic enquiry and the workman was not entitled to any relief.

4. The issue is "Is the dismissal of Shri Kartick Mondal justified? To what relief, if any, is he entitled?"

5. It is not disputed that Shri Kartick Mondal was acting welder under the Company on 26th February 1966 though his substantive appointment on that day was welder-helper. It is also not disputed that he was asked by Shri D. L. Chatterji, the foreman of the Company, to weld a pinion wobbler and that Shri Mondal did not do that work. It is also proved that the Company had that work done by another welder that day when Shri Mondal did not do that work. The Company gave him a charge-sheet, Ext. A. Shri Mondal replied to it by Ext. B. He was given a notice of enquiry (Ext. C). Shri K. Manna, the Labour Welfare Officer of the Company, held the enquiry into the charge-sheet. Before him the Company examined Shri D. L. Chatterji, Shri J. K. Agarwala, Shri Manik Das and Shri P. K. Banerjee in presence of Shri Mondal. Shri Mondal made a statement before Shri Manna, and examined Shri Jagannath Ghosh, his helper on that date, as his witness. Shri Manna, on the evidence, made a report to the Works Manager (Ext. N). On that report, evidence and papers, the Works Manager dismissed the workman by the letter Ext. D. It is said that the dismissal is not justified because the enquiry on which dismissal has been ordered was vitiated. Several grounds are taken in support of that contention. Firstly, it is said that the enquiry is vitiated because at the commencement of it the workman was closely examined. This contention is not based on fact. It appears from the enquiry record (Ext. K) that at the commencement Shri Mondal was asked if he had got the charge-sheet and if he had replied to it. It was but proper for the enquiring officer to make that enquiry and to communicate to him the charges and his reply if he had no knowledge of those. The inspiration for this contention came from column II of page 400 of the case reported in 1963 II L.L.J. 396. But the facts of that case are quite different from the facts of the present case. Secondly, it was contended that the enquiry was vitiated because the enquiring officer did not explain to the workman the record he had made and did not give him copies thereof. This contention is not acceptable, It is seen that the enquiry record was made in presence of the workman, and on one day in presence of himself and in presence of his observer, Chitta Rudra. Again, the workman signed on each page of the record indicating that it was made in his presence and that he had knowledge of the contents. The enquiry was based on the oral evidence given at the enquiry. There could not have been any question of giving copies of the same to Shri Mondal. Nextly it was said that the enquiry was vitiated as the witness examined by the workman on his side was not disbelieved and the conclusion arrived at with the evidence of his witness remaining as it is was perverse. This contention is again unsound. The enquiring officer did not disbelieve the evidence of Jagannath Ghosh, the witness examined by the workman. So it was not necessary for him to give any reason for disbelieving him. The enquiring officer made his conclusion on the evidence before him after due consideration of the evidence of Jagannath Ghosh also. It cannot be said that his conclusion is perverse. It may only be said that the enquiring officer may have made a different conclusion. But that is not what is called 'perverse conclusion'. The Tribunal is not the appellate authority of domestic enquiry. It is not for the Tribunal to judge the sufficiency of the evidence or veracity of the witnesses at the enquiry. The Tribunal rejects this contention. Fourthly, it is said that the punishment given after the enquiry is so shocking that it vitiates the enquiry. It is also said that the Company has victimised the workman adopting unfair labour practice as the workman was an active member of the Union and thus incurred the Company's displeasure. This contention cannot be accepted. It is not factually well based. The workman did not at any time before this hearing say either in Ext. B or in the statement in this proceeding that he was a member of the Union or that he was an active member, or that the Company knew or that he did anything as such member causing displeasure of the Company. For the first time in this proceeding he stated that he was a member of the Union and negotiated over grievances of the workmen. But he did not state that he had at any time informed the Company that he was a member of the Executive Committee of the Union. He stated that he was elected member of the Union 2'3 years back, and could not say when the last election was held. His statement on this point cannot be accepted as true. As to the punishment of dismissal being excessive, it amy at once be said that it was not so. He was asked to do a work. He did not do that. The Company has to engage another person to do that work. That, if true, is disobedience of the highest degree and no employer can bear with it. In such circumstances dismissal cannot be said to be a very heavy punishment. The Tribunal does not see any ground to say that the domestic enquiry was vitiated as violative of the principles of natural justice.

6. Another contention needs consideration. It was contended that the workmen had not been dismissed as the Company did not take either the approval or permission of the Conciliation Officer under section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act though it held the enquiry and dismissed the workman when other matters were pending before the Conciliation Officer. It is not disputed that the Company had not applied for and did not get permission of dismissal from the Conciliation Officer regarding dismissal of this workman. The Company states that such approval was not necessary as the matters, then pending before the Conciliation Officer, were matters in which this workman was not concerned. The question then is, whether it was necessary for the Company to make any application under section 33 for the dismissal of this workman. It appears from the Union's letter, Ext. O, that the matters then pending before the Conciliation Officer were over disputes regarding other workman. The Company, on being informed of the Union's letter, Ext. O, replied by Ext. P that such steps under section 33 by the Company were not necessary. Section 33 says that for dismissal of a workman "concerned in the dispute pending before the Conciliation Officer," an application is necessary. That was not the case here. So section 33 was not applicable. It cannot be said that there has been no dismissal of the workman. On the footing that there was a dismissal the present reference was made. The Union has not proved by evidence that any matter in which this workman was concerned was pending before the Conciliation Officer at the time of his dismissal. That was a question of fact and required to be proved. The Tribunal, without evidence, cannot say that section 33 was attracted. It was argued by the Union that any matter agitated by the Union, even concerning a single workman, would be taken to be a dispute concerning all workmen or members of the Union. The Tribunal does not find it acceptable. If any reference under section 10 is made to a Tribural regarding dismissal of one workman, it cannot be said that during the pendency of that reference the Company would not be able to dismiss another workman without taking recourse to the provisions of section 33. The Tribunal rejects this contention of the Union.

7. It was contended that the enquiry report Ext. K shows that the charges brought against the workman were not true or at least were not proved. This has got to be examined. As already stated, the charges were three in number (1) habitual negligence in work, (2) disobedience to the lawful orders of the superiors and (3) deliberate delay in production. The reply, Ext. B, of the workman clearly shows that he did not answer all the three charges. He said nothing about habitual negligence of work or deliberate delay in production. Thus it could be said that he admitted those two charges. The enquiring officer held all the three charges proved (see Ext. N). But the Works Manager was of the view that only two charges were proved, viz., habitual negligence in the performance of duty and wilful disobedience to the lawful and reasonable orders of the superior. He did not say that he was punishing the workman for the third charge, i.e., delay in production (vide Ext. D). Therefore, it is to be seen whether the two charges on which the Works Manager found him guilty and dismissed him were true and proved. It is not disputed that Shri D. L. Chatterji asked Shri Mondal to weld a pinion wobbler and that he did not do that. It is in evidence that the normal work of the worker was to weld wobblers. So it is evident that Shri Mondal disobeyed the lawful and reasonable orders of his superior in the performance of his duties. It is again proved from the letter, Ext. G, that on a previous occasion he similarly disobeyed the order, but was given light punishment on his expressing regret. The Company thus proved two occasions of his negligence in the performance of work. The workman stated that he did not do the work as ordered because he feared he would not be able to do the work with perfection. His explanation was that he stated that to Shri D. L. Chatterji. But this does not appear to be true. It is in the evidence of Shri Mondal that he was acting continuously for one year before this incident as welder and that he worked as acting welder for one and half year previously with breaks. It was hardly believable that he would not be able to do welding of pinion wobbler when he had worked for over one year as welder. It appears from the documents produced in this proceeding that Shri Mondal was nursing grievances against the Company regarding his salary as acting welder. He thought that he was entitled to higher salary and that the Company was not giving him that. On a previous occasion he refused to do the work on the plea that he was not getting proper wages. If considered from that standpoint it would be clear that Shri Mondal refused to do work, and it was not correct that he merely explained his apprehension in not being able to do the work properly. His statement is that he told Shri Chatterji that he had not done that job before, and that Shri Chatterji, on hearing that, did not say anything to him. This is highly improbable. If he had really said that, Shri Chatterji would either ask him to do the work as best as he could or ask him not to do the work. It was unlikely that he would at once report to his superior and try to have the work done by giving him written orders. This version of Shri Mondal was not at all likely. Shri Jagannath Ghosh stated before the enquiring officer at the domestic enquiry that Shri Mondal told him that he had not done that work before and that he might make a mistake if he did it, and that Shri Chatterji, on hearing that, went away. This was quite unnatural and improbable If Shri Chatterji was so told he would surely have given a reply to that. He would either try to persuade Shri Mondal to do the work or ask him not to do it. It would be seen from page 2 of the enquiry report (Ext. K) that Shri Mondal in cross-examining Shri Chatterji did not put up this case. The Tribunal does not think that it is proved that Shri Mondal did not refuse to do the work or to carry out his superior's order for welding pinion wobbler. The Tribunal, on the evidence and materials, is of the view that the dismissal of Shri Mondal is justified and that the workman is not entitled to any relief.

8. In the result, the Tribunal answers the first part of the issue in the positive and the second part of the issue in the negative.

Present :

Shri P. BASU, Bar-at-Law, Judge,
Sixth Industrial Tribunal

The Government of West Bengal, by order No. 2150-I.R./I.R./10L-62/66, dated 30th May 1966, had referred the following industrial dispute between Messrs. N. Banduri and Bros., 33 Mohendra Bhattacharyya Road, Santragachi, Howrah and their workmen represented by N. Banduri Sramik Union, 150 Mohendra Bhattacharyya Road, Howrah, to this Tribunal for adjudication.

Issue

Whether the retrenchment of the following workmen is justified ? To what relief, if any, are they entitled?

(i) Shri Biswanath Dass,

(ii) Shri Nemai Chandra Dass,

(iii) Shri Kartic Chandra Dass,

(iv) Shri Ramdhani Dikshit,

(v) Shri Abdul Sattar and

(vi) Shri Md. Hanif.

AWARD

After service of usual notice both parties appeared on 13th July 1966 and had filed a joint petition of settlement regarding the dispute. It appears that the dispute was settled before the Conciliation Officer after conciliation but before reference and that all the concerned workmen except Shri Abdul Sattar had already received payments from the employer in terms of the settlement. So far as Abdul Sattar is concerned, the amount to be given in respect of compensation, was offered to him but he did not collect the money. The employer is still willing to pay the amount due to Abdul Sattar when he approaches the Management for collecting the amount. It appears to me that the terms of settlement are bona fide, legal and proper and should be given effect to. Accordingly I pass a "No dispute" award making the petition of settlement as an annexure to the award.

This is my award.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an application under secion 33A, Industrial Disputes Act, by Shri Shyamapada Das of 1 Ramesh Dutta Street, Calcutta-6 (C/o Shri Sambhu Nath Ghosh against Messrs. Doz & Company [Doz & Co. (P) Ltd.] of 11G Tanti Bagan Road, Calcutta-14. (Case No. 40/65 under section 33A).

BEFORE THE SEVENTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present :

Shri S. K. RAY, Judge.

For the Applicant Workman : Shri S. Banerjee, Advocate.

For the Company O.P. : Shri D. Bhattacharjee, Advocate.

AWARD

In this application under section 33A, Industrial Disputes Act, the precise complaint laid before this Tribunal by the workman applicant, Shri Shyamapada Das, against his employer, Messrs. Doz & Company [Doz & Co. (P) Ltd.,] is that during the pendency of the adjudication proceedings of another dispute between the Company and its workman, referred to this Tribunal by Government order No. 3537-IR., dated 6th August 1962, and without complying with the relevant provisions of section 33, the Company summarily and verbally dismissed him on 21st November 1964, falsely accusing him of theft and without issuing any charge-sheet or holding any enquiry. It is contended that he was so dismissed after he was elected Assistant Secretary of the Union of the workers of this Company organised shortly before the relevant date and it is alleged that it was nothing but a case of victimisation for his leading part in forming the Union. The incident preceding his dismissal, accrding to him, was that on 21st November 1964, Shri Oli Muhammad, who is an important member of the Company, and looks after the management, asked the applicant to divulge the secret formula of preparing soldering mixture, but he refused to divulge the secret on the plea that it was his trade secret and after this, he was summrily and verbally dismissed in the manner indicated above. He wants reinstatement to service with full back wages from the date of dismissal.

The application is contested by the Company. The relevant case put forward in the written statement of the Company may be briefly summarised as follows :

This workman was engaged on daily wages in the Company's Soldering department and he used to prepare soldering mixture with brass, zinc and silver as components. On Saturday, the 21st November 1964, at about 9-30 a.m., he was found gossiping and neglecting his work by Shri Oli Muhammad in course of his usual inspection round. He was warned for this, but he paid no heed to the warning and argued with Shri Oli Muhammad. Moreover, a solid piece of Silver weighing about 2½ tolas was found kept separate in a very unnatural manner, and this piece of silver was wrapped with fine loose paper while other soldering components with which he was working, viz., brass and zinc, were kept open. This manner of keeping the solid piece of silver roused the suspicion of Shri Oli Muhammad, the Production Director, and he asked the workman to explain the unusual manner of keeping this piece of silver. The workman did not give any explanation. Thus, it was proved beyond doubt that the workman kept the piece of silver separately in such a manner with a malafide intent on and for the purpose of theft. It is not true that the Production Director, Shri Oli Muhammad, asked the workman to divulge any trade secret relating to the preparation of soldering mixture. The workman was not, however, dismissed on 21st November 1964, as alleged by him. A charge-sheet with the charges of wilful insubordination or disobedience to lawful and reasonable order of the superior officer and theft or dishonesty in connection with the employer's business or property was immediately tendered to him, but he refused to accept the charge-sheet and then he left the factory premises without any permission from any superior officer and continued to absent himself from work since then. It was not certainly a case of dismissal by way of victimisation. The Management had no knowledge about the formation of any Union and his being elected as its Assistant Secretary. As it was not a case of dismissal, the Company was not guilty of contravention of any provision of section 33, Industrial Disputes Act, and so, the present application under section 33A cannot lie and on merits also, the applicant has no case.

At the time of arguments, the learned Advocate for the Company raised a legal objection against the maintainability of the present application under section 33A, Industrial Disputes Act on the ground that the present application under section 33A cannot lie against this Company, because the present Company, Messrs. Doz & Co. (P) Ltd, is not a party to the omnibus engineering dispute referred for adjudication under Government order No. 3537-IR, dated 6th August 1962 and so, no question of contravention of any provision of section 33, Idustrial Disputes Act during the adjudication proceeding of the omnibus reference by this Company can arise and in the absence of such contravention, the application under section 33A, Industrial Disputes Act, cannot lie. This precise legal objection was nowhere pleased in the written statement of the Company. I have already stated above that in the application under section 33A Industrial Disputes Act, the employer Company is described as Messrs. Doz & Company [Doz & Co. (P) Ltd.] & the address of the Company is 11G Tanti Bagan Road, Calcutta-14. In the order of reference (No. 3537-IR, dated 6th August 1962) serial No. 214 in the list of Companies stands as Messrs. Dox & Co., 11G Tanti Bagan Lane. It is clearly pleaded in paragraph (4) of the application that during the pendency of the adjudication proceedings of the omnibus reference, the Company O.P. changed its name from Messrs. Doz & Co. to Messrs. Doz & Co., (P) Ltd., without any other change whatsoever. It transpires from the facts disclosed in evidence that the Company started as Doz & Co. and after carrying on business for some time under this name, it got itself incorporated as a private limited company in 1959. Ext. A is a copy of the certificate of incorporation. There is, however, no evidence to prove that there was any other change in the operational or functional side of the Company and it is quite reasonable to hold that this Company is continuing and carrying on the business of Messrs. Doz & Co., It is very significant to note that Messrs. Doz & Co. (P) Ltd, as it is now and as it was at the time of the omnibus reference made in 1962, has not raised any specified plea in the written statement in this case that it is not a party to the omnibus reference because it is not described as Messrs. Doz & Co. (P) Ltd. On the contrary, Shri Oli Muhammad. O.P.W.1, the Production Director of the Comany, has clearly admitted in his evidence that this Company has implemented the interim award made by this Tribual in the omnibus reference. This clearly signifies that in spite of its present name being Messrs. Doz & Co. (P) Ltd., it has accepted and acted upon the position that it is a party to the omnibus engineering reference under Government Order No. 3537-IR, dated 6th August 1962, though the name of the Company there is given as Messrs. Doz & Co., only. From all the aforesaid facts and circumstances, I hold that Messrs. Doz & Co. (P) Ltd., is nothing but a continuation of Messrs. Doz & Co., on its functional and operational sides and the registration of the Company as a private limited company was nothing but a change in name and this company is really a party to the omnibus reference notwithstanding that the old name of the Company is given in the order of reference. It is well-settled that in dealing with industrial disputes under the Industrial Disputes Act, the Tribunal should not be bound by the strict technical ties of law but should look to the substance of the matter (L.L.J. 1962(1), page 333). In disposing of this belated legal ojection taken by the Company, I must also look to the substance of the matter and so looking into the matter, I have no hesitation to hold that this concerned party named as Messrs. Doz & Co., (P) Ltd. and previously named as Messrs. Doz & Co., is really a party to the omnibus reference. In this view, I reject the legal objection raised by the Company, and hold that in connection with the dismissal complained of by the workman, which took place during the pendency of the adjudication proceedings of the omnibus reference, it was incumbent upon him to comply with the provisions of section 33(2)(b), Idduttrial Disputes Act, and as this was not done, there was contravention of section 33, Industrial Disputes Act and consequently, the applicant is entitled to maintain the present application under section 33A, Industrial Disputes Act, in connection with the impugned dismissal.

Now I come to the merits of the case.

On ultimate analysis, the crucial question is whether it was a case of summary dismissal, as alleged by the applicant, or a case of the workman's voluntarily leaving the service by continuing to be absent after the incident of 21st November 1964. As it is a complaint under section 33A, Industrial Disputes Act, it is to be treated as a reference of the dispute for adjudication and it is to be adjudicated on merits accordingly. It is an admitted position that no enquiry was held regarding the conduct of the applicant on 21st November 1964 in course of the incident after which he was no longer in service. The Company's case is that a charge-sheet in the form of Ext. E was issued to the workman immediately after the occurrence, but he refused to accept the same. This is denied by the workman. Even assuming that a charge-sheet was issued, there was certainly no departmental enquiry regarding the charges. The simple issue of a charge-sheet will not justify the dismissal if it was a case of dismissal. I have already recorded above the respective cases of the parties regarding the incident of 21st November 1964. The relevant and material facts are that there was some incident on 21st November 1964 in which this workman was involved and thereafter he was not found in active employment. The workman has testified to his own case that 21st November 1964 was a Saturday and after being summarily dismissed on that day, he was not allowed to work any more and, on the contrary, the Company's case is that after refusing to accept the charge-sheet on 21st November 1964, the workman left the factory premises during the working hours without any valid permission and thereafter ceased to come to work and accordingly, he was treated as having left the Company's service and so, there was no dismissal of the workman and this case has been testified to by O.P.W.1 Shri Oli Mohammed. The oral evidence regarding the incident of 21st November 1964 remains nothing but oath versus oath, there being workman's oath on the one side and the oath of Shri Oli Muhammad, the Production Manager of the Company who was personally concerned in the incident on the other side. It is significant that though in the Company's written statement it is clearly stated in paragraph (5) that "the entire fact of the mala fide intention of Shri Das and the following events occurred in presence of his Departmental Supervisor—Shri Govinda Chandra Das and others", neither Shri Govinda Chandra Das nor any other person has been examined to corroborate the incident as stated by Shri Oli Muhammad. There is also no corroborative oral evidence on the side of the complainant, but having regard to the facts that he has not referred to any corroborative evidence on his side and that it was easier for the Company to produce corroborative evidence from amongst its own employees, and it was, on the other hand, naturally quite difficult for the complianant to produce witnesses from the employees in active service of the Company, I am of the view that the Company should have produced corroborative oral evidence in support of its case regarding the incident and failure to do so should be considered as weakness of its case. The applicant has produced copies of letters addressed to the Labour Commissioner and the Manager of the Company, dated 25th November 1964 and 27th November 1964 by the Secretary of the concerned Union regarding the incident of 21st November 1964 (vide Exts. 1 and 2) and these letters support the version of the occurrence according to the applicant. He has also produced a copy of the G.D. entry of the local P.S. (Ext. 3) containing his rephort of the occurrence of 21st November 1964. This entry was recorded on 23rd November 1964. On the Company's side, there is the alleged charge-sheet, said to have been tendered to and refused by the workman on 21st November 1964, and a letter, dated 21st November 1964 (Exts. D and C), which are said to support the Company's version to the incident. The charge-sheet is said to have been tendered to the workman in presence of Shri Govinda Chandra Das, but he has not been examined. The only other exhibit on the side of the Company is a letter, dated 9th December 1964 (Ext D), in which the Company informed him that he was treated as having left the Company's employment, as he left the factory premises on 21st November 1964 without permission and was absent since then. Considering the aforesaid evidence on both sides in the light of surrounding circumstances and probabilities, I prefer to accept the evidence on the applicant's side and accordingly I hold thereon that he was verbally and summarily dismissed on 21st November 1964 and so after that, he had no opportunity to come back to work. As to the cause of the incident, the Company's case put at the highest is that a piece of silver was found lying in his place of work wrapped up in loose paper while other components of soldering mixture including silver were lying open at that place. From this fact alone, the workman cannot be found guilty of the charge of theft or attempted theft. He had not removed the piece of silver from the factory and was not caught while in the act of removing the silver. Possession of a piece of silver by him was not unnatural and by itself suspicious when it is an admitted position that the Company issued silver and other soldering components to the workman, who was a solderman for preparing solder mixture for the purpose of soldering. The Management should not have at once jumped to the conclusion that he was guilty of theft or attempted theft or dishonesty, misappropriation of the Company's property simply from his possession of a bit of silver wrapped in a piece of paper. It is clearly and definitely stated that a piece of silver kept separate and wrapped in fine loose paper only roused suspicion in the mind of the Production Director [vide paragraph (2) of the Company's written statement.] Suspicion is not certainly a sufficient ground for definitely accusing a workman of theft or attempted theft or misappropriation of any property I take it as quite reasonable and natural that there was some altercation and exchange of words between Shri Oli Muhammad and this workman on 21st November 1964 in connection with the bit of silver found in his place of work. Upon the evidence, I cannot hold that the altercation was of such a nature as to make out a case of wilful insult or insubordination against the workman in relation to the Production Director I also take it as quite probable that the workman might have claimed some "trade secret" in connection with the possession of the bit of silver and at the same time, I have no hesitation to hold that this claim was untenable but that would not by itself make the workman liable for dismissal for theft or dishonestyeg or insubordination. In the above view of the facts of and concerning the incident of 21st November 1964, I hold that the Company has failed to make out any sufficient cause or justification for dismissal of the concerned workman. Accordingly, this complaint must succeed and the workman must get proper reliefs. I hold that he is entitled to reinstatement to service with full back wages for the period of unemployment since 23rd November 1964. He is in due course entitled to his wages for 21st November 1964.

In the result, I allow the application under section 33A, Industrial Disputes Act and award that the workman was unjustifiably dismissed summarily and without any enquiry on 21stNovember 1964 and he is to be reinstated in his service under the Company on his reporting for duty within 15 days from the publication of the award and on his so reporting for duty, the Company shall pay him his due wage with effect from 23rd November 1964 till the date of reinstatement within a month.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute existing between Messrs. Bengal Refractories Private Ltd., P.O. Jamgram (via Sitarampur), district Burdwan and their workmen represented by Bengal Refractories Mazdoor Union, Md. Hussain Street, Bengal Hotel, P.O. Asansol, district Burdwan. BEFORE THE FIFTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL. WEST BENGAL.

Present :

Shri A. K. DE, District Judge,
Presiding Officer, Fifth Industrial Tribunal.

Present for the Company : Shri K. K Moitra, Advocate.

Present for the Union : Shri Phani Ghosh, a Trade-Unionist.

This is a reference under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act for adjudication of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Bengal Refractories Private Ltd., hereinafter referred to as Company, and their workmen represented by Bengal Refractories Mazdoor Union shortened as Union. This relates to Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 670-I.R./IR/11L-2/66, dated 21st February 1966. The dispute has arisen under the following circumstances.

Paragraph 24 of the Certified Standing Orders of the Company provides that a worker shall retire from the service of the Company on completion of 55 years of age. The Company had retired Shri Abdul Mistry, one of its workmen, from 4th August 1965, and Shri Badri Mahata and Shri Md. Islam, two other workmen from December 1964. The Company also gave notice to Shri Sonamani, another workman, that she would be retired having reached age of superannuation. The Union challenges that the retirement of the first three workmen is unjust and prays for reinstatement and back wages. The Union prays that the date of superannuation of Shri Sonamani may be fixed, as she, though not retired, is under threat of being retired.

The Company answers saying that it has in terms of its standing Orders, justly retired the three workmen and that Shri Sonamani was retired and had been taken back in employment and there is no dispute in regard to her age of superannuation.

The issues are :

(1) Whether the termination of service of Sarbasri Abdul Mistri, Badri Mahato and Md. Islam on ground of superannuation is justified ? To what relief, if any, are they entitled ?

(2) What should be the date of superannuation of Shrimati Sonamani ?

Issue No. 1. There is no dispute, and the Certified Standing Orders of the Company, Ext. 1, show, that the workmen of this Company shall retire on reaching 55 years of age, and, that the Company in its discretion may retain such a workmen in employment up to 58 years if (1) he consents and (2) is found medically fit. It is not disputed that the Company has retired Shri Abdul Mistry, Shri Badri Mahato and Shri Md. Islam, three of its workmen, from 4th August 1965, and, December 1964. It is said that the retiring of them is unjust for two reasons. Firstly, they did not reach 55 years of age at the time of retirement. Secondly, the procedure of retirement in para. 14 of Ext. 1 has not been followed. None of the two workmen, Shri Badri Mahata and Shri Md. Islam, took oath to say that he was below 55 years of age in December 1964. The Company proved through its doctor, O.P.W.2, Dr. M. Majhi, that he examined both in September 1964 and each of them was, in his opinion above 55 years of age. None of them protested to the Company about their age on getting notice of termination of service. The Tribunal, on this evidence, decides that each of the two reached 55 years of age in December 1964. None of them said he did not get notice of termination. Rather it was stated in the statement of the Union that such notice was given. So their retirement cannot be challenged on this score also.

The Union stated in its written statement that Shri Badri and Shri Md. Islam were aged 50 and 48 years respectively in 1964, but no evidence was given in proof thereof. The Tribunal holds that their averment is proved by evidence.

Regarding Shri Abdul Mistry the Company proved this declaration, Ext. A, under the Employees' Provident Fund Scheme, 1952, to show that his date of birth was, according to his own statement in 1957, 1905, or 1906 Whether this or that, he was above 55 years of age in 1964. Abdul deposed as P.W.1. He did not say his year of birth on oath. He did not examine any of his relations to say that. He did not produce any scrap of papers to show that. Even in the Union's statement, year of birth was not stated. At page 3 of the statement it was said that he was aged 52 years in 1964. He made no attempt to prove this. This statement is seen to be incorrect, as, his own version before the Company in a letter was that he was less than that (see Ext. 2). Shri Mistry's version cannot be accepted as true. The Union criticised Ext. A as unworthy of believe saying that the year of birth had been over-written, and that it was written without asking Shri Mistry. True, the date of birth is an over-written entry. But the alteration of that has nothing to do with the present dispute. Whether it is 1905 or 1906, the result, about superannuation, would be same. It is hardly believable that the Company would have made the overwriting without Shri Mistry's knowledge with no reasons or necessity therefor. It only shows that there was a mistake when the declaration was filled in and, therefore, it was altered at that time. Shri Mistry said he was not asked his age, but that he was called to the office for the declaration and was asked his wife's name and age. It is too facile to be believed that the Company then thought of retiring him in 1964 and forged on entry them. If the Company kept that column blank then, there would have been no overwriting in filling it up now. The Tribunal cannot believe Shri Mistry when he said that he was not asked his age in filling in Ext. A Paragraph 33 of Employees Provident Fund Scheme lays down that the employee has to answer those questions. When he was admittedly called for that, he was certainly asked and he gave answers thereto. The declaration, Ext. A is a correct record made on his answers. The Tribunal holds that he reached age of 57 years in 1964. His retirement cannot be held to be unjust on that ground.

Shri Mistry was given notice of termination, Ext. B on 2nd December 1964; that gave him one month's notice as required by para. 14. But he was actually retired, without any further notice, from 4th August 1965—vide Ext. A(1). It is argued that the first notice was waived by the second notice, and, the second notice, being one effective instantaneously, was bad and has failed to terminate his service. This contention is faulty.. Second notice Ext. A(1) did not waive Ext. B. But it only is a continuation of the earlier one—see paras. 1 and 2of Ext. A(1). What happened is this that the workman disputed Ext. B. So the Company very properly examined his viewpoint and did not retire him pending such examination. In the circumstances, no further notice was necessary. He was retired on the original notice, Ext. A. The Company's learned representative, however, tried to justify the company's action on Ext. A(1), treating it as the initial notice of termination, saying that no notice was at all necessary because para. 14(1) also states that the Company may in its option pay wages in lieu of notice. This argument does not appeal to the Tribunal. There was no tender or payment of one month's wages in lieu of notice in Ext A(1). So it cannot be said that the Company exercised its option like that. But the net result is that the retirement of Shri Abdul Mistry was not unjust.

It was contended that the Company has the Employment Registers where age of workmen are noted and that the Company could only prove age therefrom. This argument is not sound. The Company produced the best evidence. It has produced Ext. A which is workman's own declaration. The Employment Register will have been a document of the Company. If there are two pieces of evidence, a party may choose to place both or either. Besides when it has placed the best, one no grievance can be made. This contention is rejected.

Issue No. 1 should be answered positively in its fir part and negatively in its second part.

Issue No. 2. The Tribunal has no evidence to say either way as to the date of superannuation of Shri Sonamani. The Union gave no evidence. Sonamani did not depose. The Company also gave no evidence on the point This is a question of fact Without evidence no decision can be made on it.

If on any future date Shri Sonamani is sought to be retired as having reached age of superannuation, the question, if disputed, may be referred for adjudication again. The Tribunal cannot in these circumstances, decide the issue, and, a makes 'no dispute' award in regard to it.

Accordingly, the Tribunal answers the issues as in the preceding paragraphs.

BEFORE THE SEVENTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL.

Shri S. K RAY, Judge,
Seventh Industrial Tribunal.

For the Applicant Workmen : None.

For the Municipality O.P. : Shri B. C. Roy, Advocate.

AWARD

In this application under section 33A, Industrial Disputes Act, six workmen of Burdwan Municipality complained of alleged illegal, unjustified, wrongful and vindictive action of the Municipality in not paying them their due overtime wages for extra work done beyond the normal working hours and also making wrongful deductions from thier wages during the pendency of the adjudication proceedings of another dispute between this Municipality and its workmen, referred to this Tribunal by G O. No 3623-IR, dated 19th July 1960, and in contravention of the relevant provisions of section 33, Industrial Disputes Act.

The Municipality O.P. appeared and filed its written statement in due course.

After necessary preliminary proceedings and some adjournments the case was finally fixed for hearing on 2nd July 1966. On that date, there was no appearance by or on behalf of the applicants and no step was taken on their behalf. Shri B C. Ray, Advocate, appeared for the Municipality and filed a petition stating that the dispute raised by the applicants had been amicably settled on the terms embodied therein.

The petition of the Municipality just referred to above is not of course a joint petition of compromise. It, however, categorically states that the matter in dispute between the parties has been amicably settled and according to the terms of settlement, the applicants are to get certain sums of money as specified in para. 2 thereof under a resolution adopted by the Commissioners on 28th June 1966. The statements in the petition are not opposed or challenged by any one of the applicants. After having regard to all the aforesaid facts, and particularly to the fact of non-appearance of the applicants to prosecute the case, I am clearly of the view that they are not keen on prosecuting the case and they have given up the dispute, which has thereby ceased to exist. It seems to me that the applicants have taken up this attitude because of the amicable settlement referred to in the petition filed on behalf of the Municipality on 2nd July 1966. In view of the aforesaid position, the case is to be disposed of by a 'no dispute' award.

In the result, I make a 'no dispute' award in the case.

AWARD

The Government of West Bengal, by order No. 2387-IR/I.R./4L-21/64, dated 25th June 1964, had referred the following industrial dispute between Shrimati Radhika Devi, Sub-Contractor of Messrs. Bird and Co. (P) Ltd., 134/1 Mahatma Gandhi Road, Calcutta-7, and her workmen represented by the Paschim Bangal Mazdoor Congress, 7B Rani Rashmoni Road, Calcutta-13, to this Tribunal for adjudication.

Issues

(1) Scales of Pay. (2) Dearness Allowance.
(3) Leave and Holidays. (4) Retiring benefits.
(5) Free tiffin or tiffin allowance.
(6) Whether the management is justified in terminating employment of 26 workmen noted below? To what relief, if any, are they entitled?

(1) Shew Mahato, (2) Ramchandra Mahato, (3) Jiwat Rai, (4) Shri Prasanna Singh, (5) Ganauri Sardar, (6) Moti Mahto, (7) Jamuna Mahto, (8) Jagannath Singh, (9) Bhusi Mistri, (10) Nando Pasman, (11) Girdhari Sardar, (12) Lahaque Mia, (13) Dasrath Mahto, (14) Sita Ram Mahto, (15) Mahendra Mahata, (16) Suleman Mia, (17) Rafique Mia, (18) Basestha Misra, (19) Batoran Sahni, (20) Ramji Pasman, (21) Matabar Das, (22) Jogen Babu, (23) Din Dayal Singh, (24) Thakur Dubey, (25) Harmani Rai and (26) Taslim Mia.

After service of the usual notice, the Union had put in the written statement at first, and thereafter the employer had put in the written statement.

In the written statement submitted on behalf of the Union, it is said that the contract of loading and unloading from vassels was entrusted by Messrs. Joint Steamer Companies to Bird and Co. (Pvt.) Ltd., which in term has engaged Shrimati Radhika Debi as Sub-Contractor. The rates mentioned in the contract between Messrs. Bird and Co. and Sm. Radhika Debi is lower than the rates mentioned in the contract between Bird and Co. and Messrs. Joint Steamer Companies, Shrimati Radhika Devi pays wages on lower rates. Each Gharuas gets Rs. 7 to 12 per week and each Khamalis gets Rs. 3 per day. There is no scale of pay and there is also no annual increment. There is also no dearness allowance payable to the workmen whatever the rise in cost of living index. The workmen demanded dearness allowances at the Bengal Chamber of Commerce rate. They also demanded leave facilities as leave and holidays are unknown and as the workmen had been working in all the days of the month without any extra payment. The workmen of the Joint Steamer Companies and Bird Company enjoy both weekly holidays with pay and gazetted holidays with pay as festival holidays. Similarly there is no retiral benefit so far as these workmen are concerned and the employees of Joint Steamer Companies and Bird Company Ltd., enjoy double retiral benefit in the form of Provident Fund and gratuity. Regarding their demand of free tiffin or tiffin allowance it is said that the workmen of the principle employer enjoy the benefit of the canteen and the workmen of Sm. Radhika Debi demand Re.1 per day as tiffin allowance. There was a strike in the year 1962 and the Company charge-sheeted and suspended 21 workers who are leaders of the Union and 5 workmen were refused employment without any charge-sheet. Subsequently all of them were reinstated. However, when the workman demanded wages for the period of unemployment consequent upon wrongful suspension, the Company did not give them employment. There was conciliation proceeding and subsequently the issues had been referred to this Tribunal for adjudication as the matter had not been settled. I need not state the other particulars mentioned in the written statement of the Union

In the written statement submitted on behalf of the employer it is said inter alia that the dispute raised by the Mazdoor Congress is not an industrial dispute that the dispute in respect of issues Nos. 1 to 5, were raised in the first part of 1964 by the Mazdoor Union and there has been a tripartite agreement on 5th June 1964. In accordance with that agreement, the rates of wages of the workmen had been raised involving a recurring expenditure of about Rs. 72,384 per year. That agreement was for two years from 1st June1964 and it was agreed that the all the outstanding disputes between the employer and the employee were deemed to have been finally settled Therefore the Union cannot raise the present dispute. With regard to the contract of Messrs. Bird and Co. (P) Ltd., it is said that there was a fresh contract between Sm. Radh ka Debi and Messrs. Bird and Co. (P) Ltd., on 29th May 1963 and therefore, there is no legal continuity of the business carried on by the late husband of Sm. Radhika Debi, Sahadeo Singh with the business carried on by this Contractor. It is further alleged that the contractor has to employ a fluctuating number of workmen according to the pressure and slackness of work. It is not disputed that there are two types of workmen viz, Gharuas and Khamalis but it is said that the type of work is not a regular or continuing type of work and therefore, sometimes services of many workmen are required and sometimes only a few can be employed. The Khamalis are paid on daily-rate basis and the Gharuas are paid on piece-rate basis as the existing rates of pay and the increase effected under the agreement, dated 5th June 1964. are adequate. The scales of pay and dearness allowance cannot be fixed by the Tribunal. Scales of pay are also fixed where the workman are likely to continue in work for a reasonable long time and continuity of such work is fairly guaranteed. With regard to issue Nos. 3 to 5 it is said that the work is fluctuating and as the workmen are employed under daily basis, the workmen are not entitled to get these benefits. With regard to the dismissal of 26 workmen mentioned in the reference it is said that these workman were never employed by the employer and therefore, there is no question of dismissing those workmen.

The case has been pending for long time and the last date, after certain adjournments, was fixed on 22nd July 1966. On 13th July 1966 both parties have filed a joint petition of settlement signed by the learned Advocate Shri S. C. Sen for the employer, by Shri N. K. Roy Choudhury and Shri Ram Bahadur Singh for the employer and by Shri J. Pandey and Shri Salik Ram Singh, who is the General Secretary of the Union, for the Union I have heard these perons and have perused the position of settlement. It appears that the contract of the employer Sm. Radhika Debi with Messrs. Bird and Co. (P) Ltd., has been put an end to and there is no possibility of her running the business in future. In the circumstances, both parties felt that no useful purpose will be served by proceeding with the dispute referred by the Government. It further appears that both parties mutually discussed the matter and settled all the disputes contained in the Order of Reference amicably outside the Court and that there is no dispute pending between the parties requiring adjudication. The dispute is, therefore, regarded as withdrawn. It appears to me that the terms of settlement are bona fide, legal and proper and should be given effect to. I therefore pass a 'No-dispute' award making the petition of settlement an annexure to the award.

This is my award.

AWARD

By Labour Department order No. 644-I.R./I.R./13L-25/65, dated 18th February 1966, the Government of West Bengal has referred the following dispute between Messrs. Taraknath Press (hereinafter referred to as Press) and their workmen represented by Press Employees' Association (hereinafter called the Association), for adjudication under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act. On being served with notices both the Press and the Association appeared and filed statement. They gave evidence and submitted arguments at the hearing.

Facts are mostly not in dispute and are stated below :—

Shri Labanya Kumar Debacharyya was an employee of the Press. He joined the Association, was its active organiser and incurred the displeasure of the Press because of that. The Association placed a chartter of demands to the Press on 9th April 1965. The Association, under the leadership of Shri Debacharyya, approached the company several times for consideration of the charter of demands. That annoyed the Press more against him. To victimise him and to weaken the strength of the Association, the Press terminated the services of Shri Debacharyya on and from 6th October 1965 verbally. The Press did not give him any notice of termination and did not follow the procedure for terminating his services. The Association presses for his reinstatement and back wages for the period of unemployment. The Press in its reply stated that Shri Debacharyya secured a better job and it was arranged that he would be relieved from the Press with effect from 1st September 1965 but on 1st September 1965 Shri Debacharyya requested the Press to allow him to continue in their employment till 30th September 1965. Accordingly he was relieved from the Press from 30th September 1965 and had joined his employment under Messrs. Chalantika Press. The Press stated that it had not terminated the services of Shri Debacharyya but that he had himself gone elsewhere getting a better job.

The issue is whether the termination of employment of Shri Labanya Kumar Debacharyya is justified ? To what relief, if any, is he entitled ?

Shri Debacharyya, P. W. 1, stated that he went to Press on 6th October 1965 as usual, after the Puja Holidays from 1st October 1965 to 5th October 1965 and that the Manager told him that he would not give him work. He is supported by another employee Shri Jogesh Chandra Sarkar, P. W. 2. The Manager of the Press Shri Ajit Kumar Mahapatra, O. P. W. 1, stated that it was correct that they had not given Shri Debacharyya work from 6th October 1965. He further stated that on 6th October 1965 Shri Debacharyya came to the Press, signed the Attendance Register and approached him for work and that he then told him that the Press would not bear with his whims and that he might leave. It is quite clear on this evidence that the Press had terminated the services of Shri Debacharyya and it was not correct that Shri Debacharyya voluntarily resigned his job. Shri Debachharyya was given appointment by the letter Ext. 1. It is likely that if he had really informed the Press that he had got a better job elsewhere and would leave, the Press would not have insisted on his resigning his job in writing. It is again seen from the letter Ext. 3, dated 13th October 1965, which Shri Debacharyya wrote to the Press Manager, that he complained that he had been wrongfully deprived of his job. The reply to that letter, admittedly given by the Press by Ext. 4, is significant. It does not state that Shri Debacharyya had voluntarily given up the job and had gone away for a better job elsewhere. Had the story of the Press been true, then certainly that would have got mentioned there. In this letter Ext.4, the Press stated that Shri Debacharyya was informed even 2 months before 6th October 1965 that he would be dismissed from 1st September 1965. It was further stated there that a letter of dismissal was given to him and that Shri Debacharyya, in disregard of it, reported for work on 6th October 1965. This document amply proves that the case of the workman and the Association that the Press had terminated his employment, is true. The Tribunal decides accordingly.

The next question is whether this termination of employment is justified. Evidently it is not. It is not permissible for an employer to terminate the employment of any of its employees at his sweet will. He is required to adopt a particular procedure to terminate employment. He is either to charge him with a misconduct and after enquiry, dismiss him or if the Standing Orders permit, he may dispense with his services by giving him a notice in writing with tender of wages. In fact, the Press did not make any attempt to justify the termination. The Press took up the stand that the services were not terminated but that the workman volunatarily left. That has been held to have been disproved. It necessarily follows that the termination of employment of Shri Debacharyya is not justified.

The next question is what relief is the workman entitled to. In view of the decisions made above, he is certainly entitled to reinstatement and back wages from 6th October 1965 till the date of reinstatement and all other benefits available to workmen in case of continuous employment. The Press has not proved that this workman got employed elsewhere between 6th October 1965 and this day.

In the result, the Tribunal answers first part of the issue in the negative and directs the Press to reinstate Shri Labanya Kumar Debacharyya in the same post, on his reporting for work on any day not later than 7 days from the date of publication of this award, in the Press and to pay him his back wages for the period from 6th October 1965 till the date of reinstatement and all other benefits available to him on the footing that he had been in employment continuously since his appointment.

AWARD

The Government of West Bengal, by order No. 2479-I.R./I.R./10L-69(B)/65 dated the 24th June 1965 has referred the following industrial dispute between Messrs. Kamini Engineering Co., and their workmen which was referred to this Tribunal for adjudication.

Issue

Whether the dismissal of the following workmen is justified ? To what relief, if any, are they entitled ?

(a) Shri Himangshu Banerjee, (b) Shri Rangalal Bag, (c) Shri Abdul Mazid.

After the service of usual notice, the Company had put in the written statement at first as directed, and thereafter the union had put in the writtten statement.

In the writtten statement put in on behalf of the Company, a preliminary objection to the effect that the union has no locus standi to raise the industrial dispute, has been raised. It is said that the union has no representative character at all and the company had come to know on enquiry that not a single worker of the factory was or is a member of the union. Another objection to the effect that the alleged dispute is not an industrial dispute was also taken. Shri Maitra appearing for the employer, however, stated at the time of opening that he did not press these prelim nary objections. It is also stated in the written statement that charge-sheets have been issued on 31st October 1964 to the three concerned workmen for raisings slogans within the factory inciting and instigating the workers to indulge in riotious and disorderly behaviour, intimidating the management staff and indulging in go slow tactics with deliberate mood to defeat the purpose of production. All the three workmen were suspended pend ng enquiry and they had submitted identical explanations on 2nd November 1964 deny.ng the charges in toto. As the management considered the explanation to be unsatisfactory, it decided to hold enquiries and by the letters, dated 3rd November 1964, 6th November 1964, 13th November 1964, intimated that the enquiry would be held on 9th November 1964, 13th November 1964 and 16th November 1964 respectively. Shri Himangshu Banerjee had attended the enquiry on 9th November 1964, Shri Rangalal Bag had attended the enquiries on 13th November 1964 and 23rd November 1964, and Shri Mazid had attended the enquiry on 26th November 1964. In the enquiry, full opportunities were g ven to the concerned workmen for defending themselves. After the conclusion of the enquiry, the enquiring officer submitted a joint report finding all the three concerned workmen guilty of the charges. The management considered the report and the enquiry proceeding and dismissed all the three persons from service with effect from 1st December 1964. There had been no violation of the principles of natural justice and there had also been no lack of bona fide, on the part of the company. In the circumstances, it is said that the dismissal of the workmen is fully justified and the workmen are not entitled to get any relief.

In the written statement submitted on behalf of the union it is said that the company is highly prosperous concern and manufactures pressure vessles, structural component furnances, pressed job, precision mechanical fittings and employs about 100 in different departments of the factory. The company resorts to unfair labour practice and does not allow the workmen to conduct lawful trade union activities. On or about 24th August 1964, the company had laid off a few leading workmen on false pretext and without any bona fide reason. The union had sent a representation protesting against the vindictive activities and requesting the management to withdraw the lay off in this matter. The three concerned workmen took a leading part and hence incurred the displeasure of the management. Subsequently, on 15th September 1964, the union had sent the names of Shri Himangshu Banerjee who is the Secretary, Shri Jaladhar Banerjee and Shri Rangalal Bag who were the members of the executive committee of the union regarding the dispute raised on 8th September 1964. Besides Rangalal Bag, Shri Abdul Mazid also is a membe of the executive committee of the union. The issue of charg e heets t the three concerned workmen is not denied. It is said that the allegations are all false. It is further stated thatt he concerned workmen weres uspended with effect from 2nd November 1964, and tht on that date, thethree concerned workmen had given their replies to the charge-sheets. It is not disputed that by notices, the concerned workmen were told that the enquiries would be held on 9th November 1964, 13th Novemb r, 1964 and 26th November 1964 respectively. The enquiries, however, were not held in accordance with the principle of natural justice ad the enquiring officer did not allow the chargesheeted workmen to examine their own witnesses and to cross-examine the witnesses of the company. Shri Himangshu Banerjee had submitted both verbal and written protest to the enquiri g officer against the procedure adopted by him, but the management did not give any reply. The proceedings of the enquiry were also not read over and explained to the charge sheeted workmen by the enquiring officer. Though the allegations to the chargesheets against the three workmen were not proved, still the management had dismissed them by the letter dated 1st December 1964. Subsequently on 30th December 1964 a representation was submitted by the union regarding the dismissal of these thre workmen and conciliation proceedings were held on 6th April 1965 and 21st April 1965. The conciliation, however, failed due to the adamant attitude of the company. Certain submissions have been made regarding preliminary objections raised on behalf of the management, but in view of the fact that Shri Maitra did not press those objections, it is not necessary to state the reply to those ob ections. It is further stated that the three concerned workmen had been victimised on account of their leading roles in the activities of the union. Furthermore, as there had b en no fair and proper enquiry, the concerned workmen are entitled to be reinstated in service with all back wages for the period of forced unemployment.

Decision

Before I proceed to discuss the facts and circumstances and various infirmities regarding the enquiry, I shall point out that it is well settled that in cases of dismissal for misconduct, the Tribunal does not act as a court of appeal and will not substitute its own judgment for that of the management, and that in case of dismissal after enquiry by the domesti Tribunal, the Industrial Tribunal can interfere in such action of the management only on the following grounds :—

(i) where there has been want of good faith,

(ii) where there is victimisation or unfair labour practice ;

(iii) where, the management is guilty of basic error, or violation of principle of natural justice ;

(iv) where on the materials, the finding is completely baseless and perverse ;

[1958 (I) L. L. J., 260=A. I. R., 1958 S. C., 130—Indian Iron and Steel Co. vs. their workmen], [1959 (I) L. L. J., 285=A. I. R., 1959 S. C. 389—G. Mackenzie and Co., Ltd., vs. its workmen], [1965 (II) L. L. J., 153=1965 (11) F. L. R., 27,—J. K. Cotton Spinning and Weaving Mills Co., Ltd., vs. their workmen]. Now, regarding victimisation, it has been laid down in the rulings reported in 1960 (II) L. L. J., 145, 1960 (1) F. L. R., 229—National Tobacco Co., of India vs. the Fourth Industrial Tribunal that there would be victimisation where the workman is innocent but is punished for displeasing the employer and there would also be victimisation where the workman is guilty of some offence, but the sentence is out of proprtion to the fault or guilt of the employees. I think reference may also be made to the rulings reported in A. I. R. 1964 S. C., 486=1963 (I) L. L. J., 291 (Bengal Bhatdee Coal Co., Ltd. vs. Ram Prabesh) and 1965 (I) L. L. J., 462=A. I R., 1965 S. C., 917 (Hind Construction and Engineering Co. Ltd., vs. their workmen). In the first case, it has been held, inter alia, that though in a case of proved misconduct, normally the imposition of penalty may be within the discretion of the management, there may be cases where the punishment of dismissal for misconduct proved may be so unconscionable or so grossly out of proportion to the nature of defence that the Tribunal may be able to draw an inference of victimisation merely from the punishment inflicted. Their Lordships of the Supreme Court had referred to the ruling reported in 1960 (II) L. L. J., 175= A. I R., 1960 Calcutta, 249 which I have referred to earlier. In the case reported in 1965 (I) L. L. J., 462 it has been laid down that there would be victimisation if the punishment was one which no reasonable employer would have imposed in the like circumstances and was out of proportion to the fault.

I shall now proceed to discuss the facts and circumstances and consider the alleged infirmities regarding the enquiry held against the three concerned workmen by the management. As I have mentioned above, it is not disputed that charge-sheets have been issued to the three concerned workmen by the management, that the concerned workmen had given their replies and that enquiries had been held on the dates mentioned above by the management. Chargesheets are Exts. A to A-2, the replies are Exts. B to B-2 and the notices of enquiry are Exts. C to C-2. The charge-sheets issued to the three concerned workmen are in similar terms and therefore, it would be sufficient to mention one of them. I shall mention the allegations made in Ext. A which was issued to Shri Himangshu Banerjee. It is stated therein that on 27th October 1964 and 28th October 1964, he in conjunction with others have been found acting in the following manner inside the factory :

(1) he raised slogans at about 3 p.m. and 11 a.m. respectively on the two dates demanding redress of the grievances immediately with a view to incite, instigate and raise feeling to indulge in riotous, disorderly and unconstitutional behaviour which culminated in strike.

(2) when asked not to do so, he, in conjunction with others, intimidated the management with dire consequences ;

(3) by the disorderly and riotous behaviour he has violated the code of standard discipline expected of his category of workmen ;

(4) it is also found (for which he has been verbally warned several occasions) that in collaboration with other co-workers of his section, he has been indulging in "go-slow" tactics with a deliberate move to defeat the purpose of production, which can be proved from his present and past performances.

The workmen were also suspensed with effect from 2nd November 1964. Ext. B, B-1 and B-2 show that the replies of the 3 concerned wokmen are in similar terms. It would be therefore sufficient to refer to Ext. B. The allegations have been denied and it is said that since the formation of the union, the management has been constantly attacking the union leaders and this is an unfair labour practice on the part of the management. So far as the dates of enquiry, it appears from Ext. C that Shri Himangshu Banerjee was to appear on 9th November 1964 in the factory office with his witnesses from inside the works who can depose in his favour. Ext. C-1 is the notice to Shri Bag directing him to appear on 13th November 1964 before the same enquiring officer and the notice is in similar terms. Ext. C-2 was issued to Shri Mazid directing him to appear on 26th November 1964 and the notice is in similar terms to Ext. C. It is undisputed that all the 3 workmen had appeared on the dates mentioned above. It is further undisputed that all the 3 charge-sheeted workmen were working as welders, under the management. It is also undisputed that some enquiry was held and the enquiring officer had submitted one joint report, in which he found the 3 concerned workmen to be guilty of the charges levelled agalnst them.

I shall now proceed to consider the infirmities regarding the enquiry to which my attention has been drawn by Shri Srimani. The first infirmity which he had submitted, was that the leading questions have been put to the concerned workmen by the enquiring officer Shri Bera and that the concerned workmen were examined at first before the evidence on behalf of the management was given. The enquiry proceeding (Ext. E) certainly shows that the concerned workmen had to answer various questions put by Shri Bera on 9th November 1964, 13th November 1964 and 26th November 1964. The enquiry proceedings further shows that the concerned workmen were examined before the enquiring officer before the witness for the management was examined. The only witness for the management was the factory Manager Shri Roy and he was examined on 9th November 1964 after the examination of Shri Himangshu Banerjee. Similarly on 13th November 1964 Shri Rangalal Bag was examined a first and thereafter Shri Roy was examined. So far as Shri Bag is concerned, the enquiring officer had permitted Shri Roy to put some questions in cross-examination to Shri Bag. Subsequently, on 23rd November 1964 certain other questions were put by the enquiring officer to Shri Bag. Certain further evidence was also given by Shri Roy. Subsequently, Shri Durga Das Mukherjee was examined as witness for Shri Bag. Similarly Shri Mazid was examined at first on 26th November 1964. Thereafter the factory manager Shri Roy was examined. Subsequently Shri Roy had put certain questions to Shri Mazid and Shri Mazid in his turn had put certain questions to Shri Roy. On behalf of Shri Mazid, Shri Baidya Nath Das was examined as witness. Shri K. K. Maitra appearing for the employer did not dispute that the enquiry proceeding itself discloses that the concerned workmen were examined at first before the witness for the management was examined to prove the charges levelled against the concerned workmen. He also did not dispute that certain leading questions had been put to the concerned workmen by the enquiring officer. He, however, submitted that there are really no infirmity as contended on behalf of the union. In this connection, Shri Maitra had referred me to the rulings reported in 1966 (12) F. L. R., 324 and 69 C. W. W., 864. In the first case, it was held that there is no hard and fast rule as regards the order in which the witnesses will have to be examined in the domestic enquiry and that if the workmen are examined first and then the management witnesses, there is nothing in this which would vitiate the proceedings. In the other case, it has been held that leading questions may be permitted to be asked in the domestic enquiry, or evidence may be collected by suggestive form of questioning, but a domestic Tibunal may yevaluate answers obtained by questions in the suggestive form. If the circumstances justify, a domestic Tribunal may not rely upon such answers, if it is of the view that but for that form of questioning, the answers given by the witness might have been otherwise. I do not think that it can be said that there are no infirmities. I would refer to the ruling reported in 1963 (II) L. L. J., 396= A. I. R., 1958 S. C. 130 (Associated Cement Co. Ltd., vs. their workmen). This case was followed in the ruling reported in 1966 (1) L. L. J., 498 (workmen of Madura Co., vs. Labour Court). It has been held that the employee should not, at the commencement of the enquiry, be closely cross-examined even before any evidence is led against him and that the employee is required to answer a charge and must know not only the accusation but also the testimony by which the accusation is supported. He must be given a fair chance to hear the evidence in support of the charges and put some relevant questions by way of cross-examination as he desires. Then he must be given a chance to rebut the evidence led against him. This is the barest requirement of an enquiry and this requirement must be substantially fulfilled before the result of the enquiry can be accepted. It was further observed that a departure from this requirement in effect throws the burden upon the person charged to repel the charge without first making it out against it. Shri Srimani had also referred to the ruling reported in 1963 (1) L. L. J., 797 (P. S. Leslie and Co. vs. Labour Court) in that case, it has been held that the enquiry cannot be regarded to be fair if leading questions have been put to get answers in support of the charge. In the report (Ext. F), the enquiry officer had not said anything regarding leading questions which he had put. His evidence also does not show whether he had taken into account or not the fact that he had asked leading question. I have therefore come to the conclusion that there is infirmity regarding the enquiry as contended by Shri Srimani on behalf of the union.

The next infirmity to which my attention has been drawn is that the enquiring officer had imported personal knowledge and was himself biased. I do not think that there is really reliable evidence in this regard. My attention has been drawn to the evidence of P. W. 1, who is the enquiring officer. The only thing that appears from the cross-examination is that O. P. W. 1 was present on the date of occurrence and had come to know of the raising of slogans of the very date. I do not think, this is sufficient reason for holding that P. W. 1 had imported his personal knowledge and was biased. The report (Ext. F) certainly does not show that the enquiring officer imported any personal knowledge before the came to the conclusion regarding the guilt of the three concerned workmen. Accordingly, I cannot agree with Shri Srimani that the enquiry must be regarded to be not fair on the ground of importation of personal knowledge and on the ground of bias on the part of the enquring officer.

The next infirmity which has been urged by Shri Srimani that Shri Himangshu Banerjee was not allowed to cross-examine the factory manager Shri Roy. It was suggested to P. W. 1 that he told them that 3 copies wee being pepared and copies would be sent to them later on, and the concerned workmen can give their replies thereafter. P. W 1 had denied that suggestion. O. P. W. 2 had said that the enquiring officer asked him to wait outside and told him that he would be given a copy of the recorded statement, that no copy of the enquiry proceeding was ever given to him. His further evidence is that he wanted to examine two witnesses, but he was not allowed to do so, and that subsequently he had written this letter (Ext. 2) but got no reply and that the enquiring officer did not allow him to put any question to the manager. Shri Maitra had pointed out that O. P. W. 2 had said in cross-examination that the enquiring officer was dictating to another per in Bengali and that the person who was writing heard what the enquiring officer had said and was then writing, and that the person who was writing was at a distance of 4/ from the enquiring officer, and he was at a distance of 3/ from the enqurring officer. The further evidence of O. P. W. 2 is that the enquiries were held on two dates and that on the second date, he was told that no copy would be given to him, and one copy would be sent to the Labour Office and two copies would be kept. O. P. W. 2 has admitted that it is not written in the letter (Ext. 2) that he was asked to go on the following day and no copy was made over to him by the enquiring officer on that day. O. P. W 2 further admits that he had signed every page of the enquiry proceedings. The enquiry proceedings shows that certain questions have been put by the enquiring officer to Shri Banerjee and Shri Banerjee stated that he did not want to examine any witness, even though the enquiring officer offered to examine the witnesses for Shri Banerjee on the next day. With regard to Ext. 2, it appears that Shri Banerjee wrote to the enquiring officer on 10th November 1964 that he had not been given any opportunity to defend himself, and his witnesses were not allowed to depose before the the enquiring officer. Nothing has been stated regarding the giving of the copy which the enquiring officer is alleged to have promised to give. It also appears that no specific question has been asked to P. W. 1 regarding the alleged refusal to examine to witnesses on behalf of the concerned workman Shri Banerjee. I have, therefore, come to the conclusion that the enquiry cannot be regarded to be unfair for the alleged refusal of the enquiring officer to examine two witnesses on behalf of Shri Banerjee and also regarding the alleged non-supply of the copy by the enquiring officer. As the enquiry was held in the presence of the concerned workmen, I do not think that there could be any occasion for giving a copy of the enquiry proceeding to Shri Banerjee. It may also be pointed out that the enquiring officer had permitted the other two workmen to examine witnesses of their behalf, and there is no substantial reason why the enquring officer did not permit the witnesses to be examined on behalf of Shri Banerjee.

The next infirmity relied on by Shri Srimani is that though separate enquiries appear to have been held against the three concerned workmen, there was only a joint report by the enquiring officer. It is undisputed that a joint report was submitted by the enquiring officer, but I do not think that the submission of a joint report in respect of the three separate enquries would invalidate the enquiry itself. The explanation of the enquiring officer is that as the charge and evidence are more or less the same against the three concerned workmen, he had submitted one joint enquiry report regarding the three separate enquiries. This is a possible explanation which can be accepted.

I shall now turn to discuss the merits of the case, as in view of the first infirmity which I had referred to, the matter had become open before me. Before me, the company did not examine Shri Roy who was examined at the time of the enquiry on the ground that Shri Roy is lying till. The evidence of P. W. 1 is that the works manager Shri Roy had been waylaid by certain workmen who had inflicted injury on him, and that he was in the hospital for some time and still now sick in his home and that, that occurrence had taken place on 13th April, 1966. I am not satisfied that the evidence of P. W. 1 shows that Shri Roy is not able to come to the Tribunal at all for the purpose of giving evidence. But even if it be supposed that Shri Roy is not physically fit to appear before the tribunal to give evidence, there is absolutely no reason why no other person has been examined on behalf of the management to give the evidence regarding the occurrence of 27th October 1964 and 28th October 1964 O. P. W. 2 Shri Banerjee had denied the allegations made in the chargesheet Now the first charge is in regard to raising of slogans on the two dates with a view to incite, instigate and raise feeling to indulge in riotous, disorderly and unconstitutional behaviour which culminated in strike. Regarding this, there is no evidence on behalf of the management. My attention has been drawn to 2 notices (Exts. I and 1-1), dated 27th October 1964 and 28th October 1964. These notices are on similar terms and shows that there had been strike on 27th October 1964 from 3 p.m. to 3-15 p.m. and on 28th October 1964 from 11 a.m. to 1-15 a.m. The alleged strike for 15 minutes on each day has got nothing to do with chargeNo.1 which relates to raising of slogans. Of course, it is said that raising of slogans at 3 p.m. and 11 a.m. culminated in strike. It is not said, however, that the strike itself was illegal and amounted to act of misconduct. If it had been so, there would have been a separate charge regarding the participation in a strike after the raising of slogans. Regarding the second issue, there is no evidence on behalf of the management as to who had asked at the time and who were intimidated with dire consequences. There is no evidence at all regarding issue No. 2. The evidence of the manager before the enquring officer appears to show that he had learnt the fact relating to charges 1 and 2 from the supervisor. Strangely enough, no supervisor has been examined. In the circumstances, I have come to the conclusion that there is also no evidence substantiating the charge No. 2. From what I have said regarding charges Nos. 1 and 2, it follows that the charge of violating the standard discipline on account of the allaged disorderly and riotuous behaviour, must also fail. As I understand Shri Maitra appearing for the employer, he did not urge that there is sufficient evidence before this Tribunal regarding charges Nos. 1, 2 and 3. Shri Maitra, however, had laid some stress regarding charge No. 4 and submitted that at least charge No. 4 must be regarded to have established. Charge No. 4 relates to the indulging in go-slow tactics with deliberate move to defeat the purpose of production. Shri Maitra had referred me to certain store issue books (Exts. 9 to 9-2). He had also filed certain job cards, but I cannot refer to them as they had not been proved. The store issue books relate to the issue of Electrodes for the purpose of working Shri Maitra had contended that because these workmen had indulged in go-slow tactics, the consumption of Electrodes had become very low. I do not think the charge of indulding in go-slow tactics can really be levelled against the concerned workmen without mentioning the period or time when a concerned workman had indulged in go-slow tactics. Nothing has been mentioned about the time and the period in the charge-sheets issued to the three concerned workmen. On this point, it appears from the evidence of P.W. 1 that at the time of enquiry, charts were made over to him together with the khatas, but he did not give any copy of the comparative chart to the workmen. It is the further evidence of P. W. 1 that except for slight variation, the amount of work remained the same throughout the year and that thelay-off was ordered because the work became less and no charge-sheet was issued to the concerned workman regarding low production. It is not disputed that certain workmen had been laid off on 24th August, 1964. It would also appear that regarding this matter, two concerned workmen and another were sent by the union for the prpose of discussion with the management on 18th September 1964 (Ext. 1B). Ext. 1A shows that objections had been raised o behalf of the workmen regarding layoff and other matters. Ext. 1 shows that Himanshu Banerjee protested in the lay-off of certain workmen with effect from 24th August 1964. Now, in this context, the issue No. 4 will have to be decided. There is nothing to show that in fact there had been low production as a result of go-slow tactics on or about 27th or 28th October 1964 On behalf of the management, comparative chart was prepared regarding the consumption of Electrods from 1963 up to October 1964p. I do not see why this comparative chart was at all preppared because as I have mentioned earlier, the period or time when these adopted go-slow tactics, has not been mentioned in the charge-sheet itself. It also appears to me that even if there was some variation regarding the consumption of Electrodes, it cannot be definitely said on the basis of evidence which has been adduced that the lower consumption of Electrodes was really due to the adoption of go-slow tactics by those workmen. The evidence of the Supervisor would have been very material, but the management had not examined any one of them. The management also did not issue any charge-sheet to the concerned workman for alleged low production It is undisputed that all the three workmen were working as welders in the company. I have therefore cometothe conclusion that the charge No. 4 mentioned in the charge-sheet has also not been established by the cogent and reliable evidence. The result therefore is that the dismissal of the three concerned workmen is found to be unjustified and the three concerned workmen are, therefore, entitled to be reinstated in service with full back wages for the period of forced unemployment.

I direct the company to reinstate in service the three concerned workmen with full back wages for the period of forced unemployment with continuity within one month of the publication ofthis award in the "Calcutta Gazette." This is my award.

Present for the Union : Shri Anil Das Chowdhury, Advocate and Shri Biswanath Ash, Advocate.

The issues for adjudication in this reference made by the Government of West Bengal in its Labour Department, order No. 3636-I.R./IR/11L-10(Pt)/62, dated 29th August 1963, arise out of an industrial dispute between Messrs.Mrinalini Biri Manufacturing Co. Subsequently, Murshidabad District Biri Workers Union was added as a party to the order of reference by order No. 24, dated 15th July 1965. That Union filed a statement and the Company a counter statement in reply to that. At the hearing all the three Unions took part. But none of them examined any witness or proved any document. The Company examined one witness and proved a number of documents.

3. It is not necessary to state the respective cases of the Company and the Unions in details. The Company has taken objection as to the jurisdiction of the Tribunal. It is said that the munshis or the workmen employed under them are not 'workmen' of the Company and, therefore, there is no industrial dispute that may be adjudicated upon by the Tribunal. The Tribunal will, therefore, go into that question first. If it is decided in favour of the Company, the issues are not to be decided on merits. Before a dispute can be said to be an industrial dispute between the employer and the workmen, the relationship should be established between the parties. It is not disputed that the 42 persons mentioned in the list attached to the order of reference came into relationship with the Company after executing agreements on same terms. The agreements are Exts. M Series. It is not also disputed that those 42 persons are employed as contractors to deliver rolled biris prepared with tobacco and leaves taken by them from the Company on the basis of the agreements. It is the case of the Unions that the persons, who make agreements with the Company, are their employees, whereas the case of the Company is that they are independent contractors in commercial relationship with the company in accordance with the terms of agreement. The question is whether these munshis are workmen of the Company. The first argument of the Union is that the decision on the question is concluded having been previously decided by another Tribunal between the parties, and is res judicata. The Union refers to the award of the Fourth Industrial Tribunal published in the "Calcutta Gazette" on 3rd February 1958. This award was challenged by the Companies of that reference before the Calcutta High Court by an application under Article 226 of the Constitution of India (vide Ext. 1). The Companies did not get any relief in that application under Article 226. It is to be decided whether the decision in that award is res judicata on the question as to whether the munshis in this reference are workmen of the Company. It appears from the award of the Fourth Industrial Tribunal, dated 3rd February 1958, that it was decided there that the so-called contractors as well as the workers whom they employ were all workmen employed in the business and were servant of those companies. But that is not a decision on any of the issues in that reference. It was a decision on a question incidental to that reference. The Company sought to get round this award saying that it had terminated it by a notice under section 19(2) of the Industrial Disputes Act. The notice is Ext J. It is dated 9th January 1963. This notice became effective as notice terminating the award after two months from the date of that notice. In any case, that notice terminated the award long before the present reference was made on 29th August 1963. The question of res judicata is not, however, removed by the termination of the award. The decisions on the issues of that award may be got round of by terminating the award pleading change of circumstances requiring fresh decisions on those issues. It has already been pointed out that the question whether these persons were or were not employees of these companies was decided incidentally in that award. So the Tribunal thinks that the Companies cannot get rid of the effect of res judicata on the ground of termination of the award. But it appears to the Tribunal that the said decision on that question is not res judicata here. The question of relationship between the Company and their workmen in that award was decided on the materials placed in that case. It is not proved that the deeds of agreement filed in that case were on the same lines as those filed in this case. Again, the facts proved in that case are quite different from the facts proved in this case. In that case Sri Jalaluddin Biswas, who was an employee of a company, stated that he supervised the work of the workers on behalf of the Company and that 100 to 200 men were working at the Sadar Karkhana. Here the evidence is that there is no Sadar Karkhana of the Company and that none supervises the work of workers on behalf of the Company. It was again proved in that case that payments were made by the Company to the workmen. It is not proved that terms and conditions of employment of munshis of that case are same as those of the munshis here. If so the case is otherwise. The Tribunal is of the opinion that the decision in that award, on the evidence in that case, is not res judicata on the same question, as facts in this case are quite different. The Tribunal will, therefore, have to examine the evidence in this case to see if "munshis" are workmen of this Company. The Company states that munshis are independent contractors whereas the Union says that they are servants of the Company. The difinition of an independent contractor and a servant is well known. An independent contractor is charged with a work and has to produce a particular result, but the manner in which the result has to be achieved is left to him. A servant may also be charged with a work and may be asked to produce a particular work, but it is subject to the direction of the master as to the result and manner in which it would be achieved. The agreements (all the agreements are on the same terms) are that a contractor will daily take from the Company tobacco, leaves, thread, etc, sufficient for the purpose of rolling 80,000 biris and will get biris rolled in his own house or factory under his own supervision and at "his" cost by the workman "appointed" by him and will charge from the Company Rs. 1.62 p. per thousand biris rolled and that he will each day deliver to the Company 39,500 manufactured biris. So it is seen that the contractor charged with work has to produce a particular result, but the manner in which the result is to be achieved is left to him. The Company did not say as to the manner in which the same result was to be achieved. Another term of contract was to deliver the manufactured biris to the Company at its office at his own cost and supervision. It was again provided in the contract that if it was detected that the biris did not contain the quantity of tobacco taken from the Company the contractor would have to pay the "price" for the quanitity of tobacco found short. It was also provided that the "value" of tobacco and leaves was to be paid if the quantity taken by them were not fully utilised in the manufacture of biris. It is seen that the Company had no say as to the place where the work was to be done, as to the number of workers that are to be employed, as to the qualification of the workmen to be employed, and the contractor was to take supply of materials for the manufacture of biris on condition that the quantity that would be found not used in the manufacture of biris was to be paid for by its price to the Company. It is quite clear from this that munshis were independent contractors and not servants of the Company. It is again in evidence that the Company invites tenders at the beginning of the year and contractors submit tender and they execute agreements on the tenders being accepted by the Company. Contracts are renewed from year to year. The Company has the option to refuse any tender without assigning any reasons therefor (Ext.A). It is also in evidence that these contractors do not do only one Company's work but also do work of other biri manufacturing companies at the same time. It cannot be said that such persons are servants of the Company. The learned representative for the Union relied on the case reported in 1964-II-L.L.J. page 633 and submitted that the instant case was in all fours with the facts of that case and the Tribunal should, on that decision, hold that the munshis are employees of the Company. A perusal of the case cited shows that the facts of that case were quite different from the facts of the present case. In the agreement in the case cited the significant terms were that at no time should more than 9 biri rollers work in the premises of the contractor and that the contractor should not enter into similar engagement with any other industrial concern. It was again proved in that case that the companies wrote to the Labour Officer agreeing to increase the wages of the workers and that the workers looked to the companies for redress in case of any grievances. It was again proved in that case that some of the contractors were ex-employees of the Company, were indigent and could hardly afford to have factories of their own. It was proved in that case that the Company took real hand in settling all matters relating to the workers. Here such evidence is wanting. On the other hand it is proved that these contractors not only do such work under this Company but also do such work under other biri selling companies. Here it is noticed that the Company did not impose any condition as to who should be employed to roll biris. What it insisted upon only was that the biris should be of the specification given by them and the quantity should not be less than 80,000. It was also provided that the contractors were to pay the price for tobacco and leaves if the quanitty taken by them were not fully used in making biris. Upon a consideration of those facts, the Tribunal is of the view that those munshis who executed agreements (Ext. M series) were not employees of the Company in 1369 B.S. That being so, this reference for adjudication of disputes between them and the Company is bad and cannot be adjudicated upon.

The next question is whether the persons employed under the munshis are workmen of the Company. This question should also be answered in the negative. Firstly, the issues state that they were employed under the munshis. A person employed under 'A' cannot be an employee of 'B' even though "A" may be an employee of "B". Even if the munshis were held to be employees of the Company then also the persons employed by the munshis could not have been employees of the Company. It is also noticed that the Company had no hand in the matter of employment and non-employment of workmen by the munshis. They did not say how many were to be employed, what should be the qualification of those persons and what should be their wages. It is difficult to see how a person can be said to be employer of another without his having any say in the matter of wages, hours and place of work or quantity of work required to be done by him. The learned representative for the Union argued that the order of reference had been loosely drafted and the Tribunal should give a reasonable interpretation to it, holding that the workmen working under the munshis were employed "through" them by the Company. This is that they stated in their written statement filed in this case. But this is clearly contrary of their own tenders (Ext. B series), in response to Ext. A. In those tenders they stated that they had a number of biri rollers "under" them. Such workmen were not certainly employees of the Company. It was contended that the biri rollers working under the Munshis were getting wages fixed by the Government under the Minimum Wages Act and, therefore, it should be held that they were employees of the Company. This argument is unsound. Wages fixed by Government are to be paid to that category of employees whoever employs them. It may be noticed that in no agreement the Company said anything about wages of the biri rollers. The Tribunal holds that the question referred to in issue No. 1 is not an industrial dispute either between the Company and the munshis or between the Company and the employees employed under the munshis. The issue is accordingly decided.

The learned representative for the Union argued that the question as to whether the munshis were employee of the Company no longer requires any decision in view of the fact that the Beedi and Cigar Workers (Conditions of Employment) Bill, 1965, have been enacted and that the same had provided that the contractors were employees of the Company. This contention the Tribunal finds untenable, firstly, because it could not be shown that the said Bill had been made into Act and secondly, that Bill, if it had been made into an Act on the same terms, did not provide that the contractors would be employers' workmen.

It has also been pointed out that the question as to the relationship between the Company and the munshis and between the Company and the persons employed by the munshis is pending for determination by the Court of Enquiry, appointed by the Government of West Bengal under Labour Department order No. 4522-I.R./IR/11L-408/63, dated 6th November 1963. The Court of Enquiry had not yet made its report. This reference was made before the constitution of the Court of Enquiry. That being so, there is no bar in the way of this Tribunal to decide the issues as referred to it.

Had the Tribunal come to a finding that the munshis were employees of the Company then the question would have arisen whether their employment had been terminated by the Company and, if so, whether such termination was justified. It appears that the Company terminated the contract of 4 of those munshis by Ext.H series and that they gave notices to some other munshis to show cause why the contracts would not be terminated. Some of the Munshis showed cause and some did not. Thereafter no letter was issued by the Company cancelling the agreements. But the fact remains that the contractors had not any dealing with the Company after that on the basis of agreements. It is quite clear that there has been no termination of employment in accordance with the Model Standing Orders applicable to the present Company as it is not proved that there is any Standing Orders of the Company. In that case the Tribunal would have held that the termination of employment of the munshis was not just. But it should be noticed that the employment of the munshis was for one year only, i.e., 1369 B.S. So there cannot be any question of their reinstatement now that 1369 B.S. has already passed. The question may be of payment of compensation from the date of termination and the compensation would have been on the basis of average of monthly payment to them. That according to the written statement of the Union was Rs. 50 to Rs. 80 per month (see para. 5 of the written statement of the Union).

As to the workmen employed by the munshis, if they were held to be employees of the Company, it should have been held that there was no valid termination. But that question would not have arisen as none came to say that any of those workmen was dismissed by the Company or was asked not to work for the Company. The Tribunal would have held that there was no termination of employment of workmen employed by the munshis.

Issue No. 2. This relates to the claim of Bonus of the workmen employed by the Company payable in 1962. As it has been held that neither the munshis nor the workers under them are workmen as defined in the Industrial Disputes Act, the claim of bonus of those persons cannot be a subject-matter of adjudication by this Tribunal in this reference.

In the result the Tribunal decides that there is no industrial dispute, in regard to any of the two issues, that can be adjudicated upon, and awards accordingly.

In the matter of an industrial dispute existing between Messrs. Associated Electrical Industries Manufacturing Co. (Private) Ltd., 1 Taratalla Road, Calcutta-24 and their workmen employed in the Administrative Office represented by the Associated Electrical Industries Mfg. Co. Staff Union, 3/1 Manasatala Lane, Calcutta-23. (Case No. 247 of 1964).

BEFORE THE FIFTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL.

Present :

Shri A. K. DE, District Judge,
Presiding Officer,
Fifth Industrial Tribunal.

Present for the Company : Shri J. N. Chatterji, Legal Adviser of Indian Engineering Association.

Present for the Union : Shri Jagannath Pandey, an Officer of the Union.

This is a reference made by the Government of West Bengal, in its Labour Department, order No. 3923-IR/IR/10L-117(B)/63, dated 1st September 1964, for adjudication under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Associated Electrical Industries Manfuacturing Co. (P) Ltd., hereinafter called the Company No. 1, and their workmen employed in the Administrative Office represented by Associated Electrical Industries Mfg. Co. Staff Union, hereinafter called the Union. During the pendency of the proceeding the Union made a prayer for summoning Messrs. Associated Electrical Industries (India) Private Ltd., hereinafter called the Company No. 2 stating that the Company No. 1 had vested in Co. No. 2 by virtue of a scheme of amalgamation approved by the High Court on and from 1st Nomember 1965. On that prayer being granted the Company No. 2 was given due notice of the proceeding and it entered appearance on 30th March 1966. The Company No.2 did not file any statement. At the hearing the Company No. 2 remained present but did not directly participate in it. The Company No. 1 filed statement, examined witnesses and submitted arguments.

2. The facts leading to this reference will be briefly stated :

There were two companies, viz., Associated Electrical Industries (India) Private Ltd. and Associated Electrical Industries Manufacturing Co. (P) Ltd. Shares of the latter Company were wholly owned by the former Company. The Manufacturing Company manufactures goods. The other company arranges for sale of those at a price fixed by it. Profits earned by the goods manufacturing Company and sold by the other Company were shared between the two companies. The Manufacturing Company, i.e., the Company No. 1, has its factory and office at 1 Taratalla Road, Calcutta. The workmen employed in that Company are employees of both the companies. The Company No. 1 has about 310 workmen in its factory and office at 1 Taratalla Road. Some disputes arising between the Company No. 1 and its workmen were adjudicated upon by a Tribunal presiied over by Shri Nagesh Chandra Chakravorty in 1947. The said Tribunal by its award fixed all the terms and conditions of employment for all categories of workmen including the clerical staff, the subordinate staff and the supervisory staff. The Company, however, did not give benefits of that award to the clerical, the subordinate and the supervisory staff employed at 1 Taratalla Road on the plea that their cases were not for adjudication by that Tribunal. These clerical staff, the subordinate staff and the supervisory staff employed at 1 Taratalla Road continued to be governed by the conditions laid down in the Company No. 1's Routine Letters No. 22A and 22B. The same Routine Letters also governed the conditions of service of the clerical, the subordinate and the supervisory staff employed at the office of the Company No. 2. This is evident from the award published in the "Calcutta Gazette" under order No. 2813-Lab., dated 10th June 1949. Till the publication of the the award of the First Omnibus Engineering Tribunal in 1948, the clerical staff, the subordinate staff and the supervisory staff employed at 1 Taratalla Road and in the office of the Company No. 2 were being governed by, and were subject to the same conditions and rules. But with the publication of the award of the First Omnibus Engineering Tribunal in 1948 the Company proceeded to curtail the existing facilities of those employees at 1 Taratalla Road. Though the Company proceeded on the footing that those employees were covered by the award of the First Omnibus Engineering Tribunal, published in 1948, yet when the award of the Second Omnibus Engineering Tribunal came into force in 1950 its benefits were not extended to them. This led the workmen to have the following reference made by the Government. It is stated that the wage scales of the workmen employed at 1 Taratalla Road were fixed as early as 1938 and had continued without change since then; that there is no regular system of grades and scales of pay; that some workmen have not received any increment for years ; that in other similar establishments, for similar employments there are in existence higher grades and scales of pay; that the basic pay in this Company is far too low by any standard; that the Tribunal should direct fixation of grades and scales of pay of various categories of workmen employed in the office. It is further stated that all the employees at 1 Taratalla Road should be paid dearness allowance at a uniform rate; that at present there are different rates of dearness allowance for different categories and that should be abolished; that casual leave and sick leave for employees should be fixed; that the working hours should be uniform and fixed and that the workmen should get gratuity benefits.

3. The Company No.1 in its statement stated that the reference is bad inasmuch as the Company has no establishment, as Administrative Office, at 1 Taratalla Road and, therefore, a dispute in respect of the workmen employed at Administrative Office cannot be a subject-matter for adjudication. It is stated that the Company No. 1 and Company No. 2 are two different and separate entities having been separately registered under the Indian Companies Act with own Board of of Directors to manage and control; that the Company No. 2 is a Commercial Organisation with various activities including selling agency of Company No. 1; that the Company Nos. 1 is a manufacturing Company only and manufactures its own products; that the Company No. 1 has no activity other than manufacturing its own products and that its own Board of Directors formulates its policy and controls the organisation; that the Company No. 1 has its registered office at 13 Rajendra Nath Mukherjee Road and its factory at at 1 Taratala Road, Calcutta; that there are three buildings where manufacturing processes are carried out, and there is one building which houses the factory general office at 1 Taratala Road; that the factory and the office are located at the same place and is one establishment; that it is wrong that the profits of the Company No. 1 are shared by the Company No. 2 or that the employees of the Company No. 1 are employees of both the companies Nos. 1 and 2; that the Company No. 1 has no Administrative Office at 1 Taratala Road. It is stated that the Company has fully implemented the awards of Tribunals; that prior to the First Engineering Award of 1948, the employees of the Company, including clerical staff, draftsmen and subordinate staff, irrespective of their place of work, whether at 13 Rajendra Nath Mukherjee Road or at 1 Taratala Road, were governed by the Company's Routine Letter No. 22B; that the uncovenanted engineers, foreman and other uncovenanted officers were governed by the Company's Routine Letter No. 22A; that the service conditions of employees governed by Routine Letter No. 22B had to be modified, whenever necessary, to implement major awards; that the Company No. 1 is a manufacturing company governed by the awards of Major Engineering Tribunals, and that the Company No. 2 being only a Commercial firm is governed by the Mercantile Tribunal Awards. The Company denied that it curtailed any existing facilities of the employees after the awards or that it failed to extend the benefits of the awards to any workman. The Company further stated that the supervisors are not workmen and, as such, there cannot be any adjudication regarding fixation of grades and scales of pay of the supervisory staff. It is also stated that the Company has already grades and scales of pay in existence and there is no question of any adjudication in regard to that. The further statement of the Company is that the Company has fully implemented the awards of the Omnibus Engineering Tribunal in regard to grades and scales of pay and that the workmen of Company No. 1 cannot say that grades and scales of pay prevailing in Company No. 2 are applicable to them, and that the grades and scales of pay of this Company are fair and are in line with what prevails in the industry in the region, and that no case for revision of those is warranted.

4. As to the demand for fixation of uniform dearness allowance for different categories of workmen, it is said that the Company has categorised the monthly-rated employees, irrespective of their places of work, into two broad classes in consideration of the nature of work and responsibility and that dearness allowance payable to each category must, of its very nature, be different. It is stated that in the award of the Tribunal published in the "Calcutta Gazette, Extraordi nary", dated 21st September 1950, the dearness allowance of the clerks and the manual workers employed by the Company was determined, and that the employees who are governed by the Company's Routine Letter No. 22B are the beneficaries under the said award. It is also stated that dearness allowance is now being paid in strict accordance with the Major Engineering Tribunal Award and, as such, the question of any change therein does not arise. It is further stated that the D.A. paid by this Company to its employees conforms to the pattern prevailing in other industries in the neighbourhood.

5. Regarding casual leave and sick leave for all employees, it is stated that the Company allows 7 days' casual leave and 15 days' sick leave on half pay till the provisions of the E.S.I. Act came into force, in accordance with the awards of the Major Engineering Tribunals. It is said that with the enforcement of the provisions of the E.S.I. Act sick leave is regulated according to the rules framed thereunder.

6. As to working hours for employees, it is said that the Company has all along employed monthly-rated clerks and subordinate staff either on the basis of 38 hours a week of 48 hours a week depending upon the nature of work performed by them. It is said that all employees are employed for 38 hours a week excepting those who are required to be present for the purpose of manufacturing processes at the factory, and they only are required to work 48 hours a week. It is further stated that when an employee, who works for 38 hours a week, is required to work for 48 hours a week for exigencies of work in connection with manufacturing processes, he is given extra emolument.

7. Regarding the demand for gratuity, it is said that the Company is covered by the provisions of the Provident Fund Act of 1952, and that the retiral benefit given to the employees in the industry in the region is by way of Provident Fund only, and that the Company's financial position is neither stable nor can bear the burden of the introduction of payment of any gratuity in addition to Provident Fund.

8. The issues referred to this Tribunal for adjudication are as follows:—

(1) Grades and scales of pay for the Supervisors, Clerical and Sub-staff.

(2) Fixation of uniform rate of dearness allowance for the different categories of employees.

(3) Casual and sick leave for all employees.

(4) Working hours for all employees.

(5) Gratuity.

9. This reference is about claims of the clerical staff, subordinate staff and the supervisory staff in the Office of the Company at 1 Taratala Road. It is not disputed that the Company No. 1 has a factory at the same address. The Union's case is that there are clerical staff, subordinate staff and supervisory staff, both at the factory and at the office at 1 Taratala Road. It is also their case that the claim of the staff in the factory had been adjudicated upon several times by several Tribunals, but that the claim of the staff in the office had not been decided by any of those Tribunals and is, therefore, to be decided here.

10. The Company in reply states that the entire body of workmen, whether employed at the factory or at the office at 1 Taratala Road are governed by the previous awards and there is no necessity for further adjudication as it is not a claim for revision of the decisions of those awards. It is said that there is nothing like Administrative Office at Taratala Road, but that it is an office of the factory. The Union stated that the office is a mercantile office and the factory is an engineering concern. It is said that the present claim has to be considered with reference to the award of the Mercantile Tribunals and with reference to other mercantile firms in the locality. The Company in reply states that the office and the factory being one unit, is an engineering concern, and that the claim made in this case has to be decided with reference to the award of the Major Engineering Tribunal. The last (Third) Major Engineering Tribunal Award was published on 15th October 1958. There was subsequent reference to this Tribunal on the issue as to whether the workmen employed in the Administrative Office of the Company No. 1 are covered by the award of the Third Major Engineering Tribunal Award, dated 15th October 1958. This Tribunal by its award, Ext. 1, answered the issue in the negative. An attempt to set aside the award failed before the Supreme Court (vide Ext. 2). The fact is that the workmen in the Administrative Office of Company No. 1 can rightly say that they are not covered by the award of the Third Major Engineering Tribunal. The decision in Ext. 1 proceeded on the footing that these workmen in the Administrative Office are not covered by that award as they were not parties to it. That award, however, did not decide that these workmen are employees in a mercantile concern. That Tribunal also did not decide whether or not the workmen in the office and those in the factory would be governed by different considerations in the matter of wages, etc. So the net position is that the claim of the workmen in this reference cannot but be governed either by the award of the Engineering Tribunal or by the award of the Mercantile Tribunal. But the claims have to be decided.

11. The first contention of the Union is that the office employees of Company No. 1 and those of Company No. 2 are governed by and are subject to same conditions and rules, and that therefore the terms of the memorandum of settlement between the Union and the Company No. 2 in Ext. 42, dated 1st January 1961, should be made applicable to them. The Union seeks support of their contention by saying that the Company No. 1 and the Company No. 2 have since amalgamated and have become one. It is noticed that during the pendency of this proceeding, i.e., from 1st November 1965, the Company No. 1 has merged into Company No. 2. But that does not mean that the terms and conditions of service of the employees of Company No. 2 are to be applicable to the employees of Company No. 1. It is incorrect to say that the terms and conditions of employees of Company No. 2 were at any time before same as those of the employees of the Company No. 1. The were two different companies all along. The Company No. 2 was a mercantile concern. It had no manufacturing work. The work of Company No. 1 was manufacturing. It had no trading business. It is not proved by any evidence that the terms and conditions of employees of these two companies were the same and were governed by the same set of rules. The Tribunal, therefore, rejects the contention of the Union that the issues in this reference should be answered in terms of the memorandum of settlement, Ext. 2.

12. The Company stated that the clerical staff, subordinate staff and the supervisory staff, whether working in the factory or in the office attached to the factory, were all along governed by the same set of rules and, therefore, the decisions in the awards relating to those staff in the factory should be held applicable to the employees in the office of the factory. The Company refers to Routine Letter Nos. 22A and 22B to show that [vide Exts. A, A(1) and C and C(1)]. The Union, however, states that these staff in the factory have conditions of service different from those staff in the office. P.W. 1 Saroj, Secretary of the Union, stated that the workmen in the factory are hourly-paid, get incentive bonus, and that those in the office are monthly-paid and do not get incentive bonus. He stated that factory workmen do not get any casual leave, whereas those in the office get casual leave. But in cross-examination he admitted that the difference in conditions of service he spoke of was the difference in the service conditions of "operatives" of the factory and "clerks and supervisors" in the office. He admitted also that the wages of clerks and supervisors differ from those of the factory operatives. It is not unusual that the wage scales, hours of work, leave conditions and other conditions of service of different categories of employees in the same establishment are different. Those are governed by different considerations. O.P.W. 2 Shri S. K. Bose, Personnel Officer of Company No. 1 stated that they had one factory and one general office at 1 Taratala Road and that the general office is treated as part of the factory. He stated that there are clerks and sub-staff, both in the factory and in the office, and that the staff there are classified as 22A staff and 22B staff. The Tribunal, on a consideration of the evidence, is satisfied that the clerical staff and the supervisory staff, whether working in the factory or in the office, are employees of the same establishment, and not of different establishments. It cannot be said that the same category of staff in the factory are employees of the engineering concern, whereas those in the office are employees of mercantile firm. In view of the decision made above, the Tribunal will proceed to consider the issues separately, one by one.

Issue No. 1. Grades and scales of pay for the supervisors, clerical and sub-staff.

The Union's case is that the wage scales of the workmen in the office were fixed as early as in 1938 and these should be changed to fit in with the present circumstances. The Union claims that their grades and scales should be so fixed as to agree with those in Company No. 2. This claim cannot be granted. Firstly, the grades and scales of pay in Company No. 2 are grades and scales of pay of a mercantile firm. Wage scales and grades in a manufacturing concern cannot be the same as those in a mercantile concern. It has been already held that the staff employed in the office at 1 Taratala Road are not employees of mercantile firm. They, in fact, work in a factory as their work is intimately connected with and solely dependant on the work of the factory which is one office in one enclosure. True, it has been held in the awards, Exts, 1 and 2, that the award of the Third Major Engineering Tribunal is not applicable to these employees. But the decision there proceeded on the footing that these employees are not covered by that award because they were not parties to that. In fact, it was not decided in these awards whether or not there is any office "outside" the factory at 1 Taratala Road, or whether the office there is a part of the factory. Here, on the evidence that has been given, there is little doubt that the office at 1 Taratala Road is but a part of the factory situated there. The fact that some of the employees there are clerks, does not prove that they are not employed in the factory, i.e., in connection with factory work. There is hardly any evidence to justify a conclusion that the employees in the office at 1 Taratala Road are employees of a trading unit. The evidence is that the factory manufactures goods and those are sold through Company No. 2. It has not been proved that any trading is done or carried on from this office. The Tribunal decides that the Union cannot claim to have the same grades and scales of pay as are applicable to the Company No. 2 which is a mercantile firm. The Agreement, Ext. 42, was entered into between the Company No. 2 and their employees. Had the said Union represented the employees at 1 Taratala Road also that agreement would have mentioned that fact. The Union relied on the memorandum of settlement, Ext. 45, between Messrs. Stewart Lloyds Ltd. and the Union, Stewart Lloyds Ltd. Employees Union, to show that the settlement covered not only the employees of the office but also of the factory. But that is not so. A reading of the document clearly shows that a clear distinction was made between the Head Office staff and the factory staff of the company. Paragraph 5 (iv) provided that grades and scales of pay for all monthly-rated staff at the Head Office and the works would be as stated in Appendix A. There, the parties agreed that there should be one uniform scale of pay for the monthly-rated staff at the factory and for those in the office. Had the monthly-rated staff at the factory and Head Office been employees of the same category, then there would not have been separate mention of Head Office and factory staff. By agreement anything may be done. The Tribunal, on a consideration of the documents decides that the grades and scales of pay of these employees at 1 Taratala Road should be those in a manufacturing concern, i.e., in the engineering unit. The Tribunal does not think that on the evidence it is necessary to say that the grades and scales as decided for the monthly-rated staff in the award of the Third Major Engineering Tribunal require any revision at present. Such revision will have repercussion on the other units in the region. Besides, there are not enough materials to say that the said scales require at present any upward revision. The Tribunal decides that the grades and scales of pay of the clerical staff, supervisory staff and subordinate staff of this Company No. 1 at 1 Taratala Road should be the same as awarded by the Third Major Engineering Tribunal. But any revision made in said scales of pay by the company subsequent to that award to the benefit of the workmen should stand.

14. The Union has placed their charter of demands given from time to time. One given in 1956 is Ext. 8, that given in 1957 is Ext. 7, that given in 1960 is Ext. 3 and that given in 1962 is Ext 6. It is noticed that after the award was made by the Third Major Engineering Tribunal the Company called upon the monthly-rated employees to opt either to the Company's scales or to the awarded scales. The evidence is that they did not exercise their option. The evidence further is that later they intimated the Labour Commissioner that they would prefer to have the Company's scales. A comparative chart of the scales of pay as awarded by the Tribunal on 30th June 1948, and the Company's scales of pay may be seen in Ext. 50. It appears from the letter Ext. I written by the Deputy Labour Commissioner to the Company No. 1, that the Union informed him that all monthly-rated employees covered by Routine Letter No. 22B would prefer to continue on the Company's existing grades and scales of pay to those awarded by the Third Major Engineering Tribunal. The Company's letter, Ext. J, dated 17th December 1959, may be looked into in this connection. This is quite clear from these correspondences that these employees were in two minds as to whether they would accept the awarded scales of the Third Major Engineering Tribunal or the Company's scales of pay. It is noticed in many cases that the Company's scales were better in some respects. The Tribunal decides that the grades and scales of pay of the staff, whose demands are now before this Tribunal, at the instance of the Union, should be as in the award of the Third Major Engineering Tribunal or the Company's scales of pay whichever is better and more beneficial to the employees. This should also be noted that any revision in the scales of pay or alteration in the grades, if any made by the Company, after that award of the Third Major Engineering Tribunal and if beneficial to the employees should continue and be left untouched by this award. The issue is accordingly decided.

Fixation of uniform rate of dearness allowance for the different categories of employees.

15. This issue raises a short question. At present the supervisory staff get B.C.C.I. rate of dearness allowance whereas the clerical staff do not get it. The Union's claim is that both the clerical staff and the supervisory staff should get B.C.C.I rate of dearness allowance. The Company's case is that they are giving B.C.C.I scales of D.A. to the supervisory staff and, the clerical staff are getting D.A. in accordance with the award of the Third Major Engineering Tribunal, revised upward in terms of the D.I. Rules Notification (Ext. K). The question is whether the Company should be asked to pay D.A. at the B.C.C.I. rate to the clerks also. To make out a case of discrimination the Union states that some of the clerks, taken to the supervisory category, are getting dearness allowance at B.C.C.I. rates though they are doing the same work as before. It is again said that some members of the supervisory staff are drawing salary lower than that of the clerks but are getting higher rate of dearness allowance. Be it noted that the B.C.C.I. rate of dearness allowance is higher than that in the Third Engineering Tribunal Award. It is in evidence that employees of the Company are divided into two categories,—one category is governed by Routine Letter No. 22A and the other by Routine Letter No. 22B. It is not disputed that the service conditions of the employees of these two categories are not in all respect the same. Dearness allowance depends on two factors, viz (1) capacity of the particular industrial unit to pay and (2) it corresponds to the rise in the cost of living index. D.A. must not be granted such as to fully neutralise the rise in the cost of living index. Taking into consideration all this, the Third Major Engineering Tribunal gave its award about dearness allowance. That has been further revised by D.I.R. Notification, Ext K. The Tribunal thinks that it would be proper to direct the Company to pay B.C.C.I. scales of D.A. to the supervisory staff under Routing Letter No. 22B as claimed by the Union. Shri S. K. Bose, O.P.W. 2, stated that 22A staff are supervisory and highly technical staff and their duties are different from those of the 22B staff. He tries to justify this difference in the payment of D.A. to the 22A staff and 22B staff on that ground. His evidence further is that B.C.C.I scale was introduced in February/March 1948, and there was a slab system for payment of D.A. before 1947. He stated that no change in the dearness allowance of 22B staff was made when the B.C.C.I. scheme was adopted, as they were covered by the award of 1947. Shri S. K. Bose further stated that there was no uniform rate of dearness allowance to all workmen before 1947. Clerks and supervisory staff are middle class people. Dearness allowance everywhere is given on the wages of one "class" of people irrespective of their nature of work. That is so in the matter of payment of D.A. to Government employees. Considering these, the Tribunal is of the view that it would be proper to direct that all clerks and 22A staff should get D.A. at same rate, i.e., B.C.C.I. rate of D.A. on middle class cost of living index. The present system of payment of D.A. to the clerks should be charged accordingly.

Issue No. 3. Casual and sick leave for all employees.

16. It has been stated that some of the staff are governed by Routine Letter No. 22B and some by Routine Letter No. 22A. Those governed by Routine Letter No. 22B were getting 10 days' casual leave on full pay and sick leave on full pay for any period at the discretion of the management. It is said that the Company had reduced the period of casual leave of 22B staff to 7 days and that of the sick leave to 15 days on half-pay. The Union claims that all the staff should get 15 days casual leave on full pay and sick leave on full pay for any period that may be necessary. The Company opposing the prayer stated that the Company granted 7 days' casual leave on full pay and 15 days' sick leave on half-pay till the provisions of the Employees' State Insurance became applicable. It is also stated that since after the introduction of that Act sick leave is being regulated according to the rules framed under that Act. It is said that no revision in this respect is called for or necessary. Under section 11 of the West Bengal Shops and Establishments Act a person employed in an establishment gets every year casual leave on full pay for 10 days and sick leave on half pay on medical certificate. The employees in this Company are enjoying casual leave and sick leave which are not different from those allowable under the West Bengal Shops and Establishments Act. Saroj, P.W. 1, stated that employees governed by Routine Letter No. 22A get 10 days' casual leave in a year and those governed by Routine Letter No. 22B get 7 days' casual leave in a year. He stated that both 22A and 22B staff were previously getting 15 days' sick leave on full pay, and that at present 22A staff are getting 15 days' sick leave on full pay and 22B staff are getting 15 days' sick leave on half pay. O.P.W. 2 Shri S. K. Bose stated that 22B staff are governed by 1948 Award about casual leave and sick leave, and that 22A staff get 10 days' casual leave, and sick leave at the discretion of the Manager. He also stated that when the 22B staff went under the E.S.I. Act, they began to be governed by the provisions of that Act. The Union did not prove that the period of casual leave or sick leave in any other office of similar status and work was more than what the staff are at present enjoying. The Agreement, Ext. 45, of Messrs. Stewart Lloyds of India Ltd., does not have any clause regarding casual leave or sick leave. Even the award of the Tribunal of 1949, dated 10th June 1949, in the matter of an industrial dispute between Company No. 2 and their employees, the period of casual leave was 10 days and sick leave at the discretion of the Company, without any mention as to whether it would be on full pay or half pay. It appears from Ext. A series that the Company provided for 10 days' casual leave in a year for the staff governed by Routine Letter No. 22A and Routine Letter No. 22B. The Company now has gone back on its own Routine Letter saying in para. 32 of its written statement that leave facilities were standardised by the Major Engineering Tribunal Award of 1948 and 1950, and that they had implemented those awards in respect of workmen governed by Routine Letter No. 22B. The Company oppose any revision of those awards in this respect. The question is, whether those awards still should govern. It has already been held that these workers are not covered by any Engineering Tribunal Awards—at least it is quite clear that all the provisions of those awards were not extended to those employees by the Company in the past. That being so, the Tribunal decides that all the employees who are parties in this reference, should get 10 days' casual leave on full pay in a year. The Tribunal also decides that they should get 15 days' sick leave on half pay in a year on proper medical certificates. But if period of sick leave or wages during sick leave are better under E.S.I. Act, those, and not this award would be applicable. The Tribunal decides the issue accordingly. Incidentally it may be pointed out that at the time when the 1948 Award of the Omnibus Engineering Tribunal was made, clerks in Government Offices were getting 7 days' casual leave. Government has now changed it to 14 days' casual leave in a year. Therefore, there is hardly any justification for the company to grant 7 days' casual leave to some of their staff relying on that award. In that award the Tribunal granted 15 days' sick leave on half pay in a year to the clerical staff. That is, what is being awarded in this reference.

17. Issue No. 4. Working Hours for all employees.

The Union's case is that there are about 310 workmen employed in and through the Administrative Office. They enjoyed 38 hours' work a week till 1953. It is further stated that the Company started recruiting workmen thereafter allotting them 48 hours' work in a week. It is further stated that the Company has made some of the workmen, previously working 38 hours, work 48 hours a week. The Union says that working hours of all workmen should be 38 hours a week and that it should conform with the working hours of other Merchantile offices and Administrative Offices of other Companies in the locality. The Company's reply on this issue is that the Company has all along employed monthly-rated workmen either on the basis of 38 hours a week or 48 hours a week, depending upon the nature of work to be performed by them. The Company further stated that those who are employed in the manufacturing work or are required to be present during factory hours are to work for 48 hours a week, and that others work 38 hours a week. It is also stated that if an employee who has been working 38 hours a week is required to work 48 hours a week, he is paid extra emoluments for the extra hours of work. The Company further stated that as the Union has asked for uniform working hours, this may be 48 hours a week for all employees as the Company has been declared an 'essential service'. It is in evidence that some of the staff employed in the office have to remain present during the factory hours. Working hours in a factory are 48 hours a week. It is those staff, whose work is linked with the work of the factory, who are to work 48 hours a week. The others work 38 hours a week. Those appointed for 38 hours' work a week are paid extra emolument when they are required to work 48 hours a week. That being so, there is hardly any consideration for any revision in this respect. Working hours of adults in a factory are 48 hours a week. So those staff whose work is linked with the work of the factory, have to work 48 hours a week. It is not proved that the office of the factory of Company No. 1 is a Commercial establishment. To ask for 38 hours' work in a week for all employees on the footing that it was a Commercial establishment cannot, therefore, be entertained. It is of no relevance as to what are the working hours per week in other mercantile firms or offices which are not linked with factory. But it should be made clear that the Company should not change the working hours of any employee, who has been working on 38 hours per week basis, without his consent. The staff, who has been working on 48 hours a week basis, should work for those hours. The Tribunal does not think it called for to revise their working hours. The prevailing system of paying overtime wages to workers, who were previously working on the basis of 38 hours a week and now asked to work for 48 hours a week should continue if any of them be required to work in connection with the factory work. The Tribunal decides the issue accordingly. Hours of work, whether under the Indian Establishment Act, 1963, are 48 in a week. (See Establishment Act 1963 are 48 in a week. (See section 51 of the Indian Factories Act, and section 7(2) of the other Act). It should be made clear that only those of the staff who would work in the factory or would supervise work in the factory can only be put on 48 hours' work a week. If there be any employee, who has nothing to do with the factory work or supervision there, he should have 38 hours work in a week. The Tribunal decides the issue as indicated above.

Issue No. 5—Gratuity

18. It is stated that there is Provident Fund Scheme for all workmen iin the Company. The Union states that the existing Provident Fund is inadequate and that the financial position of the Company is sound and stable and, therefore, a gratuity scheme should be introduced. The Company stated that the Company's financial position does not warrant introduction of any gratuity scheme in addition to Provident Fund. Hardly any evidence was given to prove the financial ability or soundness of the Company to start a Gratuity Scheme at this stage. Three Balance Sheets and Profit and Loss Accounts for the years 1949, 1955 and 1963 have been filed by the Company. These are Exts. E(1) and E(2). Upon a consideration of these documents the Tribunal does not think that any gratuity scheme should be introduced. The Tribunal rejects this claim.

In the result, the Tribunal answers the issue as in preceding paragraphs and awards accordingly. This award shall take effect from this date.

AWARD

By order No. 345-IR/LW/11L-20/62, dated the 1st February 1962, the Government of West Bengal, in the Labour Department, referred under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Janata Textile Mills, 1 Garagacha Road (Off Hide Road), Kidderpore, Calcutta, and their workmen represented by the Hide Road Textile Mazdoor Union, 1/1 Garden Reach Road, Calcutta-24, regarding the matter specified in the schedule to the Third Industrial Tribunal, constituted under section 7A of the Industrial Disputes Act, by notification No. 808-IR/IR/3A-2/57, dated the 11th March 1957, for adjudication.

Issue

Bonus payable in 1961.

On receipt of the order of reference usual notices were served upon the parties and they appeared and filed their respective written statements.

In the written statement filed on behalf of the Hide Road Textile Mazdoor Union (hereinafter referred in this award as the union), it has been alleged that the Janata Textile Mills is a very prosperous power loom factory producing cotton textile fabrics and has a very good and secured market. It has 16 looms in operation and has made substantial profit in 1962. On behalf of the workmen, the union demanded 3 months' full wages as bonus to all the workmen on the roll of the company for the year 1960 payable in 1961, but the company refused to concede to this demand for bonus. The matter was thereafter taken up by the Labour Directorate at the instance of the union but even there the company refused to pay any bonus for the year in question to its workers. The Government thereafter referred the dispute of bonus payable in the year 1961 for adjudication. The union contends that wages paid to the workers are below the living wages and the company had in the year in question available surplus out of which bonus equivalent to three months' full wages can be paid to the workers and prays for an award for bonus at the rate of three months' full wages.

In its written statement filed the Janata Textile Mills referred to, hereafter in this award, as the company, stated that as the financial year of the company starts from 1st April and ends with 31st March of each year, union's claim of bonus payable in the year 1961, is to be computed on the trading results and the profit and loss account of the company for the financial year ended 31st March 1961 and not on the result of the financial year closing 1960 as claimed by the union. The company stated further that in the financial year ending 31st March 1961, the company's gross profits did not justify payment of any bonus, after deduction of prior charges as enunciated in the Full Bench Formula of the Bombay Mill Owners' case of the Labour Appellate Tribunal. Stated in other words, company's specific case regarding the claim for bonus for the year 1961 was that in the financial year ended 31st March 1961, it had no available surplus for payment of bonus to its workers.

The issue referred to this Tribunal has already been set forth.

The union claimed bonus equivalent to 3 months' wages for 1961. During trial, however, the union conceded that this claim for bonus payable in the year 1961 is to be computed on the trading results and profit and loss account of the company for the financial year ended 31st March 1961 as has been stated by the company in its written statement filed. As the union's written statement was drafted, it can be said that the bonus claimed is profit-sharing bonus, and it is not disputed that for the computation of surplus of profits for payment of the bonus among the workmen of the company, the Full Bench Formula as laid down by the Labour Appellate Tribunal in Millowners' Association, Bombay vs. Rashtriya Mill Mazdoor Sangha reported in 1950 I L.L.J page 1247 as accepted subsequently by the Hon'ble Supreme Court with certain elucidations in the case of Associated Cement Companies Ltd. vs. their workmen reported in 1959 F.J.R.Vol 16 at page 262, will have to be followed. In other words, on the basis of the Full Bench Formula as enunciated in the Bombay Mill Owners' Association Case referred to above, the issue under reference will have to be decided.

The Formula for awarding bonus is based on two considerations :—

(i) that labour is entitled to claim a share in the trading profits of the industry because it has partially contributed to the same;

(ii) that labour is entitled to claim that the gap between its actual wages and living wage should, within reasonable limits, be filled up.

Union's contention in the written statement that the workers of the company are paid low wages, was neither denied nor challenged by the company in its own written in the case or during the hearing of the case. It must, therefore, be held that the second requisite viz., that the wages of the workers are below the living wages, for the application of the formula as stated in the Millowners' case is present in the present case. If, therefore, in the financial year ended 31st March 1961 the company had available surplus for payment of bonus to its workers, the union's prayer for bonus to the workers must be upheld. This available surplus is to be calculated according to the principles enunciated in the Bombay Millowners' Association case.

The working of the formula begins with the figure of "gross profits" taken from the profit and loss account which was arrived at after payment of wages, D.A. to the employees and other items of expenditure. The profit and loss account of the company and its balance-sheets have been filed in the case and they form part of the report Ext. A of the Company's Auditor who had audited them. As the union has not challenged the correctness of the entries as appearing in the balance-sheet and profit and loss account in determining the question of bonus, this tribunal must proceed on the assumption that they are correct. On the basis of these balance-sheet and profit and loss account the company's Auditor D.W.1 Shri J. K. Loyalka prepared a calculation of available surplus for the financial year ended 31st March 1961 and this available surplus as calculated by D.W.1 is Ext. B of the case, and reads as follows :

	Rs. nP.	Rs. nP.	Rs. nP.

The above calculation is made on the basis of accepted formula as adopted by the competent courts.

The expected residual life of the assets is taken as certified by the management."

The union also filed its own calculation which is Ext. 1 in the case. The profit and loss account and the balance-sheet exhibited in this case by the company formed the basis of both these calculations. It will appear from these calculations that both the company and the union have started the calculations taking Rs. 10,310 as the gross profit of the relevant years, as shown at the foot of the statement of the profit and loss account. "As a general rule, the amount of gross profit appearing at the foot of the statement of the profit and loss account should be accepted without submitting the statement of account to a close scrutiny. It would, however, be open to a Tribunal to disallow any entries on the debit side if it is satisfied that such entries have been made deliberately to reduce the amount of gross profits. It would also be open to the parties to object to items which are wholly extraneous and unrelated to the trading profits of the year but the Tribunal should interfere in such cases only where the impugned items are patently and obviously extraneous." (Vide Associated Cement Companies Ltd. vs. Their workmen reported in Vol. 16, 1959-60 F.J.R. at page 262.) In the instant case it was contended on behalf of the union that by a fictitious entry of Rs. 35,897 72 n.P. under head "Salaries including Partners' salaries" in the debit side of the profit and loss account, the company has reduced the actual gross profits earned during the year ended 31st March 1961 and that in computation of surplus of profits available for payment of bonus this amount of Rs. 35.897. 72 n.P. must be added to the gross profit as shown in the profit and loss account. It was argued that when the company has not adduced any evidence indicating that the Partners themselves were looking after the managerial, supervisory and clerical work, it had no justification to debit in the profit and loss account any amount, far less Rs. 35,897.72 n.P. as salary paid for the purpose. In reply to this contention from the side of the union, Shri K. K. Maitra, Advocate appearing for the company, argued that as the bonus formula nowhere provides that the salary of the Partners is to be excluded and remuneration paid to a partner of partnership firm is also a permissible reduction under the formula, this Tribunal should ignore this objection of the union regarding the entry relating to Partner's salary in the profit and loss account and accept the company's calculation of the gross profit as correct. This argument of Shri K. K. Maitra cannot be accepted. It is true no doubt that one of the prior charges is a reasonable remuneration to the Partners for their personal labour. But in the instant case there is not an iota of evidence indicating that the Partners or any of them had rendered any effective service to the business as other employees of the company. The size of the business, the nature of the work done by the Partners, its value to the concern, time devoted by the Partners, the remuneration received by others performing similar work in the industry, are some of the criteria for determining what would be a fair remuneration for the purpose." But the evidence adduced by the company does not supply any of these criteria. Stated in other words, the evidence, oral and documentary, led by the company in this case supply no data for determining the remuneration of the Partners, and do not also indicate that any of the partners had in the year ending 31st March 1961 rendered any effective service to the business.

In this view of the matter the union's contention that the company was not justified to deduct any amount from the gross profits of the year in question as Partners' salary, or to debit the profit and loss account with any amount on account of Partners' salary, must be upheld.

Rs 35,897-72 nP. against "salaries including Partners' salaries" in the debit side of the profit and loss account, however, does not represent only the salaries paid to the Partners but also include salaries paid to the workers as well. The union was not, therefore, justified to add back this entire amount of Rs. 35,897·72 nP. to the gross profit after deduction of the depreciation as shown in the balance-sheet and its own calculation of available surplus, for computing the available surplus for distribution of bonus. It should have added back only Rs 12,000 as this was the amount said to have been drawn by the Partners in the relevant year (Vide company's affidavit,dated 26th April 1966,in compliance with the Tribunal's order, dated 18th March 1966). If this amount of Rs. 12,000 is added back to Rs. 10,311.00 being the gross profit after depreciation in the relevant year, the total gross profit will come to Rs. 22,311.00. For working out the formula, the gross profit must therefore be taken as under :—

Gross profit as per profit and loss account	..	Rs. 10,311.00
Add : Depreciation	..	Rs. 5,384.00
Total	..	Rs. 15,695.00
Add : Amount said to have been drawn as Partners' salary	..	Rs. 12,000.00
		Rs. 27,695.00

According to the formula the first deduction is for depreciation and both parties have in their calculation of available surplus given Rs. 5,384 00 as depreciation.

The next item that has to be deducted from the gross profit is Income Tax. In determining the Income Tax, the depreciation as stated above must be deducted from the gross profits and the tax calculated on the balance. In the balance-sheet filed by the company, no provision for income tax was made, and it was argued on behalf of the union that when the company itself has not in its own balance-sheet made any provision for income tax, this Tribunal should not deduct any amount from the gross profit on account of income tax for working out the formula. This argument cannot be accepted as under the formula income tax is a "must deductable item", and under the formula only notional income tax has to be deducted as a prior charge. It has already been said that in order to calculate the amount of notional income tax the depreciation has to be deducted and that after deducting the depreciation gross profit comes to Rs. 22,311. As the business concerned is a partnership business, 45 per cent. of this sum would be the notional amount of income tax for the relevant year and the figure comes to Rs. 10,035. This amount must be deducted from the gross profit after depreciation towards income tax as prior charge.

The next item of prior charge is return on paid up capital. According to the Full Bench Formula as clarified by the Supreme Court in Associated Cement Company's case the amount of return would be 6 per cent on paid up capital, in the instant case of partners' capital. It will appear from the balance sheet filed by the company that the financial year 1960-61 of the company opened with Rs. 61,000 as partners' capital. Rs. 42,928-60 n P. subscribed by partner Chandra Kumar Sarawgi, Rs 4,386·04 nP. subscribed by the other partner Shanta Rani Sureka and that in come of the year Rs. 15, 000.00 more was subscribed by Shanta Rani Sureka. The total of the two Partners' capital during the financial year under consideration was thus Rs. 62,214 and 6 per cent. interest on this amount will have to be deducted from the gross profit as a prior charge according to the formula. In calculating the available surplus the company, however, has not taken this amount as Partners' capital but has taken Rs. 75,760 as Partners' capital. Its calculation of the capital was as under :—

Chandra Kumar Sarawgi—

Balance brought forward	..	Rs. 42,928.60
Add : Profit during the year	..	Rs. 5,155.29
Interest	..	Rs. 2,793.95
Total	..	Rs. 50,878

Shanta Rani Sureka

Balance brought forward	..	Rs. 4,386.04
Brought during the year	..	Rs. 15,000.00
Add : Profit during the year	..	Rs. 5,155.30
Interest	..	Rs. 356.56
Total	..	Rs. 24,898.00

As only on accounting at the close of the financial year would, the profits, if any, earned by the concern during the year, be distributed amongst the Partners, the company was not justified to treat in its calculation of available surplus profits earned during the year as

"Partners" capital' in that year. 6 per cent. return on Rs. 62,314 as Partners' capital during the financial year ended 31st March 1961 must, therefore, be deducted from the gross profit as a prior charge.

In its calculation of available surplus, the company has also deducted as a prior charge, Rs. 1,770 as 4 per cent. return on working capital of Rs. 44,246.00 nP. during the accounting year. How this figure of working capital was reached has been shown in details in the company's calculation of available surplus. On reference to the profit and loss account of the company, it will, however, appear that in coming to this figure of Rs. 44,246.00 nP., the auditor of the company has treated Book Debts, deposits with Electric Supply Corporation Ltd., and Excise Duty Department, advances as Excise Duty and to staff and others, and cash and bank balances as working capital of the company during the accounting year under review. But in the opinion of this Tribunal, none of these items can be treated as the working capital of the year. 'Working capital' means capital available for the work of the business after its fixed assets have been acquired and under the formula only the portion of the working capital actually used in the business in the accounting year is entitled to a return.

In this view of the matter, only the closing stock, and not the items, Book Debts, deposits, advances, cash and bank balances, is entitled to a return. As per profit and loss account Rs. 34,557.78 nP. was closing stock and 4 per cent. on this value of the stock as working capital of the company in the year under review will be a prior charge on the gross profits. 4 per cent. on Rs. 34,557.78 nP. comes to Rs. 1,362 and under the formula this amount will have to be deducted from the gross profits for finding out the available surplus.

The next item of deduction is the allowance for re habilitation which includes replacement and modernis-- tion. It will appear from the company's calculation of available surplus that Rs. 6,637 has been deducted from the gross profit under this head by the company's auditor preparing the calculation. As the company has not led any evidence to prove the price of plant and machinery, its age, the period during which it requires replacement, the cost of replacement, and to what extent the funds at its disposal would mean the cost of replacement, this Tribunal cannot allow an set off for rehabilitation, replacement costs, against the gross profits to make its own estimates of available surplus for distribution of bonus. Under the law the company was to prove these points before this Tribunal to justify its claim for deduction under the head rehabilitation and replacement costs but no evidence was led on any of these points by the company. This Tribunal cannot, therefore, allow any deduction on account of rehab l.tation and replacement costs.

In view of the foregoing discussions and findings egarding the items to be deducted from the gross profit as prior charges under the Formula, the calculation of available surplus for distribution of bonus among the workers will be as under :

Gross Profit after depreciation		Rs.22,311.00
Less :
(1) Income Tax	Rs.10,035
(2) 6 per cent. return on paid up capital of Rs. 62,314	Rs. 3.738
(3) 4 per cent return on working capital of Rs. 34,557.78 nP.	Rs. 1,362	Rs.15,135
	Balance :	Rs. 7,176.00

From the above calculation it appears that after meeting all the prior charges on the gross profit for the year ended 31st March 1961 the company had in its hand Rs. 7,176.00 as available surplus. In such available surplus 3 persons are entitled to claim a share—labour claims bonus, the industry claims a share for the purpose of its expansion and other needs and shareholders claim a share by way of additional return on the capital invested by them. The ratio of distribution would obviously depend upon several facts viz., (1) the wages paid to the workmen and the extend of the gap between the same and the living wage, (2) whether the employer has set apart any gratuity fund, (3) what dividends actually have been paid by the employer, and (4) the probabilities of the industry entering upon and immediate programme of expansion and (5) the general financial position of the employer and similar other facts. In the instant case the balance-sheet itself indicates no provision for gratuity fund and the evidence as has been led by the company also does not show that the owners have any immediate project for expansion. Company is a partnership company and, therefore, there is no question of dividend. Considering all these facts and circumstances as also the undisputed facts that the workers are getting wages below the living wages, and that their total monthly emolument is about Rs. 2,000, bonus at the rate of 1 and half months' pay must be allowed to the workers. Or in other words the available surplus shall be distributed among the owners and the workers approximately at the ratio of 50 :50.

It is accordingly directed that the company to give its workers bonus at the rate of 1 and half months' wages, for the year ended 31st March 1961. This is my award which is to be implemented within two months of its publication in the "Calcutta Gazette."

PART VI—Bills introduced in Parliament of India: Reports of Select Committees presented to Parliament; and Bills published before introduction in Parliament.

LOK SABHA

The following Bill was introduced in Lok Sabha on the 9th May, 1966:—

BILL No. 36 OF 1966

A Bill further to amend the Constitution of India.

Be it enacted by Parliament in the Seventeenth Year of the Republic of India as follows:—

Short title.

1. This Act may be called the Constitution (Nineteenth Amendment) Act, 1966.

Amendment of article 3.

2. In article 3 of the Constitution, the following Explanations shall be inserted at the end, namely:—

'Explanation I.—In this article, in clauses (a) to (e), "State" includes a Union territory but in the proviso, "State" does not include a Union territory.

Explanation II.—The power conferred on Parliament by clause (a) includes the power to form a new State or Union territory by uniting a part of any State or Union territory to any other State or Union territory.'.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

Article 3 of the Constitution provides for the formation of new States and alteration of areas, boundaries, or names of existing States. Before the Constitution (Seventh Amendment) Act, 1956, was enacted, the expression "States" occurring in that article meant Part A States, Part B States and also Part C States. By the Seventh Amendment of the Constitution in 1956, the concept of "Union territories" was introduced in our Constitution but article 3 was not amended to include in terms "Union territories". It is considered proper to amend this article to make it clear that "State" in clauses (a) to (e) of that article (but not in the proviso) includes "Union territories". It is also considered proper to make it clear that power under clause (a) of article 3 includes power to form a new State or Union territory by uniting a part of a State or Union territory to another State or Union territory.

The Bill seeks to achieve the above objects.

No. 7486-CDP. — 16th July 1966.—In exercise of the powers conferred by the proviso to article 309 of the Constitution of India, the Governor is pleased to make the following amendment to the rules for provision of house-sites for landless agricultural workers under the Village Housing Projects Scheme as published with notification No. 323-CDP, dated 12th January 1965:—

For the existing paragraph 2 of the Rules substitute the following paragraph:

The scheme will be executed by the Administrator, Rural Reconstruction, through the Block Development Officers in selected Blocks, subject to overall control of the Administrator, Rural Reconstruction.

The houses to be built, should conform to the standard and specification as approved by the Administrator, Rural Reconstruction, as in the case of Village Housing Projects Scheme. Financial Assistance in the shape of grants is limited to Rs. 375.00 per plot, as recommended by the working group of Housing Directorate, Government of West Bengal, including development cost. A developed plot measuring not more than 2½ cottahs (1,800 sft.) in area (recommendation of Bhubaneswar Conference, 1961), will be distributed to each landless agricultural workers' resident in the villages, for construction of houses which may be either a small hut or a kutcha building with their own labour or resources at their command. The workers may, however, take loan under the scheme for construction of houses. The quantum of such loan will be determined in consideration of the repaying capacity and loan-worthiness of beneficiaries. As it is not considered desirable to allot house-sites to landless agricultural workers absolutely free of cost, a modest portion of the cost of the house-site, i.e., 20 per cent. (i.e., Rs. 75.00) is to be recovered from the beneficiaries in five equal annual instalments of Rs. 15.00 without any interest.

These amounts thus recovered (to be effected through the Panchayats) may be kept in the Savings Bank Account of the nearest post office in the name of the Anchal Panchayats concerned towards the improvement of sanitation and environmental hygiene of the villages concerned. The Block Development Officer concerned may exempt the beneficiaries from the repayment of 20 per cent. of the grant given to them in extraordinary cases of hardship. The construction of houses, may, however, be made out of loans provided in Village Housing Projects Scheme to be repaid under usual terms and conditions as laid down therein.

By order of the Governor,
P. GHOSAL, Dy. Secy.

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Kusum Engineering Co. Ltd., Bose Park, P.O. Sukchar, 24-Parganas, and their workmen represented by Kusum Engineering Workers Union, P.O. and village Sukchar, 24-Parganas. (Case No. VIII-86/66.)

For the Company : Shri N. K. Mukherji, Advocate.

AWARD

By order No. 1206-I.R./IR/10L-55/66, dated the 25th March 1966, the Government of West Bengal, in the Labour Department, referred under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Kusum Engineering Co. Ltd. Bose Park, P.O. Sukchar, 24-Parganas and their workmen represented by Kusum Engineering Workers Union, P. O. and village Sukchar, 24-Parganas, regarding the matters specified in the schedule, to the Third Industrial Tribunal, constituted under section 7A of the Industrial Disputes Act, by notification No. 808-IR/IR/3A-2/57, dated the 11th March 1957, for adjudication.

Issue

Whether the discharge of Shri Bimalendu Chakraborty, a trade apprentice, is justified? To what relief, if any, is he entitled?

On receipt of the order of reference, usual notices were issued on the parties fixing 21st April 1966 for appearance and for filing of written statement by the union. On that date the company filed a petition authorising Shri N. K. Mukherji, Advocate, to represent its case before this Tribunal. The union, however, did not appear and 20th May 1966 was fixed for filing of written statement by the union. As I was on leave on that date the record was put up for order on 28th November 1966. On that date, on the petition of Shri Baidya Nath Kar, Assistant Secretary of the union, time was allowed till 4th June 1966 for filing of written statement by the union. On 4th June 1966 no written statement was filed on behalf of the union; nor did anybody on behalf of the union appeared. The concerned worker Shri Bimalendu Chakraborty was also absent on that date.

From the above facts and circumstances, it can be presumed that the concerned worker has no outstanding grievance against the company. Accordingly a "no-dispute" award is passed.

This is my award.

AWARD

By Government order No. 4834-I.R./IR/13L-22(A)/63, dated 30th November 1963, an industrial dispute between Messrs. Lal Chand Roy and Co. (P) Ltd., vs. their workers was referred to this Tribunal for adjudication.

During the pendency of that reference Sk. Israil (III), filed an application under section 33A, complaining of violation of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, by the company.

In the said petition it was stated that on 22nd June 1965 when he had been to the factory for joining his duty, he was refused to enter into the factory. The petitioner contends that this action of the company was illegal, mala fide and unjust and prays for an award directing the company to allow him to join his duties with full payment for the forced period of unemployment.

The petition was opposed by the company and it was inter alia contended that as since 20th February 1966 the complainant was intentionally absenting himself from duties, he is not entitled to any relief whatsoever in the instant proceedings.

The company filed its written statement on 25th June 1965. Thereafter, after several adjournments, on parties' prayers, the case was fixed for hearing on 8th July 1966. On that date the complainant had filed a petition stating that the case has been amicably settled and praying that the application under section 33A may be treated as withdrawn and disposed of accordingly. As by this petition, petitioner-complainant is withdrawing his allegations against the company, a "no dispute" award is passed.

This is my award.

AWARD

In this reference under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, the parties are Messrs. B. N. Elias and Co. (P) Ltd., and its associated concerns namely, (a) Agarpara Company Ltd., (b) West Bengal Power Supply, (c) Empire Bone Mills, (d) Oriental Electric and Engineering Co., (e) National Tobacco Co. of India Ltd., all of 1 and 2 Old Court House Street Corner, Norton Buildings, Calcutta-1, on the one hand and their workmen represented by B. N. Elias and Co. Employees' Union, 7/2T Jamir Lane, Calcutta-19 (hereinafter described as the union). The issue as mentioned in the Order of Reference for determination relates to the retiring age of the workmen.

The company raised at the earlier stage of the case some preliminary objections regarding jurisdictional points. On hearing the parties I framed the preliminary issues on 13th June 1964. The parties were heard on those points and by an order, dated 23rd July 1964, I gave my decisions on the preliminary points raised at that time. One of the points was whether the union was competent to raise any industrial dispute for the workmen of the National Tobacco Company of India Ltd. and my finding was that the union had no locus standi to represent the workmen of that company. Subsequently, however, the parties were heard on merits and award was reserved. Subsequently the Hon'ble High Court was moved by the companies for raising certain other jurisdictional points relating to the locus standi of the union to represent the workmen of other companies as well besides the National Tobacco Co. of India Ltd. The Hon'ble High Court ultimately directed that the Tribunal should hear and determine the contention of the petitioner company that B. N. Elias and Co. Employees' Union had no locus standi to represent the case of the workmen of other companies as well, after allowing the petitioner company an opportunity to file a proper statement on that point and after further allowing the petitioner and the respondent workmen, including the union to adduce evidence either in support or in demolition of the objection. According to the above direction, an opportunity was given for filing written statement and the parties were further allowed to adduce evidence in continuation of the hearing on merits to decide the preliminary issue framed on 4th June 1966, as agreed to by both the sides as per direction of the Hon'ble High Court. The additional issue framed in the following words touching the jurisdictional point:—

Issue

Whether the union has locus standi to represent the case of the workmen of Messrs. B. N. Elias and Co. (P) Ltd., and its associated concerns, viz. (a) Agarpara Co. Ltd., (b) West Bengal Power Supply, (c) Empire Bone Mills and (d) Oriental Electric and Engineering Co.

At this further hearing several documents were exhibited on both sides. The union has adduced further oral evidence on its side by recalling its witness. The company did not, however, adduce any oral evidence by examining any witness. Both the sides argued their respective cases on the preliminary point raised. They also made their submissions afresh regarding the issue relating to the retiring age of the workmen as the arguments on merits were heard last on 17th August 1964.

I will first of all, deal with the preliminary issue regarding the status or locus standi of the union to represent the workmen of all the companies. Both the parties did not argue on the authority of the union to represent the workmen of the National Tobacco Company of India Ltd., in view of the fact that I have decided that point in my order, dated 23rd July 1964. I am now to determine whether in respect of other companies, the union is competent to represent the workmen. On this point the union has examined Shri Nirendra Nath Dutta Gupta, its Joint Secretary. He has stated on oath that the clerical and subordinate staff of the Head Office of Messrs. B. N. Elias and Co. (P) Ltd., Agarpara Company Ltd., West Bengal Power Supply, Empire Bone Mills and Oriental Electric and Engineering Company are members of his union. He has stated that union is the only union of those companies and that in 1963 and 1964, also, the workmen of those companies were the members of his union. He has produced the membership register of his union which has been marked Ext. 7. The witness has also produced the Minutes Book of the Committee Meeting. The book is marked Ext. 8. From his evidence we get that the executive committee of the union decided to raise the dispute regarding the retiring age of the workmen of the companies. He has also particularly mentioned the resolution of the committee meeting held on 9th September 1963. The proceeding of that meeting recorded in Ext. 8 has been marked Ext. 8(a). Besides this particular resolution, there are other resolutions recorded in Ext. 8, the entire minutes book which will show that the union espoused the cause of its members to raise the retiring age. P.W. 1 has further stated that in an annual general meeting held on 11th July 1963, the members decided to raise the dispute. The minute book of the annual general meeting has been market Ext. 9. In this meeting it resolved that the committee members should take up the question of enhancement of retiring age. The proceeding of this meeting has been marked Ext. 9(a). P.W. 1 has also produced a counterfoil book which he has proved. This counterfoil book has been marked Ext. 10. The General Secretary has stated that the ordinary members of the union decided to raise the dispute in the annual general meeting and requested the President to write to the companies for increasing the retiring age. He has denied the suggestion that the members of the union did not raise the present dispute or that the President in his personal capacity raised the present dispute. P.W. 1 has, however, admitted that besides the counterfoil of the suscription book like Ext. 10 and Ext. 7, the membership register, the union has not in its possession any other document to show how many of the members belong to any particular company. Of course in Exts. 7 and 10, there are some entries against some of the names to indicate in whcih company the workmen in question work. It is evident that the union was not particularly keen to describe the members by their own designations with reference to the companies where they work. The constitution of the union has also been exhibited in this case. It is Ext. E. Rule 4 of the constitution relates to the ordinary members of the union. It runs as follows:—

> "None but an employee of Messrs. B. N. Elias and Co. Ltd. and its affiliated Associations including pensioners shall be eligible for ordinary membership of the union."

Considering the evidence of P.W. 1 and also the documents which have been mentioned in support of his statement, I hold that the union is an association of the workmen of B. N. Elias and Co. (P) Ltd., Agarpara Company Ltd., West Bengal Power Supply, Empire Bone Mills and Oriental Electric and Engineering Company. There can be no doubt whatsoever, that if not all the workmen of these companies, an appreciable number of the workmen of each of the companies were members of the union at the relevant time or about the time of reference. Shri A. K. Dutta, on behalf of the company has admitted that as against the evidence of P.W. 1, the company has not adduced any evidence to show that the workmen of these companies were not members of the union. He has conceded during argument that against the substantive evidence adduced by the union regarding the membership, the company has nothing of its own to challenge that.

Shri Dutta's main contention, however, is that the workmen of these companies did not authorise the union to raise the dispute regarding the retiring age in any manner either in any meeting or otherwise. His argument is that unless the workmen-members of the union authorise it to raise any dispute on their behalf, the union cannot of its own motion, take up the cause of the workmen. Shri Dutta has challenged the resolution of the members of the union at the annual general meeting held on 11th July 1963, on the ground that the meeting was illegal, in view of the fact that in the constitution of the union the quorum of the general meeting should have been 100 members in the minimum whereas in the meeting in question, only 34 members were present. In this meeting, a resolution was passed to the effect that the newly elected committee members should take up the question of enhancement of retiring age. It has been further argued that there is no evidence to indicate that an appreciable number of workmen of each of the companies attended this general meeting. In my view, in an industrial dispute, the Tribunal will not give much attention or serious consideration to the technicalities of law unless they are vital. Before as it has been proved that at least an appreciable number of workmen of each of the five companies in question are members of the union. It is clear that at least an appreciable number of members of the union as a whole, numbering 34 in all gave out their minds that the committee members should take up the question of enhancement of retiring age. There is no evidence, however, that any of the workmen of any of the companies or any member of the union raised any note of dissent on the question of retiring age or opposed the suggestion that the retiring age of the workmen should be enhanced. This fact is to be considered along with other circumstances. Rule 12 of the constitution of the union says that the administration of the union shall be vested in a committee. The functions of the committee have been mentioned in rules 16, 17, 18, 19, 20 and 21. According to rule 16 of the constitution, the committee is to look after the general direction, management, and transactions of business of the union. Rule 19 empowers the committee to select deligates to attend conferences. The committee, therefore, is vested with powers of general management and transactions of business of the union. Practically speaking, this executive committee acts for the union. Admittedly, there is no specific mention in the constitution of the union that the general members alone are vested with powers to raise industrial disputes. From the reading of the constitution as a whole, my view is that the executive committee can raise a dispute on behalf of the members of the union. The function of the President has been described in rule 22 of the constitution. It says that the President shall attend and preside over all meetings of the union, preserve due order, sign all minutes and keep a watchful eye over the general affairs of the union. The last part of the sentence shows that the President has some powers of superintendence over the general affairs of the union. According to rule 24, the Secretary shall be responsible for the proper execution of direction of the committee and attend to all correspondences and generally look after and manage the office. I have already mentioned that Ext. 8 is the minutes book of the executive committee meetings. The Committee in its meeting held on 9th September 1963, decided that the union should sign the letter of retirement case to the Government of West Bengal and in the meanwhile, should collect details for charter of demands. A meeting of the executive committee was again held on 10th December 1963. The committee resolved in that meeting that Shri N. Dutta Gupta was to conduct the retiring age case before the Conciliation Officer on behalf of the union. The committee meeting of 29th January 1964, decided that Shri N. Dutta Gupta was to keep in touch with the Labour Department regarding the order of reference relating to the retiring age case. The resolution passed in the executive committee held on 20th March 1964, shows that Shri N. Dutta Gupta was authorised to conduct the retiring age case before this Tribunal. P.W. 1 has stated that the ordinary members of the union requested the President to write to the companies for increasing retiring age. The annual general meeting was held on 11th July 1963. The evidence shows that at the request of the members, the President wrote the letter, Ext. 3, dated 15th July 1963, to Messrs. B. N. Elias and Co. (P) Ltd. The executive committee in its meeting on 9th September 1963, decided that the union should send a letter regarding the retiring age to the Government of West Bengal. Ext. 1 will show that according to the decision of the committee meeting, the President of the union wrote a letter to the Labour Commissioner on 13th September 1963, over the question of retiring age. Different resolutions passed in different meetings of the executive committee of the union, will show that the union had been consistently following up the retirement case for its members embracing the workmen of Messrs. B. N. Elias and Co. (P) Ltd., and its associated concerns, namely, Agarpara Company Ltd., West Bengal Power Supply, Empire Bone Mills and Oriental Electric and Engineering Company. Against the decision of the executive committee, there was no protest from any of the members of the union. The decision of the executive committee of the union was certainly the decision of the union as a whole. In the facts and circumstances of the present case, it was not necessary for the individual workmen of each company to approach the union and authorise it to espouse his cause. The decision of the executive committee was the decision of an appreciable number of workmen of the companies in question who are members of the union. In this connection it may be noted that in the case of Bilas Chandra Mitra vs. Balmer Lawrie and Company, reported in A.I.R. 1963, Calcutta, 613, it was held that a dispute between the employer and a single employee may become an industrial dispute if it is taken up by the union or a number of workmen. The decision in the case of workers of Buckingham and Carnatic Company vs. Commissioner of Labour and reported in 1964, L.L.J., Vol. I, page 253 will show that a trade union has a right to raise or sponsor an industrial dispute or to represent its members' interest in the proceedings initiated consequent on an industrial dispute. In this connection, the decision of the Supreme Court in the case of New India Motors vs. K. T. Morris reported in 1960, L.L.J., Vol. I, at page 551 may be conveniently referred to. In connection with the industrial dispute it has been stated that it is well-settled that before any dispute between the employer and his employee or employees can be said to be an industrial dispute under the act, it must be sponsored by a number of workmen or by a union representing them. In the present case before me I find that the union raised the present dispute on behalf of the workmen representing a substantial portion of the workmen of each of the companies in question and that the workmen of the companies backed the union in this respect. The union espoused the case of the workmen in this case at their request and for their interest. In view of my above findings I must hold that the union has the locus standi to represent the case of the workmen of Messrs. B. N. Elias and Co. (P) Ltd., and its associated concerns, namely, Agarpara Company Ltd., West Bengal Power Supply, Empire Bone Mills and Oriental Electric and Engineering Company. The preliminary issue is thus disposed of in favour of the union and against the companies.

I shall deal with the main issue relating to the retiring age of the workmen. On this point I have heard both the sides afresh over this issue. The view of Shri Biswas, appearing for the company previously, was that as the companies did not fix any retiring age, the services of the workmen could be terminated at any time by the employers. This view is untenable. Ext. 1 is an award passed by a Tribunal in the year 1949. In this reference Messrs. B. N. Elias and Co. (P) Ltd., was one of the parties. By that award the retiring age of the company was fixed at 55 years. The aim or object of the Industrial Disputes Act is to harmonise the relationship between the employer and the employees by developing healthy atmosphere in the industrial dispute, improve the labour conditions of the country and enhance the national wealth. This Tribunal has jurisdiction undoubtedly, to decide on the question of retiring age if the issue becomes an industrial dispute. I have already held that in the present reference an industrial dispute lies between Messrs. B. N. Elias and Co. (P) Ltd., and its associated concerns namely, (a) Agarpara Company Ltd., (b) West Bengal Power Supply, (c) Empire Bone Mills and (d) Oriental Electric and Engineering Company on the one hand and their employees on the other. This Tribunal has, therefore, jurisdiction to refix the retiring age of the workmen if necessary. About 17 years ago, the retiring age of the workmen was fixed by an award, Ext. A. The social conditions have considerably changed and they have far advanced towards better prospect and industrial prosperity. The Society has got to keep peace with the industrial progress and the industries have also to keep the progress steady. Shri Dutta, on behalf of the companies, did not challenge the authority of the Tribunal to refix the retiring age and to raise it if necessary in view of the decisions of our Supreme Court. It has been held in several cases by the Supreme Court that the retiring age of the workmen should be raised to 60 years. Shri Dutta has, however, two submissions to make. The first is that the Tribunal should not fix the retiring age at 60 in view of the fact that the union in its written statement has claimed 58 to be the retiring age. The second submission is that the Tribunal should not give effect to the award from the date of reference because in that case several complications will arise and injustice will be done to the company if persons who have already retired and not working at present, are directed to be reinstated and allowed to work up to the age of 60. Shri Saha, on behalf of the union, has admitted that he cannot, in this reference, claim that the retiring age should be enhanced to 60 because in the written statement, the union has prayed that the age should be enhanced to 58 years. I understand that for some months passed, the companies have not been retiring the workmen on the completion of 55 years as the present case is pending and at present, I learn, that there are some workmen working in the companies although they have already completed 55 years. In the circumstances and facts of the case, I think that the two submissions of Shri Dutta are reasonable and my decision is that the retiring age of the workmen of Messrs. B. N. Elias and Co. (P) Ltd., Agarpara Company Ltd., West Bengal Power Supply, Empire Bone Mills and Oriental Electric and Engineering Co., be raised to 58 (Fifty-eight) and that the workmen shall retire on completion of their 58 (Fifty-eight) years. This award shall also govern the cases of those workmen who are still in the services of the companies although they have completed the age of 55 years.

The reference is thus disposed of as indicated above.

AWARD

This relates to a reference made by the Government of West Bengal, in its Labour Department order No. 1206-I.R./IR/15L-3/64, dated 19th March 1964. This is for adjudication, under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, of the dispute between six mustard oil mills and their workmen, represented by Employees' Association hereinafter called the Association, relating to gratuity.

2. The Association, claiming gratuity at the rate of 2 months' wages for each year of service till retirement or resignation for each workman, states that the six oil mills, numbered (1) to (6) in the Government order of reference, are all flourishing concerns and have made huge profits particularly from about the middle of 1957 to first quarter of 1963, and, that the mills are financially able and stable to pay gratuity. At the time of hearing, however, the Association did not prove its claim of gratuity as against two mills Nos. (4) and (5) of the order of reference. The Tribunal feels satisfied on that there is no longer in existence any dispute in regard to the claim as between the Association and those two mills, and, will make, accordingly, "no dispute" award in those respects.

3. The issue is:—

Gratuity for the period prior to the introduction of Provident Fund Schemes.

The 4 mills, Nos. 1 o 3 and 6, filed statements. Nos. (2) and (3) were represented by one person and their grounds were same. Similarly, Nos. (1) and (6), on some grounds, filed statements by one representative.

Nos. (1) and (6) stated that Provident Fund Schemes were introduced on 31st July 1956, and, that the claim of the Association should be limited to period ending with 31st July 1956. It was stated that the mills were very small uneconomic units and the financial position was most unsatisfactory, and, that the mills were not flourishing concerns and did not make huge profits between 1953 and 1963. It was stated that the mills, depending for its raw materials almost entirely on other States, were not able to compete with other oil producing mills situated in other States. Finally, it was said that the mills were unable to bear any additional burden in the form of gratuity.

Nos. (2) and (3) stated that the Government did not entertain the Association's claim for gratuity in 1961 and that there had been no change in the circumstances for consideration of the claim again in 1964 and now. It was stated that the financial position and business prospect of the mills were bleak and the very existence of the mills was at stake in view of the predominence and control of market by the mills of other areas; that there is no scope or chance of advancement or progress of the mills in near future; that the mills were of small size and status and are not in a position like bigger and longer units to bear burdens of payment of gratuity; that the mills, having already introduced Provident Fund Schemes, should not be ordered to pay gratuity again.

4. The ambit of the issue is narrow and the adjudication will be limited to that. The Association's demand is for payment of gratuity up to the year before introduction of Provident Fund Schemes under the Employees' Provident Fund Act, and, not till retirement or resignation. The question is whether the employees of these four mills Nos. (1) to (3) and (6) of the order of reference shall be paid gratuity, if they retired or resigned or died or retire or resign or die after introduction of Provident Fund Schemes, and, if so, at what rate and for how many years. It is said that Provident Fund Schemes were introduced by mills Nos. (1) to (3) and (6) in May 1961, January 1961, November 1961 and May 1962 respectively. The Tribunal will first consider if any scheme of gratuity should be framed for these four mills.

5. The common ground of objection of the mills is that no scheme of gratuity should be framed as Provident Fund Schemes had already been introduced. This contention should be overruled. Firstly, the issue is for scheme of gratuity for period before introduction of Provident Fund schemes. So there is no question of payment of benefits, both Provident Fund Scheme and Gratuity Scheme. Secondly, gratuity is a retiral benefit of a kind different from that under Provident Fund Scheme. Gratuity is earned by giving service. It is now well settled in law that although Provident Fund and Gratuity are benefits available at the end they are not the same and one case exists with the other. So the claim cannot be turned down merely on that ground. The Tribunal disallows this contention.

6. The next contention is that the financial position of these four mills does, and will, not permit payment of gratuity. A scheme for gratuity no doubt impose a burden on the finances of the mill but the pressure is distributed over the years, for it is limited to the number of retirements each year. The mills will not be required to provide the whole amount at once. Ordinarily the payment is made each year only to those who retire. To judge whether the financial position could bear the strain, the average number of retirements per year must be found out. It is next to be seen whether the mills can be expected to bear the burden from year to year. The present position of the finances, the past history and future prospects all are to be considered to appraise them ability. Workmen who normally retire from year to year are not more than 2 to 4 per cent. of the entire personnel. (See 1965(I)L.L.J. 453 and 1963(II)L.L.J. 403 at 413). Total number of employees in these mills before introduction of Provident Fund Schemes was 11, 15, 6 and 6 respectively. It is only they who will be entitled to gratuity, if ordered. There is no evidence as to the age of those employees at present, if not retired, or as to what were their ages in 1961 or 1962 when Provident Fund Schemes were introduced. There is no age of superannuation in any of these mills. Taking the age of 60 years as the age when the gratuity would ordinarily be claimable, the burden will and cannot, be but insignificant.

7. It has been ruled in several cases that there are two general methods of fixing the terms of a gratuity scheme. It may be fixed on the 'industry cum-region' basis or on the basis of units. Emphasis must be laid upon the financial position of the employer and his profit-making capacity whichever of the two methods is selected. It is not proved by any evidence that there is any gratuity scheme in any of the oil mills in the neighbourhood of these four mills or that it does not exist. Claim for gratuity scheme cannot be turned down merely for that. It was contended that introduction of Gratuity Scheme in these four mills only will put them in a uneconomic competition with other oil mills, situate in the locality and not parties here. It was also stated that the claim may not be considered till an omnibus reference on the subject covering all or greater number of mills is made. The Tribunal finds any of these contentions unacceptable. The Tribunal will decide this considering the financial position and profit-making capacity of each mill. To refuse to decide an issue on the ground that other such employers are not parties is not permissible or proper. Even in such an omnibus reference the test will be the financial ability and stability of employer. It is incorrect to say that these mills will be incommoded in the competition market by the introduction of gratuity scheme, for, the financial position and capacity will be considered.

8. It was argued that the Government did not make a reference on this issue in 1961 (see Ext. C-1), and, therefore, the Tribunal should refuse the claim now for the same reasons in sub-para. (4) of Ext. (C1). In an adjudication by a Tribunal the considerations that may have weighed with the Government in not making a reference in a particular year are of no relevance. The Tribunal will have to adjudicate on its own on evidence before it. The Tribunal rejects this contention.

9. In dealing with the financial obligation involved by the introduction of a Gratuity Scheme, it is necessary to bear in mind that the magnitude of the theoretical impact does not matter so much as the extent of actual impact of the scheme. There are two ways of looking at the problem of the burden imposed by gratuity scheme. One is to capitalize the burden on universal actuarial basis, and that would naturally show theoretically that the burden would be heavy; the other is to look at the scheme in its practical aspect, and that would show, speaking broadly, no more than 3 to 4 per cent. of the employees retire every year. It is desirable that in assessing the impact of the gratuity scheme on the financial position of the employer, this practical approach should be taken into consideration (1962-II-L.L.J. 403 and 1962-I-L.L.J. 218). Here the matter is a little different and that should be borne in mind. This is not a claim for gratuity scheme. It is really a claim for grant of gratuity to a section of employees for a number of years. The employees who were in employment before 1961 in mills Nos. (1), (2) and (3) and before May 1962 in mill No. (6) are to get gratuity on retirement. They are claiming to be paid as gratuity certain percentage of their monthly or yearly wages for each of the years of their service up to 1961 or 1962 (when Provident Fund Schemes were introduced) and not up to years of retirement. That being so, and the number of total employees, as mentioned above, being only a few, the financial burden will be very very light. With the retirement of that group of employees the scheme will cease to be operative.

10. Ramkrishna Pure Oil Mill (No. 1).—From the Profit and Loss Accounts produced it is noticed that the mill earned a profit of Rs. 13,358 in 1956-57, of Rs. 978 in 1958-59, of Rs. 5,956 in 1959-60, and of Rs. 4,077 in 1962-63, and incurred a loss of Rs. 5,329 in 1957-58, of Rs. 1,177 in 1960-61 and of Rs. 3,213 in 1961-62. It is again seen that the money fetched by sale of oil is Rs. 11,27,071, Rs. 10,41,822, Rs. 11,17,371, Rs. 11,73,882, Rs. 13,45.809, Rs. 12,88,948. respectively, in the years 1956-57 to 1961-62. Amounts spent for power consumed in these years again respectively are Rs. 8,587, Rs. 7,765, Rs. 11,196, Rs. 12,230, Rs. 10,168 and Rs. 11,159 only. If power was used as in the case, to press oil from seeds, it is difficult to say that the figures of loss are acceptable. Sale of mustard oil was the highest in 1961-62 and yet it is said that there was a loss that year. It is quite clear from these that the mill is in a position to pay the gratuity claimed.

11. Gopal Pure Oil Mill (No. 6).—It is seen from its Profit and Loss Accounts that it made neither profit nor incurred loss in 1363 B.S. and 1364 B.S., and, incurred loss in 1365 B.S., 1367 B.S. and 1368 B.S., and made a profit only in 1366 B.S. By showing the profits of Rs. 12,474, and Rs. 26,028 in 1363 and 1364 B.S. as paid to the partners, the mill made no profit no loss sheet. This is not Profit and Loss Account. If amounts spent for power (units) are studied, it is apparent that there could not have been losses in the years 1365,1967 and 1368 B.S. Sale figures of these accounts also show that. Seeds brought and oil sold are not shown in these. These accounts cannot be accepted to hold that the mill cannot pay the gratuity claimed. The Tribunal holds that its financial capacity permits such payment.

12. Agnihotra Oil Mill (No. 3).—Balance sheets for the years 1367 B.S. to 1370 B.S. have been filed. These do not give any idea of the financial position as in the years before 1961. These show net profit of Rs. 8,090, Rs. 6,345, Rs. 5,450 and Rs. 5,899 in those years. The Tribunal decides that its financial position will permit payment of gratuity asked for.

13. Bhadrakali Oil Mill (No. 2).—From the Balance sheets for the years 1363 to 1369 B.S. It is notice that the net profits were Rs. 7,330, Nil, Rs. 4,137, Rs. 9,536, Rs. 10,704, Rs. 9,023 and Rs. 7,178 only. A loss is seen to have been incurred in 1364 B.S. It can be said that the mill can pay the gratuity asked for.

14. It was argued by all the mills that the earnings were low, there is potential danger of closing down of the mills for non-supply or paucity of supply of seeds and competition from the outside mills, and, there is fear of future earnings being still less. It was also pointed out that there is no reserve capital in any of the mills. It was said that they should not be ordered to pay gratuity for all these reasons. In reply it was submitted that the mills have not shown in their Profit and Loss Accounts the sale prices of tins, bags, hatka, dust, etc., and, that they will earn rebate from Income Tax Department on the amounts paid as gratuity and that low sales have been shown as proved by high consumption of power. It is also pointed out that mill No. 6 has not filed Balance Sheets but only Profit and Loss Accounts. A study of the account papers filed shown that there is no threat of fall in earnings or of closing down. Merely from the absence of Reserve Capital it cannot be said that the financial capacity is low. All along the local mills have been producing and selling their products even though oil from other States is in the market. And, a large part of seeds has all along come from other States for pressing here. Those are no reason to think that the mills are going to close down or to have lesser earnings. The Tribunal, in the result, decides that these four mills should be ordered to pay Gratuity as asked for.

15. The next question is what should be rate of gratuity. The Union claim 2 months' wages for each year. The Mills contended that it cannot be more than half month's wages for each year. In support of their contention the mills refer to several awards in other industries and Wage Board's recommendations (vide Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 296-Lab. of 21st August 1948 and No. 995-Lab. of 14th February 1951). It is argued by the Union that if Provident Fund Schemes were introduced in 1952 with the passing of Employees' Provident Fund Act, the mills would have been compelled to pay 6¼ per cent. of wages each, month, i.e., 75 per cent. of yearly wages as its contribution and that the mills may be ordered to pay at least that. The Tribunal does not accept this contention. Contribution to the Provident Fund is designed to induce thrift, and, as the workman cannot spare much the employer is asked to make a contribution. That is quite different from gratuity. So gratuity cannot be claimed on that basis. The Tribunal decides that the employees shall get gratuity at the rate of one half of a month's pay for each year up to the year of introduction of Provident Fund Schemes in each of these four mills or up to his retirement, whichever took place earlier, subject to a maximum of 15 months' pay.

16. On the average the monthly wages of a mistry is Rs. 110 and that of an operative (coolie) Rs. 65. Half of that, for say 10 to 15 years for such employees will not be any large sum. Again; with the retirement of the small number of employees who were in employment before 1961/1962, this payment as gratuity would cease.

17. Monthly pay for the purpose of payment of this gratuity shall be the pay as indicated in the Central Wage Board Report for the Sugar Industry at page 121, sub-para. 2(5) of para. 327.

18. In the result, the Tribunal awards that gratuity up to the year of introduction of Provident Fund Schemes shall be paid by the four mills Nos. (1) to (3) and (6) of the Government order of reference to the employees for the period at the rate mentioned above in the body of the award, and, makes a "no dispute" award in respect of this issue as between the mills Nos. (4) and (5) of the Government Order of Reference and their workmen on the footing that there is no longer in existence the said dispute between them.

Presiding Officer, Fifth Industrial Tribunal.

Present for the Marwari Relief Society : Shri K. K. Moitra, Advocate.

Present for the Petitioner Workman : Shri Patitpaban Pathak, an officer of the Marwari Relief Society Hospital Workes' Association.

AWARD

This is an employee's complaint under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act. Her case was that during pendency of another dispute, referred to this Tribunal underGovernment of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 1632-I.R./IR/11L-91(B)/65, dated 4th May 1965, between the Marwari Relief Society and their workmen, she had been charge-shooted, suspended, and, the enquiry into the charge-sheet was being dragged on unnecessarily and all this amounted to her dismissal for misconduct. The Society opposed the petition saying that there had been no violation of section 33 and a complaint under section 33A was not maintainable.

The employee states by a petition that she does not like to proceed with her complaint and seeks permission to withdraw it stating that the Society has advised her to join terminating her suspension. When the compainant does not want to proceed with her complaint for her own reasons the Tribunal has nothing not to allow her to withdraw the same.

Accordingly, the Tribunal allows the employee to withdraw her complaint under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act and awards that no adjudication on her complaint can be or is made.

Bangalee Silpi (P) Ltd. and their workmen represented by Bangalee Silpi (P) Ltd. Sramik Union, to this Tribunal for adjudication on the following issues.

Issues

1. Whether the closure of the factory with effect from 25th April 1966 is real and bona fide ? Whether the closure is beyond the control of the management and in the circumstances justified ? What relief, if any, are the workmen entitled to?

2. Bonus for the year 1964-65.

3. Whether the management is justified in not paying wages to the workmen when the festival holidays fall on Sunday, the weekly day of rest ? To what relief, if any, are the workmen entitled ?

After service of notice both the parties entered appearance and filed a joint petition along with a Memorandum of Settlement, dated 6th July 1966, inter alia stating that the closure of the factory with effect from 25th April 1966 was justified and no dispute existed as to the bonus for the year 1964-65. The workmen are represented by the union and the company is represented by one of its Directors. In the joint petition both the parties prayed for making a 'no dispute' award. In view of the Memorandum of Settlement, dated 6th July 1966, which appears to be fair and reasonable, let a 'no dispute' award be made. I accordingly pass a 'no dispute' award in the present reference.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute existing between Messrs. Marwari Relief Society Hospital, 391 and 392 Rabindra Sarani, Calcutta-7 and their workmen represented by Marwari Relief Society Hospital Workers' Association, 77 Burtala Street, Calcutta-7. (Case No. 16 of 1965.)

Shri A. K. DE, District Judge,
Presiding Officer,
Fifth Industrial Tribunal, West Bengal.

Present for the Hospital : Shri K. K. Moitra, Advocate.

Present for the Association : Shri Patit Paban Pathak, an officer of the Association.

This reference has been made by the Government of West Bengal in its Labour Department order No. 149-I.R./IR/11L-14(A)/64,dated the 12th January 1965, for adjudication under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act the following dispute existing between Messrs. Marwari Relief Society Hospital, hereinafter referred to as Hospital, and their workmen represented by Marwari Relief Society Hospital Workers' Association, hereinafter referred to as the Association.

Shri Ram Sakal Singh was an employee of the Hospital. On 26th March 1964 he was given a charge-sheet by the Hospital stating that he did not attend his duty on 24th March 1964 and 25th March 1964, as allotted by the employer, and that on 26th March 1964, while doing his duty, he shouted loudly inside the office and insulted the management and the Hospital Joint Secretary in filthy language, and that he with other workers, incited the workmen to stop work. He was charged with committing acts subversive of discipline of the Hospital. He replied to the charge-sheet on 31st March 1964 denying the charges and stating that he could not attend his work on 24th March 1964 and 25th March 1964 due to his illness and that he intimated the Hospital about it. He stated that on 26th March 1964 while he was doing his work in the office, Sarbasri M. Jalan, N. Bajaj and N. Surekha assaulted him and snatched away the key from his hand, besides abusing him. He immediately reported the incident to the Hospital authorities and to the police. Later, on 1st April 1964 he filed a complaint against those three gentlemen before the Chief Presidency Magistrate, Calcutta. The Hospital was not satisfied with his explanation and decided to hold an enquiry. The Hospital appointed Shri B. Sethia to hold the enquiry. The workman did not attend the enquiry reporting to the enquiring officer that he had filed a Criminal Case over the incident and that he would not participate in the enquiry as the subject-matter of his explanation was pending judicial determination by the Magistrate. The enquiring officer, however, ignoring his request to postpone the enquiry proceeded with the enquiry in his absence. Before him the Hospital examined witnesses. He, on a consideration of the evidence recorded by him, found the first charge against the workman as to his not attending work on 24th March 1964 and 25th March 1964 not proved. He held that the other charge had been established. The Management, on that report, decided to dismiss him and dismissed him. It is this dismissal that the Union has challenged as unjust saying that the charge was false and that the enquiry and the resultant dismissal were made without observing the formalities. The Society in reply stated that the charge was true and the enquiry was fairly and properly done.

The issue is (1) whether dismissal of Shri Ram Sakal Singh is justified? To what relief, if any, is he entitled?

The facts are mostly not in dispute. Ram Sakal was given a charge-sheet on two counts. In the enquiry he was absolved of the first charge and found guilty of the second. The management concurred with the enquiring officer's conclusion and dismissed him. So the position is that Ram Sakal had been dismissed for having committed a misconduct which was the subject-matter of the second charge in Ext. 8, and summarised in pargraph 1(ii) of the enquiring officer's report Ext A(1). It is not disputed that Ram Sakal did not attend the enquiry intimating the enquring officer that he would not attend it because of the pendency of his own complaint before the Presidency Magistrate over the incident of 26th March 1964. It is contended by the Union that the enquiry held by Shri Sethia had been vitiated firstly, because he did not postpone it in spite of request and even after intimation that it was the subject-matter of a proceeding before the Judicial Authorities, i.e., Presidency Magistrate and, secondly because the decision made by the enquiring officer was perverse. Ext. 12, dated 8th April 1964, is the letter which Shri Singh wrote to the Hospital Secretary requesting him that the departmental proceeding should not be held. It is no doubt true that a departmental enquiry and a Court proceeding over the same matter may proceed simultaneously and it is not required that the departmental enquiry should be postponed till the conclusion of the proceeding before the Judicial Authority. But in this particular case it would certainly have been proper to postpone the departmental enquiry. Be it remembered that the proceeding before the Judicial Authority was started by the workmen and not by the Hospital. If it had been that the Hospital had started the departmental proceeding and the Judicial proceeding, there might not have been great prejudice if the matter was proceeded with simultaneously. But here the case before the Judicial Authority was started by the workman, and his version, if established there, would have demolished the very basis of the departmental proceeding. Be that as it may, but the Tribunal cannot say that the departmental enquiry was vitiated because of that.

The Tribunal will, therefore, consider the second attack on the enquiry held by Shri Sethia. It appears from the judgement, Ext. 17, of the Presidency Magistrate that Sarbashri M. Jalan. N. Bazaz and N. Surekha, the very same three Officers of the Society, were charged by Ram Sakal for having assaulted him on 26th March 1964 at about 10-15 p.m. in the Hospital Office. It is seen that in the said case the accused persons examined witnesses on their behalf and the learned Magistrate on a consideration of the evidence on both sidesfoundShri Ram Sakal's version to have been proved, and convicted and sentenced each of them. This, it is said, proves that the enquiring officer's findings were perverse. The Tribunal accepts this contention. It was suggested in cross-examination to Ram Sakal, P.W.1., that an appeal against the learned Magistrate's conviction and sentence in Ext. 17 was filed before the High Court and was pending. But he denied that suggestion. In spite of that no attempt was made by the Society to prove by any document that such an appeal was filed or was pending. It would be noticed that the judgement was passed on 16th February 1965,— over one year before. That was a complaint by an individual and if there had been any appeal he would certainly have been given notice thereof. The Tribunal accepts his denial as true. It was argued by the Hospital that even though the learned Magistrate had found that the version of the Society relating to the incident of 26th March 1964 was not proved, the enquiring officer was well within his rights to come to a different conclusion, and that the Tribunal should not hold that his finding was perverse. The Tribunal is unable to accept this contention. It appears from the enquiring officer's report, Ext. A(1), dated 17th April 1964, that he held the second charge proved because there was no evidence given before him contrary to the evidence tendered on behalf of the Society. He did not say that the evidence before him proved the charge. There was no consideration of evidence by him. There was no assessment by him of the evidence. He appears to have not applied his mind to the matter before him. The Tribunal finds that his conclusion was perverse That being so, the Tribunal concludes that the dismissal of Ram Sakal on the basis of that report cannot be held to be just.

The Hospital did not produce any evidence before this Tribunal to prove the said charge or any part thereof. Therefore, the Tribunal has nothing before it to say that the dismissal was justified.

The next matter for consideration is what relief Shri Ram Sakal Singh is entitled to. The Union prays for his reinstatement with full back wages etc. Normally when dismissal is held not justified a workman is reinstated with full back wages. It was contended by the Hospital that the relation between the Hospital and this workman has been embittered, as appears from the statement of the incident of 26th March 1964 and that, in the circumstances, the Tribunal should not order his reinstatement. It would be sufficient if he was given compensation in lump. The Tribunal does not accept this contention. It is not such a case where compensation will meet the ends of justice or be adequate. In this case reinstatement with full back wages is the only relief that the workman is to get.

The enquiring officer was informed that a Criminal Case was pending before the Magistrate over the incident of that date. Shri N. Bazaz as witness No. 1 before the enquiring officer stated that before him. The enquiring officer should have directed his enquiry to find out what the workman and the Hospital stated before the police on the very day of the incident. He did not do that. That was placed before the Presidency Magistrate. It appears from the judgement that diaries were made at the thana that very date by both the worker and the Hospital. These were taken into consideration by the learned Magistrate and he believed the version of the workman. It appears that the incident took place sometime after 8-45 a.m. and it took place inside the office of the Hospital. The workman reported about his assault to the thana at 11-30 a.m. The Hospital authorities also made a diary at the thana over telephone. There is no mention of the charge as made in Ext. 8 appears to have been made. The enquiring officer not having directed his mind to get these facts concluded perversely. It appears from Ext. 15, dated 26th March 1964, that this workman complained of his assault to the Labour Commissioner that very day and could not sign it because of his injured finger. It appears from Ext. 16, dated 2nd April 1964, that he also gave such a letter to the Hospital. All this would indicate that his version of the incident was true. This Tribunal is not to decide whether the conclusion of the enquiring officer was right or wrong, nor it is for this Tribunal to judge the sufficiency or nature of evidence before the enquiring officer. The Tribunal, on a consideration of the enquiring officer's report in the background of facts proved in this case holds that the conclusions were perverse.

In the result the Tribunal answers the first part of the issue in the negative and directs that the Society reinstates Shri Ram Sakal Singh in the post he was holding on the date of his dismissal and pays him wages in full from the date of dismissal till his reinstatement.

AWARD

The industrial dispute for adjudication in this reference by the Government of West Bengal in its Labour Department, order No. 635-I.R./11L-15L-12(B)/65, dated 17th February 1966, is between Messrs. ESSO Standard Inc., hereinafter referred to as the company, and their workmen represented by the Bengal Oil and Petrol Works' Union, hereinafter shortened as the union, and is whether the dismissal of Shri Sakaldeo Singh is justified and to what relief he is entitled, if any.

The union's case is that Shri Sakaldeo Singh was a durwan in the security department of company's Budge Budge installation. On the night of 22nd July 1964, he was on duty of watch on the river side from 10 p.m. to 2 a.m. He did his duty for one hour or so. Being informed of his wife's sudden illness, he left his post at about 11-15 p.m. informing his jamadar Rajai Ahir. He could not return to his post that night having had to go to a doctor with his wife. He could not take leave of absence from any officer that night as none was on duty at that hour of night. On 27th July 1964, he was given a charge-sheet for misconduct of being absent from place of work. He gave his reply thereto stating the above facts. But an enquiry was held and he was dismissed from his service on its result. The union stated that the enquiry was held in a most perfunctory manner and the workman was not given reasonable opportunity to defend himself, the enquiry proceeding was not shown or read out and explained to him and his representative, that his signature was not taken in the enquiry record and he was not given the copy of the enquiry proceeding as was the normal practice. It was prayed that he should be reinstated and his back wages should be paid to him.

The company in reply stated that the enquiry was fair and proper and that his dismissal was in accordance with the Company's Standing Orders. It was again stated that this workman in the past was guilty of misconduct and was dealt with in disciplinary proceedings and the company in consideration of his nature of duty, i.e., that of a watchman at night, terminated his services.

There is no dispute that this workman Shri Sakal was on night watch duty on 22nd July 1964, from 10 p.m. to 2 a.m. and that he went away from his place of duty after one hour or so and did not return to duty that night. So there was no dispute that the workman was absent from place of duty on 22nd July 1964. That is a "misconduct" under para. 17(j) of Company's Standing Orders, Ext. L. An enquiry was admittedly held into the charge-sheet, about the misconduct, given to him and that he attended the enquiry and was represented there by another Shri P. B. Majhi. Dismissal for a misconduct is permissible under the Standing Orders. The workman was dismissed after enquiry under Manager's orders.

It is said that the dismissal is unjust, firstly, because the enquiry was vitiated and secondly, because the workman's absence was not wilful and was not really any absence. It is said that the most important infirmity the enquiry suffers from is that it was held by Assistant Superintendent though the Standing Orders required that to be held by the Superintendent personally (See para. 17 of Ext. L). The company argued that in this case no enquiry was necessary as the workman admitted his absence from place of duty and as such it was of no consequence as to who held the enquiry. This argument is not sound. The fact that the company ordered an enquiry after considering workman's reply admitting his absence is proof of the fact that an enquiry was thought necessary. To say after that the enquiry was unnecessary is an untenable argument. It was then argued that the Superintendent should be held to have investigated, as required by para. 17 as he reviewed the enquiry record. This also is not acceptable. Ext. M is the letter, dated 7th September 1964, on which reliance was placed to seek support for the contention. But it was of no avail. That is a forwarding letter which stated the facts and recorded agreement with the conclusion of the enquiring officer. He, even if he went through the enquiry record, did not investigate himself. Rules did not permit delegation of his power to hold investigation. Nor an enquiry by another can take the place of his own enquiry. The Tribunal holds that there was no enquiry as required by the rules and as such the enquiry was vitiated.

The union's other attacks on the enquiry as violative of the principles of natural justice are not of merit. The workman had one representative with him at the enquiry. There was cross-examination of witnesses by them. He examined witnesses on his own behalf. He was given reasonable opportunity to defend himself. No rule was shown or practice was proved that enjoined on the company to give copies of the enquiry record to the workman. The grievance that the contents of the enquiry record were not read out or explained to him is real. Shri Bhatnagar, O.P.W. 1, said that he had the evidence taken down by a stenographer and those were transcribed 3 or 4 days after. So he could not have read out or explained after transcription. But he said that after each witness completed his evidence he had the stenographer read back from his notes and he himself explained those. The Tribunal believes him there and considers that as sufficient. Had not that been done and had the workman any grievance then on that score there would have some petition to say that there and then or before dismissal order. The Tribunal does not find anything in these to say that the enquiry was vitiated.

It was argued that the enquiry was vitiated as the enquiry officer on his own evidence did not consider the entire evidence to make his report. That made his report perverse. There is force in this submission. The workman produced a medical certificate at the enquiry to explain his absence on that night. Shri Bhatnagar O.P.W. 1 said candidly that he did not consider that though he marked it as Exhibit in his enquiry. Had he taken that into his consideration, he might have reached a different conclusion. The enquiry report may be said to be perverse for that. The Tribunal, in the result, holds that the dismissal based on the departmental enquiry cannot be just.

The next matter is whether the company has proved the charge before the Tribunal. It was argued that the company has placed reliable and adequate evidence to prove the charge. Let it be examined. The charge is in Ext. A. The workman's reply is Ext. B proving that he was absent from place of duty on the night of 22nd July 1964. The Tribunal so holds. Then comes the question as to whether the absence which is misconduct according to para. 17(j) of Ext. L has to be wilful. It was contended that if the workman proved that he had to be absent under circumstances beyond his control or under circumstances not brought about by him, it should be held that he did not absent himself. The Tribunal agrees with that. If a workman, while on duty, is forcibly carried away from there by other man and is thus unable to be present at the place of work, he cannot be held to have been guilty of this misconduct. Here the plea of the workman in his reply to the charge-sheet was that he got news that his wife had become senseless due to purgings and vomittings and that he went to his quarters and had to stay there for the whole night to arrange for doctor and to nurse her. His plea rested on questions of fact and were required to be proved by him. He did not prove those. The union referred to the medical certificate (Ext. A of enquiry record), marked as Ext. E at his instance here, to support that plea. That is dated 22nd July 1964. That states that Shri Sakaldeo went to doctor's house at midnight on 22nd July 1964, reported his wife's illness and was given necessary medicines. It does not state the nature of illness or the name of medicines given. It does not state that the illness was serious or severe or that the doctor saw the patient or that the patient was taken there. Shri Sakal as P.W. 1 stated that he took his wife in a rickshaw to the doctor that night. He is falsified by this certificate. It is in evidence that Shri Sakal lives in a company's quarters within the installation area and that the company gives medical aid to its employees. In case of illness, in all probability, the workman will have approached him first. The story of his wife's illness is not acceptable and is not believed.

Judged from the standpoint of probability also that story is not acceptable. The workman stated that he did not get any officer from whom he could take leave that night. If true, what would have been his normal conduct next morning? He would go and apply in writing for leave for that night on the following day. He did not do that though he worked for 4 days after 22nd July 1964. He again stated that he left informing the Jamadar Rajai. He did not examine Jamadar Rajai to say that. In the domestic enquiry, the company examined Rajai and his statement, after cross-examination even, did not lend any support to his case. The Tribunal does not, however, rely on or consider Rajai's statement in the domestic enquiry here. But Shri Sakal did not even mention Rajai in his reply Ext. B. That gives falsity to his explanation. In Ext. B he stated he informed a सहकर्मी (a colleague). Here he stated he informed Jamadar Rajai, one of a rank higher than him. The Tribunal does not believe on this state of evidence his explanation of his absence from place of work that night. His dismissal was just. Sakal P.W. 1 stated that Samsuddin asked his son to see him but Samsuddin was not examined here nor his evidence at the enquiry was that he heard of Sakal's wife's illness that night.

It was argued that the severity of the punishment indicated the unjustness of the enquiry. Punishment was not severe, as he on previous occasions was found to have committed similar misconduct—see Ext. G. Besides, for a watchman to suddenly leave the post at night without intimation is, by any account, a serious lapse. Dismissal for such a conduct is not severe.

In the result, the Tribunal answers first part of the issue positively and the second part negatively.
